Letter directed to H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist, recommending his
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
In cases of
BED WETTING IN CHILDREN.

Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD, No. 594 Broadway, N. Y.

DEAR SIR: Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu, presented to the Institute, have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the case of our little Lieut. A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from that daily morning anathemas of the chambermaid who has charge of his bedding. I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of "your Buchu" with the children under our charge may save many a superintendent and matron of boarding-schools and asylums a great amount of annoyance, and many a poor child suffering more from weakness than habit, punishment that is (not knowing that it is weakness instead of a bad habit) most unjustly bestowed upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and hoping others may be alike benefited, I am,

Yours very respectfully, COL. YOUNG,
General Superintendent and Director.

June 26, 1866.

Mr. H. T. Helmbold:

DEAR SIR: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired in my judgment is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietary compound of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

A CASE OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.
PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Feb. 25, 1865.

H. T. Helmbold, Druggist:

DEAR SIR: I have been a sufferer for upward of twenty years with gravel, bladder and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you, and more satisfactory to you.

I AM NOW ABLE TO REPORT THAT A CURE IS EFFECTED AFTER USING THE REMEDY FOR FIVE MONTHS.

I HAVE NOT USED ANY NOW FOR THREE MONTHS, AND FEEL AS WELL IN ALL RESPECTS AS I EVER DID.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections. M. McCORMICK.

FROM MARYLAND.

National Telegraphers' Convention.

BALTIMORE, Thursday, Sept. 14.

The National Telegraphic Union Convention met here yesterday, President HAMMOND in the chair. The Committee on Resolutions reported the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, The National Telegraphic Union was originally intended, in the words of its founders, to promote the general welfare of the telegraphic fraternity, to harmonize and make common our individual interests, and for purposes of mutual protection and support; and

Whereas, Its objects were at the same time declared to be to enhance in every way consistent with right and justice, the material interests of all the members, to be their safeguard and protection in prosperity and adversity, and to elevate the profession by every means in its power; and

Whereas, We believe these objects can only be accomplished by the pursuance of such a policy on the part of the Telegraph Companies of the United States as shall present a better prospect of professional advancement to operators, and hold out to them greater incentives to exertion, and on the part of operators by the constant increase of the most intelligent and earnest efforts in the performance of their duties and unceasing endeavors to prove themselves true men; and

Whereas, It has been hinted that it is in contemplation to reduce the present rate of compensation. Be it, therefore

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Convention that the present rate of compensation is not excessive; that, for the present at least, no reduction should be made; that many of us having made engagements based upon the present rates of compensation will find ourselves seriously embarrassed should our resources be materially reduced.

The Convention then went into Secret Session, and remained so until the hour of adjournment.

At the afternoon session the following were elected as officers of the National Telegraphic Union for the ensuing year:

J. C. UPHAM, of Boston, President; F. C. CHURCHILL, of Chicago, Vice-President; A. S. WHIPPLE, of Albany, Treasurer; J. J. G. RILEY, of Baltimore, Recording Secretary; G. C. MAYNARD, of Washington, Corresponding Secretary; S. S. SMITH, of New-York, Editor of the Telegrapher.

St. Louis was selected as the place for the next meeting of the Convention.

The National Telegraphic Union Banquet.

BALTIMORE, Friday, Sept. 14.

The National Telegraphic Union were the recipients of a grand banquet at the Eutaw House to-night, given them by the members of the Baltimore district, &c. G. RILEY, of Baltimore, presided. Ex-President HAMMOND addressed the members, giving a detailed history of the origin and progress of telegraphy in this country. He was followed by Mr. H. J. ROGERS, who was associated with Prof. MORSE in the first attempt to establish telegraphic communication in this country. J. W. SORES and J. C. UPHAM, of Boston; T. P. SCULLY, of New-York; J. B. TEAKLE, of Augusta, Ga., and JOHN HASSEN, of the Associated Press of Philadelphia, addressed the members, and their remarks were enthusiastically received. Greetings were received from the Press Club of Philadelphia and other cities.

The National Telegraph Union has adjourned sine die. Their proceedings have been of the most harmonious and important character.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

FROM PITTSBURGH TO HARRISBURGH.

Crowds Gathered at every Station—The Party Cheered and Welcomed by the People—The Journey Marred by a Terrible Catastrophe—Thirteen Persons Killed and a Hundred Wounded by the Falling of a Bridge—Heart-rending Scenes—Some of the Party Remain to aid the Sufferers—Serious Illness of Secretary Seward.

ALTOONA, Penn., Friday, Sept. 14.

Upon the arrival of the Presidential party here they were conducted to a platform, where the President was warmly welcomed by the people and made a brief speech. Gen. GRANT, Admiral FARRAGUT and others were then introduced and loudly cheered. The entire party then retired for dinner.

DEPARTURE FROM PITTSBURGH.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14—8 A. M.

The Presidential party are now leaving the railroad station amid cheers and instrumental music.

SECRETARY SEWARD LEAVES THE PARTY.

The Secretary of State, who continues unwell, remained behind the party this morning under the direction of his physician, with the hope of effecting a quiet return to Washington before Saturday night.

Maj. KOONZ, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, has left us to travel with Mr. SEWARD and see to his comfort. Maj. KOONZ has won the praise of the excursionists by his many acts of kindness, and especially by his promptness in seating them in carriages to and from the several railroad stations. Col. CHADWICK, of the Willard Hotel, has commendably discharged his duty in supplying refreshments while on the way.

We have two hundred and sixty miles to travel before reaching Harrisburgh.

IRWINS—9 A. M.

This place is the headquarters of the Westmoreland Company's coal mines.

The train halted a few seconds, when the President was introduced and cheered. There were unanswered calls for GRANT.

GREENSBURGH—9:15.

The President was received by an enthusiastic crowd, who displayed a banner with the words "Welcome to the President." Secretary WELLES, Gen. GRANT and Admiral FARRAGUT were severally introduced and applauded.

THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS.

The President having been called upon for a speech, said time would admit of his making only a few remarks. He tendered his sincere thanks for this demonstration, not merely for him as an individual, but because he viewed it as an indication of the uprising of the people to restore peace and harmony to all parts of the country. Because he would not abandon the principles upon which he was elected, and sustain the Freedmen's Bureau and Civil Rights and Montana bills, and various other measures projected by the last Congress, it was charged that he had turned traitor, and that Congress was the only Simon Pure. He had exercised the veto power in vindication of the people's rights. "There," he said, "I have always stood, and there, if necessary, I will perish."

As the train moved on the crowd gave cheers for JOHNSON and GRANT.

Senator COWAN and his son, FRANK, joined the party at this place.

A BOUQUET FROM THE LADIES.

LATROBE—9:30.

Senator COWAN introduced the distinguished members of the party. A few words were requested from the President, who said he appreciated this kind demonstration; that he had always tried to discharge his duties faithfully to the people, and that he left in their hands the country's flag, with thirty-six stars, and the Constitution, which he knew, in their hands, would be safe. Bouquets were presented to the President, Gen. GRANT and Admiral FARRAGUT by the ladies. The card accompanying the bouquet to the President, said the young ladies who presented it, intended to make the young gentlemen vote for a representative who would sustain the Administration.

GEN. GRANT ANNOUNCES THAT HE SHALL NOT MAKE A SPEECH.

When Gen. GRANT the second time appeared on the platform, the band was requested to cease playing, whereupon he dryly remarked that they had better continue to listen to the music, as they would not hear a speech from him.

BREAKING DOWN OF A BRIDGE—SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED.

JOHNSTOWN—10:45.

At least three thousand persons were here assembled, the majority of whom cheered and yelled.

Senator COWAN introduced the President as the great Tribune of the American people, which met with an enthusiastic response.

Gen. GRANT was greeted with the usual emphatic demonstrations, while Admiral FARRAGUT largely shared the plaudits of the people. Cheers and yells were again and again given, and while the jubilation was going on a scene of thrilling interest and dreadful apprehension was presented. Between the bridge and railroad office, and over the old canal, was a plank covering or platform, on which probably four or five hundred persons—men, women and children—were closely gathered. Those of us who were on the platform of the hindmost car were witnesses of the giving way of the structure on which they were standing. First one section of it fell, precipitating the occupants to the ground, a height of apparently twenty feet. The second part soon followed, and in less than thirty seconds these persons were thrown one upon another, or buried beneath the ruins. Women screamed, while many excited men from the crowd rushed to the immediate location of the disaster for the relief of their friends. A number of persons emerged from the wreck uninjured, judging from the fact that they were able to walk away. Men and women were seen with helpless children in their arms, their clothes and faces blackened by the coal dirt against which they had fallen. An old man was led out by two of his young neighbors. Demands were heard not to tread upon the planks, lest some of the human beings might be crushed beneath them.

The train, after remaining several minutes, moved on, the work of rescue being still in progress, and a number of wounded and of dead apparently being borne away. The train was obliged to move to keep the time-table right to avoid accidents. There was, therefore, no opportunity afforded to ascertain the extent of the accident. The President instructed Deputy Marshal O'BEIRNE to remain at Johnstown to learn the particulars and extend all possible aid to the sufferers.

GEN. GRANT GETS A CIGAR.

CONEMAUGH—11 o'clock.

The train stopped here for several minutes. The usual introductions took place. A cigar was presented to Gen. GRANT to match, as the donor said, the one at that time in his mouth.

THE COMMITTEE FROM ALTOONA.

GALLITZIN—Noon.

Here the Committee of Reception from Altoona came on board. It consisted of Dr. FINLEY, Chairman, and ten others. This gentleman informed the President that they had been appointed by the Councils and citizens to tender to him the hospitalities of the town, and they did it without respect to party and with great pleasure, both to the President and as a citizen of the United States.

The President in returning his thanks remarked he thought he knew how to appreciate such attentions.

The Doctor said they had erected a platform, and the people expected he would say something to them.

THE RECEPTION AT ALTOONA.

The party were received by probably two thousand persons, some of them from the surrounding country. They were conducted to a platform bearing the motto "Welcome to the President of the United States and the heroes of the Army and Navy."

D. K. NEFF, Esq., in behalf of the Common Council and citizens, said they felt it a duty and an honor to extend a cordial welcome to the President of the Republic, and to those members of the Cabinet and those distinguished officers of the army and navy who accompanied them.

Three cheers were given for the President, Secretary WELLES, Gen. GRANT, Admiral FARRAGUT and Gen. CUSTER.

A BRIEF RESPONSE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

The President made a brief response to the address and tendering his thanks, said he was glad to be thus complimented by the people, for from that source it was more welcome than from any other. It was the people he had tried to serve from his advent to public life to the present time, and upon whom he would always rely, to stand by the country in every emergency. It is the people who constitute the source of power in this country, and who, when properly informed, and freed from prejudice, will settle all public questions right. Passing through this mountain scenery reminded him of his own mountain home in his adopted State. When the rights of the nation are invaded and liberty and freedom are driven from them, they always resided longest with the people of the mountains, and if the time shall ever come when our free Constitution shall be lost, the freemen of the mountains of Pennsylvania will be the last to give it up. [Cheers.] We had just passed through a bloody and expensive war; but thank God, the flag of the country still contains thirty-six stars. He had thought the time had come when we should have permanent peace, but there seemed to have been inaugurated a policy in Congress, which if persisted in, would result in another struggle. Should we continue civil strife? Should we not have peace? [Cries of "Yes!"] Were we prepared to see the Goddess of Liberty struggling through fields of blood and making her eternal exit? [Cries of "No," "No."] Reconciliation and harmony was what the nation now needs; but when the work was nearly completed, we found a conflict between the Executive and the Legislative departments of this Government; and because he, the representative of the people, had undertaken to restore the Government according to the Constitution, he had been denounced as a tyrant and a usurper. He defended his vetoes, and declared he would always be found defending the people's rights.

A delegation appointed by the Democratic State Central Committee has accompanied us from Pittsburgh. It consists of Ex-Gov. PARKER, J. H. CRESSWELL, BENJAMIN L. FORTHER, CHAMBERS MCKIBBEN and H. B. SWANN. Gen. CUSTER here left the party for Cleveland, to attend the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention.

HUNTINGTON—2:30 P. M.

The President and others were introduced to a large crowd. The former was called upon for a speech, when he merely returned his thanks, and said we were engaged in a political contest, on which he believed the perpetuity of the Government depends. It was for the people to see that the Constitution and rights of the States are preserved, and he believes all would be safe in the end.

LEWISTOWN—4 P. M.

A large number of persons were assembled here. One of their number said this spontaneous gathering to bid welcome was altogether irrespective of party.

The President expressed his high appreciation of the compliment on this account, and promised that in the future, as in the past, he would honestly and faithfully endeavor to discharge the duty imposed upon him by the Constitution of his country.

AN ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

MIFFLIN—4:30 P. M.

E. S. DOTY, in his speech of welcome to the President, said, discourteous officials had often attempted to deprive him of the honor which was his due, but he had the regard of the masses accorded to him. "You have," he said, "the hearts of your countrymen. I mean those who love country above party. In war you fought Disunionists in the army, and now in peace you fight those who seek to disrupt the Government by legislative means. The one was to tear down our beautiful edifice by force, the other by strategy and fraud. The attachment of home was weaker than your love of country, and you still uphold the standard, not with twenty-five, but with thirty-six States. Neither men nor devils can drive you from your purpose. There are thousands of others who would be here if they could, and extend to you, as we now do, a cordial greeting and a most hearty welcome."

The speech was applauded by the crowd.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

The President said:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: Please accept my sincere thanks through your honored representative for this cordial and spontaneous welcome. Allusions have been made to the discharge of my public duties involving somewhat events of an unpleasant and antagonistic character; but I have stood firmly and unwavering to the post of duty. Please accept my thanks for your expression of confidence. In reply to what you say about party, I will merely remark the time has come when the people of the United States should lift themselves above party and stand by the Constitution."

The President was warmly cheered.

Gen. GRANT, Admiral FARRAGUT and Secretary WELLES were respectively introduced and received the usual honors.

THE HARRISBURGH COMMITTEE.

The Harrisburgh Committee of Escort came on board at this place. It consists of Messrs. W. O. Hickok, Robert A. Lamberton, Robert S. Munich, George F. Weams, C. J. Reese, W. H. Bell, J. S. Haldeman and H. M. Graydon. Augustus Bennett, Ex-Governor, introduced the President of the Council and the Committee.

THE ADDRESS.

Mr. LAMBERTON, at the request of Mr. HICKOK, then informed the President that they had been sent by the City Council as a Committee to form a part of his escort to the Capital of Pennsylvania. He added they had come to honor him as the President of thirty-six States in the Union. They honored him as the defender of the Constitution against all its enemies; they gathered about him—ANDREW JOHNSON, our fellow-citizen of the people, so true, so faithful, bound to their interests, so jealous of their rights—their tribune and champion. May the Great Ruler over all abundantly strengthen and support you, and enable you to win and wear the title of Restorer of the Union! God bless you, Sir!

THE PRESIDENT'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

The President said: Mr. President of the Council, Mr. LAMBERTON and Gentlemen—I thank you very heartily for your kindness in coming to meet me. I join in your aspirations for the blessing of God upon my labors in behalf of the people. Again I thank you, gentlemen.

DUNCANNON—5:40 P. M.

The train stopped a few moments when the President, Gen. GRANT, Admiral FARRAGUT and Secretary WELLES were introduced and applauded. Three cheers were given for all the excursion party.

THE PARTY ARRIVE AT HARRISBURGH.

HARRISBURGH—6:20 P. M.

The excursion party were met at the railroad station by several thousand persons, who enthusiastically cheered them as they entered the carriages. A salute of twenty-one guns was fired from Capitol Hill.

THE PROCESSION

moved in the following order:

The White Boys in Blue, as a Guard of Honor.
The Committee of Reception in carriages.
Body Guard composed of the Soldiers of the War of 1812.
The President and other distinguished guests, accompanied by the Mayor of the City and other officials in carriages, Civic Societies and citizens.
The Fire Department, with every Company represented.

Cheers were given on the line of the procession for the distinguished party. Torches and transparencies with mottoes of welcome were plentiful. The procession passed through several of the streets to the Bolton House, where quarters had previously been provided. The large crowd here assembled was composed of citizens and many visitors from the surrounding country. The front of the hotel was decorated with flags, and the words "Union and Peace" blazed in gas-lights with a star on each side. The market-house bore a transparency with the words "ANDREW JACKSON in 1832, ANDREW JOHNSON in 1866. The Union must be preserved."

THE GATHERING AT THE HOTEL.

The President was conducted to the portico, where Mayor EDWARDS extended to him the hospitalities of Harrisburgh, and then introduced the President to the assemblage.

The President merely expressed his thanks for the cordial welcome which had been extended to him through the people's honored representative. He not only felt grateful for this demonstration to him as a Chief Magistrate, who had always endeavored to do his duty. But as a private citizen he repeated he felt grateful for the appreciation manifested for one who had devoted the best energies of his life and had exerted every power to preserve the Constitution and the Union of these States.

The President then bowed and retired amid cheers. While he was speaking the was marching along, the bells of engines ringing, and the several bands of music playing, and the crowd cheering.

Gen. GRANT was subsequently introduced, and received long continued cheers from the multitude.

Hon. JOHN HOGAN made a speech on political affairs, occasionally illustrating his remarks with anecdotes, which kept the listeners in a good humor.

The President's party are handsomely entertained at the Bolton House, receiving the kind attentions of the proprietors. The dinner was given by the city authorities to the distinguished party.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The President to-night, at 10 o'clock, addressed the people from the balcony of the hotel. In the course of his remarks he said the charges of usurpation against him were well known. He cared not for calumnies, defamation and slander. He had lived nearly fifty-seven years, and it was no new thing for him to be assailed by the enemies of the people. He would not be driven from the position he had occupied for the last twenty-five years by these defamers and a subsidized Press; and, though not a very old man, he had lived many of his slanderers down, and, though life is uncertain, he expected to live to triumph over his calumniators of this day. He proceeded at length to speak on the topics of the day, in substance similar to the speeches he has made elsewhere during the excursion. He was frequently interrupted by applause, and his remarks were well received.

MORE DELEGATIONS.

Mr. OWEN THORN and several other gentlemen, a Committee of the City of Washington, have arrived to escort the President on his return.

A delegation from York, Penn., arrived here to-night. It was composed of Judge FISHER, A. J. GLOSSBRENNER and others. They tendered to the President the hospitalities of the borough, and presented to him the resolution passed by the borough authorities expressive of their high sense of the patriotism of the President, and the distinguished officers accompanying him, for their efforts in the defence of the Constitution and the immediate restoration of the Union.

ARRIVAL OF SECRETARY SEWARD.

Secretary SEWARD arrived at Harrisburgh to-night. The President visited him at the depot.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE NASSAU BANK CASE.

Another Postponement of the Examination of George H. Briggs, the Defaulting Teller—Suggestive Scenes in the Court-room.

George H. Briggs, the paying teller of the Nassau Bank, corner of Beekman and Nassau streets, was brought before Justice Dowling, after considerable delay and discussion, on Monday, the 3d instant, to answer the charge of having embezzled $61,000 from the surplus funds of that institution. On recommendation of District-Attorney Hall, the charge was changed from embezzlement to that of grand larceny, and an affidavit to that end was drawn up and sworn to by the President of the Bank, Mr. Hamilton Blydenburgh. When the prisoner was arraigned upon this charge he waived examination and was about to be committed, when District-Attorney Hall suggested that as the Bank had been as yet unable to determine on any one specific item in the alleged aggregate larceny, the case be postponed and the examination considered as still open. He stated that by that means a specific charge could be made against the prisoner. With this understanding the case was adjourned until Friday, the 7th instant.

On the day thus set down, the case was still further postponed by Justice Dowling until Friday, the 14th inst., giving as a reason that the District-Attorney was unwell and unable to attend. Yesterday morning, therefore, the case came up before the magistrate, and the prisoner was duly produced by Inspector Carpenter, Briggs having all this time been in the custody of the Police, and held in safe keeping in one of the strong rooms at the Central Office.

At 10:30 o'clock, the hour named to commence proceedings, there were but few persons present in the examination room. The prisoner lolled at his ease upon the worm-eaten sofa which does duty in that antiquated and ill-furnished chamber, and seemed to care little for the close proximity of the grave detective, who kept so keen a watch upon his movements. Those present who had never seen the prisoner before imagined him to be a casual spectator rather than an arrested and confessed criminal. Besides half a dozen reporters, no one else made their appearance in the room. Justice Dowling was sitting on the Bench in the Police Court, and chatting with Inspector Carpenter while both awaited the appearance of counsel. Mr. Gunning S. Bedford, Assistant District-Attorney, soon after came in and held private converse with the magistrate. Mr. Wm. Fullerton counsel for the bank, followed in a few minutes, and there was another brief conversation between him and Mr. Bedford.

About 11 o'clock Justice Dowling took his seat in the examination room ready for business. At this time the room contained Inspector Carpenter, his attendant detective in charge of the prisoner, Mr. Fullerton, Mr. Robert D. Holmes, counsel for the accused, Assistant District-Attorney Bedford, and one or two friends of the defaulting Teller. The round table devoted to the use of the reporters was fully occupied.

The following colloquy then ensued:

Justice Dowling—Well, Mr. Holmes, I am now ready to proceed with this case.

Mr. Holmes—I understand, your Honor, that owing to the illness of the District-Attorney, Mr. Bedford is not ready to proceed.

Mr. Bedford—I would state to your Honor that Mr. Hall is unavoidably out of town, and consequently will not be present. As this is an important case, and Mr. Hall hitherto has had exclusive charge of it, I do not feel disposed to action in the premises. I would, therefore, suggest a further postponement of the case until such time as will suit your Honor.

Justice Dowling—Well, I cannot do anything if you are not ready; and I suppose the case will have to be adjourned. I do not care what day it is set down for. What day would you wish?

Mr. Bedford—Any day, Sir, that will suit Mr. Fullerton and Mr. Holmes.

Those gentlemen not appearing to have any special interest in the matter, the magistrate designated Monday next, the 17th inst., for the proposed hearing, at the same hour and place. The examination was then adjourned, it being understood that the prisoner remain in the hands of the Police authorities, a proceeding which evidently disgusted Inspector Carpenter, as he had hoped to be relieved of the custody of the defaulting Teller.

After some twenty minutes' conversation with sundry of his friends, whom Briggs received in the most nonchalant manner imaginable, the prisoner was removed to Police Headquarters for safe keeping until Monday morning next.

POLICE COURTS.

The Tombs—Before Justice Dowling.

INGENIOUS THIEVING.

Yesterday morning as James Conlan was driving a large truck loaded with thirteen bales of cotton, belonging to Henry T. Hewett, of No. 41 Broad-street, through Varick-street, near Canal, two men jumped aboard, and crawling in between two of the bales, partially concealed themselves. As the truck continued in its course, these adroit thieves succeeded in ripping open one of the bales, and were busily engaged in filling a bag with a portion of its contents. Fortunately for the owners of the property, Officer De Shays, of the Fifth Precinct Police, who was on duty in Canal-street at the time, suspected the intention of the rogues, and made a dash for the vehicle, arresting one of the thieves, who gave his name as Thomas Frazer, and the driver of the truck. Frazer's confederate succeeded in escaping. On being arraigned before the magistrate, the driver, Conlan, confessed to having seen the men on his truck, but said he did not know what they were doing there. This explanation did not relieve him from the charge of complicity, and both he and Frazer were locked up for trial in default of bail.

NEGRO THIEVES.

William Henry Thompson and Thomas Wilson, both negroes and residents of Brooklyn, were arrested yesterday afternoon by officer Quinn, of the Third Precinct, under the following circumstances: As the two colored men passed through Vesey-street their attention was attracted by a chest of tea standing in front of the premises No. 57, occupied by Andrew Martin. Seeing no one near, this pair of rascals incontinently shouldered the tea, which was valued at $40, and started off with it at a radid pace. Mr. Martin soon discovered the theft, and seeing Wilson disappearing in the distance with his tea chest, gave chase. When the owner overtook the thief the latter dropped his burden, evinced a belligerent disposition and assumed a bellicose attitude. He was, however, knocked down by the indignant grocery-man, and then handed over to the custody of the officer, who had meanwhile, succeeded in capturing Thompson, that individual having entertained for a moment certain ideas of escape. Both the prisoners were brought before the Court, where they pleaded guilty, and were accordingly committed for trial and locked up in default of bail. Thomason is a native of Virginia, and 16 years of age. Wilson is 36, and a native of Long Island.

Essex Market—Before Justice Mansfield.

A PHILADELPHIA THIEF CAUGHT.

About the 1st of May last, it is alleged, a sporting character named Charles P. Vosburgh, alias Atkinson, alias Pat Vosburgh, alias Flinchy, alias Hickey, alias Hargy, went to Philadelphia from this City to live. Shortly after he had taken up his new residence he formed the acquaintance of a Mrs. White, the proprietress of one of the principal houses of ill-fame in that city, located in Crescent-street. As Vosburgh is a man of very pleasing address and prepossessing appearance, and a jovial, whole-souled fellow, of the free-and-easy sort, he was soon on the most intimate terms with his new-acquired mistress—so intimate that he occupied the same sleeping apartments with her. One evening before retiring to bed Mrs. White broached the subject of business to Vosburgh. It was the height of her ambition, she said, to have him nicely established in some lucrative business that would enable him to live comfortably and independently. At the same time she drew a purse from her pocket and offered him the contents of it, about $4,100, which she wished him to use as capital in the proposed business. As no definite conclusion was arrived at, and no settled policy could be agreed upon, Mrs. W. returned the money to the purse and placed it under her pillow, after which the pair retired for the night. In the morning at the usual time the woman awoke, and after calling to Vosburgh several times, and receiving no answer, she was led to search for him. From the search she soon desisted, being satisfied that he had gone. This aroused her suspicions, and proceeding to the bed again, she raised the pillow under which she had placed her money the night before, and to her utter amazement she discovered that it was gone too. She instantly laid the case before the proper authorities, by whom warrants were soon issued for his arrest; but they came too late—he had fled, and could no where be found.

Five months elapsed, and still there were no traces to be discovered of the fugitive, until two or three days since, when Ex-Deputy Marshal Adolphus Borst came across him in a very singular manner. It appears that Vosburgh returned to New-York lately, and took out a license as hackman under the name of Patrick Vosburgh. He was known among his associate hackmen by the name also of Atkinson. He speculated extensively in horse-flesh, and soon became known as a jockey. Through one of his transactions in this line, his name reached the detective, who at once flattered himself that he had got a trace of the right man. To make assurance doubly sure, he telegraphed to Deputy Marshal Wm. Schuyler and Officer John Jenkins, of Philadelphia, (both of whom knew Vosburgh well,) to come on immediately and identity the fugitive. Upon their arrival on Wednesday, the Philadelphia officers, accompanied by Officer Borst, went to the Westchester House, corner Bowery and Broome-street, where they succeeded in effecting his arrest. Upon searching him nothing was found upon him that would tend to fasten the crime upon him. He stoutly denies his guilt, and claims that the whole affair is a well-arranged conspiracy to injure him while in the pursuit of a legitimate business. He was locked up to await the arrival of a requisition from Harrisburgh.

STEALING WORSTED.

A young Irishman named John Hayes was arraigned yesterday on the charge of having gone to Pier No. 52 East River, and stolen from the landed freight of the ship Electri—then lying at that dock—two packages of worsted, valued at $30. The prisoner's actions previous to the theft being decidedly suspicious, a close watch was kept upon his movements by John Costello, a hand on board the vessel, which resulted in his detection just as he was about leaving the dock with the goods. He was committed in the sum of $500 bail to answer the charge.

ANOTHER DOCK THIEF.

Capt. James B. Bell of the packet ship William Tapscott, lying at pier 46, East River, appeared before Justice Mansfield yesterday, and charged John Buckley, a young lad, with stealing two dozen delf plates, on Wednesday, from a crate that had just been landed from the vessel. The prisoner was caught by officer Powell of the 7th Precinct, who conveyed him to the Station House. The property was found in his possession. He was committed for examination in default of the required bail.

TILL THIEVING.

John O'Brien and another boy, whose name is unknown, went into the grocery store of Nicholas Moller, No. 314 Fifth-street, and while one of them attracted the attention of the proprietor the other, O'Brien, slipped behind the counter and took $3 50 in fractional currency from the drawer. He was caught in the act by the little son of Mr. Moller, who told his father. O'Brien was arrested, when he acknowledged the theft. His confederate succeeded in making good his escape. The prisoner was committed for examination.

Jefferson Market—Before Justice Ledwith.

BOLD ATTEMPT TO ROB A SAVINGS BANK.

The Franklin Savings Bank is situated on the corner of Eighth-avenue and Forty-eighth-street. On the 7th inst., two individuals entered the institution. One of them asked one of the clerks if he could get a drink of ice-water there, to which he replied "Yes," and took him to a remote corner of the room where that article is kept. Meanwhile the companion of the thirsty individual remained standing by the door, but that he was not idle will plainly appear by the sequel.

The corresponding clerk of the institution happening just then to look up from the paper upon which he was writing, saw this fellow take the large key from the outer door, and press it in something that looked like soft wax. He then returned the key to its place, and upon being joined by the other individual leisurely walked away in the direction of the Ninth-avenue. The suspicious action of the man with the bank key impressed the clerk who had witnessed the operation as a rather singular affair, and he immediately informed the cashier, Mr. James F. Chamberlain, who sought the assistance of Officer James Irving of the Twentieth Precinct, and thereafter the building was closely watched. On Monday night last, about 9 o'clock, a wagon drove slowly up the avenue, and came to almost a stand-still within a few doors of the bank. From it a man alighted, and walked quickly in the direction of the guarded building. He ascended the steps, and taking a key from his pocket, deliberately unlocked the door, and would, doubtless, have soon been inside, had he not become alarmed at the approach of officer Irving. Upon seeing that he was detected, he immediately locked the door again, and after putting the key in his pocket, sought to make his escape, but the detective was too quick for him, and soon had him safe. The unfortunate situation of things was readily perceived by the confederate in the wagon, and he immediately drove away and succeeded in making good his escape. The prisoner is 21 years of age, says that he is a speculator, and is not guilty of the charge. He was committed for trial without bail.

OBTAINING GOODS UNDER FALSE PRETENCES.

Mr. J. W. Bradley, of the firm of West, Bradley & Co., doing business at No. 7 Chambers-street, made affidavit that on the 20th of August, a young man, calling himself Theodore Kahn, came to their establishment and purchased upon credit a bill of goods amounting to $1,500, upon his representation that he was engaged in a very lucrative business in New-Orleans, and worth $35,000 clear of all encumbrances; that he had just bought a bill of $10,000 from Messrs. H. B. Claflin & Co. Accordingly, the goods were shipped, and no returns have ever been made therefor. Mr. Bradley alleges in the complaint that all of Kahn's representations to him were false; that he is not engaged in business in New-Orleans; is not worth $35,000, and never bought a bill of goods from H. B. Claflin & Co. He therefore charges the prisoner with obtaining the goods under false pretences, and with the intention to defraud. Kahn was held to bail in the sum of $3,000 to answer the charge at Special Sessions.

A MIXED UP AFFAIR.

John Cook is an auctioneer and dealer in second-hand furniture at No. 111 Thompson-street. On Wednesday, according to his statement, a Frenchman named Francis Michael came to his place and asked to see a billiard table. He was shown one that seemed to suit him very well; the price was agreed upon, and a deposit of four English sovereigns left with Mr. Cook to bind the sale, while the Frenchman went to get the balance of the purchase money. Returning, he offered the auctioneer the balance, $23, but it was refused, Mr. Cook insisting that $100 was the price at which he had sold it. Mr. Michael then insisted upon the return of his money, which the auctioneer refused. The Frenchman then thrust his hand into Cook's pocket and took not only the four sovereigns, but $15 in United States Treasury notes. But every story has two sides, and so has this one. It appears by the theory of the able counsel for the Frenchman, that his client went to the auctioneer's establishment where he agreed to purchase the table for $43. He paid a deposit of $20 upon this, or its equivalent, 4 English sovereigns, and went to get the balance. When he came back Cook alleged that he owed him $80, instead of $23, and refused to deliver the table for less, or refund the deposit, saying at the same time to Michael, "If you want the money you will have to take it from me." The money was then in the auctioneer's hands, and the Frenchman becoming exasperated at what he supposed to be a trick to rob him, closed with his opponent, and, in the scuffle, the money fell upon the floor, where it was said it remained after the arrest. The auctioneer pressed the charges, and Michael was committed for examination.

VIOLATING CORPORATION ORDINANCES.

John White, Daniel O'Brien, Patrick Regan, Francis Graham, Bernard Curry and Patrick Hart were yesterday arrested by Officers Young, Lorne and Winship, of the Eighteenth Precinct, charged with using and employing boats in the prosecution of the junk business. They said that they were not aware that Chapter 475 of the Laws of 1866 made it a misdemeanor to keep a floating junk-shop without license. They were each committed, in default of $300 bail, for examination.

Yorkville Court—Before Justice Connolly.

STEALING A CHICKEN.

Honora Higginson took refuge on Thursday night in an outhouse owned by James Burns, in Ninety-third-street, near the Fourth-avenue. Here she slept all night, without leave from the proprietor of the house, and in the morning proceeded on her way, taking with her, for her nourishment and sustenance through the day, one of Mr. Burn's finest live chickens, valued at $1. Little Katie witnessed the theft, and informed her father, who ran after Honora and caught her with the fowl under her shawl. She was was committed for examination.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

On the night of the 13th inst., as Mr. Samuel Seward was standing on the corner of Third-avenue and Eighty-fourth-street, he was violently assaulted, it is alleged, by Wm. McManus, Jr., and severely hurt, being very badly cut in the face with some sharp weapon. The cries of the wounded man soon brought an officer to his assistance, but McManus did not seem to be at all frightened at his presence, but continued to beat Seward until the officer succeeded in securing him. He was committed to answer.

LAW REPORTS.

Freight—Bill of Lading—Evidence to Contradict—Written Instrument—Construction.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—EASTERN DISTRICT.

Before Judge Benedict.

Frederick Rogers et al. vs. Robert Sloman et al.—This was a libel for freight. The libelants were owners of the schooner H. B. Metcalf, and brought in her 1,201 barrels of petroleum from Nantucket to New-York, for which they claimed freight at the rate of 70 cents a barrel. They proved on the trial the bill of lading by which the master acknowledged the receipt on board of 1,201 barrels of petroleum, "two hundred and thirty barrels thereof being on deck," which he agreed to carry to New-York and there to deliver it to the respondents, they "paying freight as per charter party." They also proved the charter party, which was for "a full cargo of oil under deck," and provided for freight on it at the rate of "seventy cents a barrel for each barrel delivered in New-York."

The delivery of the oil was admitted.

The respondents offered testimony to prove that after the vessel was full of the oil, and before the deck load of oil was put on board, the master of the vessel agreed that if the respondents would give him a deck load, he would pay them the extra premium of insurance which they would have to pay on the 230 barrels of oil on the deck, or would take so much less freight for it as the insurance on the 230 barrels amounted to.

The libelants objected to the testimony as being an attempt to contradict, by parol testimony, the written contract of the bill of lading. The respondents urged that it was not an attempt to contradict that written contract, but to establish another contract which the master had failed to perform.

The Court held that if it was attempted to contradict the written contract, that could not be allowed, and if the ground was taken that the agreement of the master was a different contract, then the right to recover for his failure to perform it would be a counter-claim, which is not allowed in the admiralty.

The evidence was accordingly excluded, and the libelants had a decree for the amount claimed.

For libelants—Messrs. Benedict, Tracy and Benedict. For respondents—Mr. Burke.

The Breen Counterfeiting Case.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

Before Commissioner Osborn.

The case of John Breen, an engraver and printer in Maiden-lane, was up before the Commissioner again yesterday. He is charged with having permitted the use of a press for the transfer of dies to plates to be used in making counterfeit money.

A. B. Newcombe testified: I am an operator in the secret service division; I know Breen; I got the plate at a house on Staten Island; (the plate was a counterfeit for making twenty-five cent currency stamps;) I recognize this plate, and have seen it before; I got it in Abel Ware's house, at Rossville, Staten Island; (another plate was shown the witness, which he identified;) witness identified other plates which were found in the same house, all of which had been used for counterfeiting purposes; (a bag containing over $100,000 in counterfeit fractional currency shown witness;) this bag was found in Mr. Ware's house, and its contents, which had been recently worked off, were found in the process of drying; all this money is counterfeit, and such as would be taken from the plates already produced and identified.

Cross-examined—I have examined this money carefully, and believe it is all counterfeit; the bag was taken from Mr. Ware's house; it has been locked up in our office where no one has had access to it.

Abel Ware testified—I live at Rossville, Staten Island; in July my house was searched and the plates shown me were found in my house; they were used for counterfeiting purposes; the stamps shown me were printed from the plates which I have identified; the plates were all used for counterfeiting purposes; I recognize all the money shown me (the contents of the carpet-bag) as having been worked off from the counterfeit plates which were seized in my house; I knew the plates were to be used for counterfeiting purposes; I got four of the plates from various parties; one from James Culvert, who resides at the corner of Houston and Crosby streets, during last Spring; I do not know who executed the plates; I got another plate, used for the purpose of printing the face of the fractional stamps, from Charles Woolridge at the same place, and I believe it was executed at that place; I got one or two plates from Woolridge at different times; I accepted these plates with the understanding that they were to be used for counterfeiting purposes.

Cross-examined—I lived at Staten Island for over a year; my business has been general in its nature; I have also been engaged in counterfeiting; I was arrested July 16 for counterfeiting; I was engaged in counterfeiting altogether about ten months; I knew the plates found in the house were to be and had been used for counterfeiting purposes.

H. D. Wood testified: I am Chief of the Secret Service Division; my business is to have the general supervision of matters connected with the arrest of counterfeiters; after Ware was arrested I found a plate lying on Ware's press in his room; I then called out to Newcombe to let no person out of the house; I was certain that the counterfeiters had the use of a transfer press somewhere. Witness then described the process of transferring the impressions on the plates; after I got to Breen's place Mr. Cutrat produced a receipt for the press; five hundred dollars had been paid for the press and safe; I went with Breen and Halloran to the United States Marshal's office; Breen said he would talk if Halloran was out of the way; Breen said there would be trouble if he kept the presses and the stamps; Breen told Ulrick that there would be trouble about the plates; Breen advised us to say nothing about the matter for a day or two, when other parties might be arrested; we waited a few days and nothing turned up, when we went to Ware's house and made the seizures; none of the plates here shown were found in Breen's place; we did find a transfer press on Breen's premises.

Cross-examined.—Witness only remembered that part of the conversation which he deemed important for the interest of the Government; the rest he remembered only in a general manner; the part which he remembered distinctly was that in which he spoke of the conversation between himself and Ulrick; he told him that the Government was going to break up the business, and all connected with it would have trouble; he had better tell all he knew about it.

Robert Murray, United States Marshal, testified—That Breen was brought to his house on Sunday morning, some five or six weeks ago. Witness was going on to detail a conversation with the accused, when Mr. Stewart, counsel for the defence, objected to any evidence as to the conversation which took place under threats and promises on the part of the Government officers.

The Commissioner ruled that as Mr. Murray's testimony was merely corroborative of that given by Col. Wood, it be admitted.

Witness then confirmed the story told by Col. Wood. He saw Mr. Breen at his house, and told him that he was involved in a very serious business; that Breen offered to tell him all if they would let him go; that they declined, but advised him to tell all he knew of the case; that he then said that he had bought the press from "Dutch Charley" on the condition that he should be permitted to use it; that "Dutch Charley" had used it four times, once in his presence for the making of a fifty-cent plate; that the last time he had remonstrated with him and told him that it was dangerous, but still had permitted him to use it; that subsequently the accused had proposed to let the Marshal put two officers in his place to catch counterfeiters if they would let him go home for the present; that after consultation they had agreed to do so; that all this was previous to any warrant having been issued.

A. B. Newcombe being recalled, testified to finding a roll or die for the purpose of impressing plates, on the premises at the time of seizing the press.

The further examination of the case was adjourned till to-day at noon.

The Board of Health and the Fat Melters—The Supreme Court Denies the Certiorari in the Case of Christian Geis—The Prisoner Remanded.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS—SEPT. 14.

Before Judge Sutherland.

In the Matter of Christian Geis vs. The Board of Health.—This case, which has been before the Supreme Court two days during the present week, was decided yesterday by the Judge denying the writ of certiorari asked for, and refusing to bail the prisoner. After the decision of the Court had been rendered, Ex-Judge Dean, counsel for the prisoner, asked the Judge to state on what ground he had based his conclusions that a writ of certiorari could not be allowed to take the proceedings to the General Term of this Court for review, and why the prisoner could not be admitted to bail, provided he could offer such bondsmen as would be satisfactory to the Court. In answer to this inquiry the Judge said that during the argument he had had some doubt about the law of the case. He therefore took the papers and held the matter under advisement for a day or two. He had felt that there were some embarrassing questions involved, and the practice in similar proceedings had not, in this district, been a uniform one. He had, therefore, taken the papers, made a thorough examination of them, and had spent four hours in examining the several statutes as applicable to the facts before him. He had come to the conclusion to deny the writ asked for, and, of course, he could not admit the prisoner to bail. The point made by the prisoner's counsel that there had been no sufficient notice he did not think well taken. He thought there was evidence enough before him going to show that Geis knew of the final order of the Health Board, and that in the face of that knowledge he continued with his business. Besides this, said the Judge, suppose I should grant what you ask, Judge Dean; suppose I send these proceedings to the General Term of this Court for review, on the ground of error committed by the Court of Special Sessions, and suppose the General Term of the Supreme Court affirm the judgment of the Court below, what then is to be done? When will the prisoner's time of imprisonment begin; who is to pronounce sentence; to whom is the judgment of the General Term to be remitted; and who will ever take any notice of the recognizance if it should be forfeited? These are questions which suggested themselves to my mind while examining, as I have most thoroughly, the several statutory provisions relative to this subject. I can find no law to warrant me in doing otherwise than as I have indicated.

Ex-Judge Dean—Is it possible, your Honor, that we are debarred by the Legislature at Albany from the right to appeal to a higher Court when we offer the satisfactory amount of security for our appearance?

The Judge—If I had not thought this case an important one I would not have spent so much time upon it, and I am sorry counsel will not give me credit for having done the best I could. The fact is, there is too much of this kind of business done. If a man in such a case can get the requisite bail to set him it liberty, that is generally the end of the whole matter. I am determined to go according to the law. I admit I have been much embarrassed with other cases of this nature, and for that reason I have taken the pains to examine the statutes. It is very evident from the first sections of the law that the right of appeal is abolished. The statute says so, in so many words. If I were to grant the writ asked for, how, in the meantime, are the public to be secured?

Ex-Judge Dean continued to insist that his client had received no sufficient notice, and read the statute which provides that there must be a notice of at least three days.

Mr. Bliss said a much longer notice had been given.

After some further conversation it was decided by the Court that the prisoner's counsel might file a further affidavit in the case, and that it was also permissible for counsel on either side to present such points of law, with references to the authorities on which they relied, as are applicable to the questions before the Court. In the meantime the prisoner to be remanded to the custody of the officer from whom he was taken.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Judge Russel.

SENTENCES.

Judge Russel yesterday sentenced the following prisoners who had been remanded during the week:

Thomas Baldwin, for an attempt at burglary in the third degree; Penitentiary for one year.

Frank Peemy, for an attempt at grand larceny; Penitentiary for one year.

Charles King and Raymond Carr, for petit larceny from the person; State Prison for two years each.

Henry Richardson, for assault and battery; Penitentiary six months and fined $100.

Otto Rice and Fred. Diestelhouse, for assault and battery; fined $25 each.

AN OLD THIEF VANQUISHED.

John Fitzsimmons, an old thief, who, with the aid of counsel, has endeavored to palm himself off upon the court and jury as an unsophisticated person who had no experience in crime, notwithstanding his having served one term in the State Prison, having been indicted for grand larceny from the person, was brought up for trial. The facts set forth in the testimony were that on the morning of the 30th July Jefferson W. Laforge, of No. 57 Morton-street, was sitting on the southeast corner of Hudson and Christopher-streets; that the prisoner came along and sat down beside him; that shortly thereafter he felt prisoner's hand in his pocket; that at that time an accomplice of the prisoner came along, when he (Laforge) felt alarm for his person; that when the prisoner and his accomplice left he missed one set of teeth of the value of $25, a set of sleeve-buttons of the value of $5, and money amounting to $1 15, in all $31 15, all which had been taken from his pantaloons pocket; that he subsequently followed Fitzsimmons till he met Officer Cox, of the Ninth Precinct, who, at his request, arrested him, (the prisoner,) but on reaching the station-house, the property was not forthcoming. The witness had no doubt until cross-examination, when he conceived the idea of not being exactly sure. At this point it transpired that two or three days ago the stolen property had been sent back to him, (Laforge.)

Counsel for the prisoner had the case put off several times, ostensibly to prove character, and Mr. Laforge, having been labored with by some of the prisoner's friends, suggested to the District-Attorney that he (the prisoner) be leniently dealt with, as "it was his first offence."

While Mr. Bedford was addressing the Jury, counsel for the prisoner interrupted him several times—a circumstance which the former took no notice of, but proceeded with his business. The counsel also interrupted the Judge while charging the Jury. The Jury retired about twenty minutes and returned with a verdict of guilty, whereupon the prisoner was sentenced to the State Prison for five years. His counsel made no effort to prove character.

ASSAULTING A POLICEMAN.

Frank Mason, on the 1st of September, felt that he was a somewhat exalted citizen—so far above all powers that no ordinary policeman was to be tolerated in his presence without being well pummeled. Accordingly he struck Holly Lyon, an officer of the Tenth Precinct, on the head with a slung-shot. On his preliminary examination he said he never had a slung-shot and never used one. Yesterday he pleaded guilty of an assault with a dangerous weapon, with intent to do bodily harm, and was sentenced to the State Prison for three years.

FATE OF UNSUCCESSFUL BURGLARS.

Charles Donley and John Hart pleaded guilty of an attempt at burglary in the third degree. On the afternoon of the 20th of August, they broke into the dwelling house of Bertha Glerckner, of No. 287 East Houston-street, by means of false keys and attempted to carry away furniture, apparel, a gold watch, &c., of the value of $400. They were both found making their escape from one of the rooms of the house after the alarm had been given. Mrs. Glerckner identified both prisoners, and they were sentenced to the State Prison for two years and six months each.

ANOTHER BURGLAR.

Thomas Whelan, who said he was only 16 years of age, pleaded guilty to an attempt at burglary in the third degree. On the 20th of August the prisoner broke into the store-room of the house of Elias Gill, No. 11 Broome-street, and stole therefrom a number of articles, all of the value of $108. He was subsequently arrested by Officer Broadhead, of the Thirteenth Precinct, and some of the stolen articles were found in the possession of Mrs. Ann Rogers, No. 24 Broome-street. Prisoner said that beside himself, John McMahon and Wm. Ramsay were engaged in the burglary. He was sentenced to the Penitentiary for one year.

ON THE DOMESTIC DODGE.

Katy Smith, a pleasant appearing but hardened little girl, just about 16 years of age, has formed the habit of engaging with ladies in the capacity of housemaid. On the 14th of July she went to work as housemaid for Mrs. Georgiana E. Matthews, of No. 141 East Thirtieth-street, and after being two or three hours in the house, left, taking with her two silk dresses of the value of $200, one of which she pawned at the corner of Seventh-avenue and Thirty-fourth-street, and the other at Eighth-avenue and Twentieth-street. Katy, who also assumes the non de plume of Fanny Tweed, pleaded guilty, and was sent to the House of Refuge, with a view to the improvement of her morals.

A BRACE OF WELL-DRESSED THIEVES.

Thomas Roggins and John Gillon, both neatly dressed young men, pleaded guilty of an attempt at grand larceny. On the 15th of August they stole from Mr. Addison Cammack, residing at the New-York Hotel, a gold watch and chain worth $250, and money amounting to $158—in all $408. Subsequently Edward Darke, an officer of the Fifteenth Precinct, arrested the prisoners, both of whom had the stolen property in their possession, which they threw away while being pursued. They were remanded for sentence.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Louis Cohn, a Prussian, pleaded guilty of an assault upon John Kniedmen by striking him on the face with some instrument of a dangerous character, on the 13th of July. The complaint was made by Joseph P. Doreck of No. 144 Forsyth-street. The Court suspended sentence and discharged the prisoner.

Mr. Gunning S. Bedford, Jr., Assistant District Attorney appearing for the people.

Friday, Sept. 14—P. M.

The price of Gold has gradually yielded to the recent supplies from England and California, until it touched 145 ℘ cent. to-day. At this figure the Gold Room was free from excitement and only a moderate speculation was indulged. The cash Gold is easy for delivery but not over-abundant as the Customs duties absorb—yesterday and to-day—an average of $650,000 per day of the new receipts, and there is little or nothing going out for Gold interest. The Treasury of the United States now holds in its various offices about $84,000,000, of which seventy millions are in the New-York Office alone. The total will probably be raised to one hundred millions before the First of November gold interest falls due.

The Atlantic Cable news to-day being more favorable for American Stocks, and also for Breadstuffs and Cotton, there was an increased offering of Exchange, and the rates of yesterday scarcely steady for Saturday's mail. London 60 days is 107 for the very best signatures, and 30 days' sight 107⅜@108 ℘ cent. The Funds of 1862 improved ⅛@¼ ℘ cent. on receipt of the London quotations, and the other gold-bearing and 7.30 Funds of the United States were firm at the close. In reference to paying off the remaining 4 ℘ cent. Treasury deposits—about $45,000,000 in amount—it is probable the Secretary will divide the payments between the present and succeeding month, to accommodate the Clearing-house Banks.

There is every sign of a buoyant turn on the Stock Exchange in the Railway speculation to-day, though the advance continues to be resisted on several of the Western Stocks. The Erie shares are 72½@72⅝ ℘ cent., an advance of 1@1½ ℘ cent. since the closing of the transfers yesterday preliminary to the annual meeting of the proprietary and the election of President and Directors on the 9th of October. It is now pretty well understood on the Street that the inscriptions on the stock ledger of the Company, as it closed yesterday, will not necessarily carry the right to vote, unless the Stock is held in the actual ownership, as well as name of the party to whom it was inscribed, on or before the closing of the transfers. Hence the real contest for control at the election is probably yet to take place. The indications are in this direction to-day.

In New-York Central the rise continued to-day to 107¼ ℘ cent. The elements entering into this movement are said to be, first, the control of the management since the decease of Mr. Richmond; and secondly, the large accumulated surplus income of the Company, susceptible of division by the successful party after the December annual meeting. Two if not three interests are said to be competing for control. First, the American Express people, who would like to have Mr. Wm. G. Fargo, of Buffalo, the President of the Board; Secondly, the Vanderbilt interest, who are looking to a consolidation with the Hudson River and Harlem, and Thirdly, the old Albany Central interest, who would probably be satisfied to have Mr. M. W. Chapin, of the Boston and Western, as President, since the health of Mr. Corning would scarcely permit him to return to the office, even if his election were practicable. In any event, the New-York Central is in a fair way of being well served in point of business talent and experience, with a good Executive.

The Western Roads were generally upward, notwithstanding some large 60-day seller's options put out in Michigan Southern and Chicago and Rock Island. The cash stock of Southern was 83½, and of Rock Island 108⅞@109 ℘ cent. The Northwest Shares were 35 for the Common and 66⅛ for the Preferred. The Ohio and Mississippi Certificates advanced in the forenoon to 30¼, closing at 29⅞. The long pending trusteeship of this Road will be closed at Cincinnati to-morrow, Sept. 15, after which the Certificates now selling in this market will pass into Common Stock and the Road transferred, by a pro forma sale under the trust, to the Preferred and Common Stockholders. Reading Shares advanced to 115@115⅛ ℘ cent., and Fort Wayne to 105⅛ ℘ cent. The Miscellaneous Shares had a further advance of one ℘ cent. on Rutland Marble and ½ ℘ cent. on Mariposa. The Quicksilver Shares were lower; Cumberland Coal steady.

At 5 o'clock P. M. the following quotations were made, as compared with Thursday night: Gold left off dull at 145 ℘ cent.; Exchange 107; Money 4@5 ℘ cent. to the Brokers; United States funds firm; the Railway speculation upward. The Customs demand for Gold yesterday amounted to $635,000, and to-day to $679,000.

INTERNAL REVENUE REGULATIONS.

Important to Manufacturers and Dealers in Distilled Spirits.

Commissioner Rollins, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has just issued the following elaborate circular, which is of importance to all manufacturers of and dealers in distilled spirits:

Treasury Department,
Office of Internal Revenue,
Washington, Sept. 1, 1866.

By the act of July 13, 1866, (section 32,) there is laid on all distilled spirits, upon which no tax has been paid, a tax of two dollars on every proof gallon.

TAX TO BE A LIEN.

This tax is to be a lien, on the spirits distilled, on the distillery used for distilling the same, with the stills, vessels, fixtures and tools therein, and on the interest of the distiller in the land on which the distillery is situated, from the time the spirits are distilled until the tax is paid.

BASIS OF TAXATION.

The tax is to be collected on the wine gallon when the spirits are below proof, and upon the proof gallon when they are of greater strength than proof. The exemption from this rule in favor of spirits used in the manufacture of vinegar or acetic acid, which was created by the act of March 3, 1865, having been repealed by the act of July 13, 1866, such spirits will be taxed hereafter in accordance with the above rule.

POSSESSOR OF STILL, ETC., TO BE DEEMED DISTILLER.

The making or keeping by any person of grain, mash, wash or beer prepared or fit for distillation, together with the possession by such person of a still or other apparatus capable of use for distillation upon the same premises, is to be deemed presumptive evidence that such person is a distiller.

DISTILLER TO GIVE NOTICE AND BOND.

Every person who is, or who intends to be, a distiller (section 24) must give notice on Form 27, over his own signature, to the Assessor of the District in which such business is to be carried on, who will forthwith furnish a copy thereof to the Collector. Like notice of any change in the location, form, capacity, ownership, agency or superintendence of such distillery, stills, boilers or other implements, is to be given within twenty-four hours of such change. Every distiller (section 24) must give bond on Form No. 30. Collectors will give especial attention to the instructions printed thereon, as to the manner of the execution of the bond. Bonds under the old law will not suffice.

NO OTHER BUSINESS TO BE DONE IN DISTILLERY.

The use of any still, boiler or other vessel, for the purpose of distilling, is forbidden (section 25) in any dwelling-house, or in any building, or on any premises where any other business, except the manufacture of saleratus, is carried on. If the steam from any boiler in the distillery is conveyed to other premises, to be used for other purposes, the utmost vigilance must be used by revenue officers to prevent this privilege from being made a facility for the perpetration of fraud upon the revenue.

SPIRITS NOT TO BE REDISTILLED IN DISTILLERY.

Rectifying or redistillation of distilled spirits in any distillery, or on any premises where distillation is carried on, is inconsistent with the provisions of section 34, which requires the spirits to be conveyed directly from the still into the receiving cistern, and from thence immediately into the bonded warehouse.

RECEIVING CISTERNS.

Every distiller (section 34) is required to erect two or more receiving cisterns in a room or building used for that purpose, and for no other, for each distillery. Each of these cisterns must be of sufficient capacity to hold all the spirits distilled during the day of twenty-four hours. These cisterns must be so constructed as to leave an open space of at least three feet between the top and the roof or floor above, and a space of not less than eighteen inches between the bottom and the floor below, and they must be separated so that the Inspector may pass around them; and the pipes or other apparatus by which the cisterns are connected with the outlet of the stills, boilers or other vessels must be so constructed as to be always exposed to the view of the Inspector.

LOCKS AND SEALS.

The locks (section 34) and seals to be used in connection with the cisterns will be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, and are to be procured at the expense of the distillers, from the Collectors of the proper districts.

DISTILLER TO PROVIDE WAREHOUSE.

Every distiller (section 27) must provide at his own expense a warehouse suitable for the storage of bonded spirits, one or more rooms, in a suitable building, to be used as such warehouse. Such room may be in the distillery building, or in a building containing other rooms used as warehouses by other distillers, provided such rooms have no interior communication with each other. But no spirits can be stored in such room except spirits manufactured by the distiller who provides said room.

No dwelling-house can be used as such warehouse; and no door, window, or other opening can be made or permitted in the walls of any such warehouse or room, leading to any other room or building, used for any other purpose, or into the distillery. Every person desiring to establish a bonded warehouse for this purpose will make application in the manner prescribed in the regulations relating to bonded warehouses.

INSPECTOR FOR EACH DISTILLERY.

An Inspector (section 29) will be appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury for each distillery, except those which distil brandy from apples, peaches or grapes, exclusively, who is not to engage in any other business while employed as an Inspector, and who cannot have charge of more than one distillery. In addition to his pay of five dollars per day for the time during which he is employed, he will receive a fee, which is hereby prescribed, of one mill for each proof gallon (or wine gallon, if below proof) of distilled spirits inspected by him, and removed to the bonded warehouse. No compensation is to be allowed to him for more than one inspection of said spirits.

The Inspector will, at the end of each month, render his bill to the Assessor on Form No. 105, to be made out and transmitted in accordance with the instructions printed thereon. When the Assessor has examined and approved the bill he will assess the amount thereof on the distiller, and certify the same to the Collector, who will collect and pay the same to the Inspector, giving a receipt to the distiller, and taking one from the Inspector.

ASSISTANT INSPECTOR.

When the duties of such Inspector are greater than he can perform the Secretary of the Treasury may appoint an Assistant-Inspector, on the joint application of the Inspector and the owner of the distillery. If the distiller refuses to join in the application the Collector will decide as to the necessity of appointing an assistant; and, likewise, in case of like disagreement, as to the necessity of retaining him in service.

The Assistant Inspector will qualify in the same manner, and will be subject to the same responsibilities and penalties as the Inspector. He will be paid at such rate as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe at the time of his appointment, not exceeding the rate of $3 per day while employed, this compensation being paid to him in the same manner as to an Inspector. Beside this per diem pay, he will be entitled to receive the same inspection fee as his principal for all spirits which he may inspect. When the Inspector is absent, the Collector may appoint a person to take the temporary charge of the distillery and warehouse, who will, during such absence, perform the same duties as the Inspector. Where an Assistant Inspector is employed in the same distillery with an Inspector, the Assistant should be appointed Acting Inspector in the Inspector's absence, unless the Collector can appoint the Inspector of some adjacent distillery not in operation at that time. When the Assistant Inspector is made Acting Inspector, or when he is absent, the Collector will appoint some other person, when necessary, giving preference to any other Assistant Inspector, temporarily out of employ, as Acting Assistant Inspector. When the Assistant Inspector, or any other person, acts by appointment of the Collector as Inspector, he will take the pay of Inspector, five dollars per day; and Acting Assistant Inspectors will take the pay of Assistant Inspectors. The Acting Inspector and Acting Assistant Inspector will be subject to the same responsibilities and penalties, and be paid in the same manner as the Inspector and Assistant Inspector.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

The Inspector must take an account of all distillable substances put into the mash-tub, or otherwise used for the production of spirits. This account must be kept in a book, in which the Inspector must enter, in tabular form, the quantity and kind of grain, mill-feed, molasses or other substances brought into the distillery for distillation. These entries must be made at the time when such materials or substances are received. He must also specify in said account the quantity and kind of substances put into the mash-tub whenever a mash is made, and record the serial number of every cask inspected, date of inspection, proof, and number of proof gallons. A monthly report of the aggregate amounts so received, used and inspected, must be made on Form 60, together with a report of all other matters called for by the instructions printed on said blank form.

SPIRITS TO PASS DIRECTLY FROM STILL TO RECEIVING CISTERN.

The Inspector will see that all spirits manufactured each day are conveyed into one of the receiving cisterns on the same day. These cisterns and the room containing them must be in charge of the Inspector, and under his lock and seal. In no case will he permit the distiller or any person interested or employed in the distillery to have access to the keys, or handle or use them.

SPIRITS DRAWN FROM CISTERN.

On on before the third day after the spirits are conveyed into the receiving cisterns, they must be drawn off into casks or packages. This must be done under the direct oversight of the Inspector, and the spirits must be immediately inspected, gauged and proved by the inspector himself, with his own hands. In no case can the Inspector or Assistant Inspector deputize another person to gauge casks or prove spirits for him.

MARKING CASKS.

The casks or packages must be of not less capacity than twenty gallons, wine measures. When properly filled, gauged and proved, Inspectors will mark with a cutting iron, upon the bung stave of each cask or package, its capacity and the number of wine gallons of spirits contained therein, with the proof thereof; and he will mark the same on the head of the barrel or other package, with stencil plate, in blacking or ink, together with the collection district, the name of the Inspector, the name of the distiller, the date of inspection, the number of the cask, in progressive order, marking the first cask inspected No. 1, and continuing the series until the last day of the year, and commencing a new series with the first day of January in each year. In this way the number of gallons and proof thereof in each package can be ascertained when the barrels are piled in tiers; and if the marks on the head should be effaced or rendered illegible, the number of gallons could be ascertained from the cutting on the bung stave. These marks should never be on paper, or any other substance merely attached to the head of the cask, but must always be put on the wood of the head itself. No two casks warehoused in the same year by the same distiller should be marked with the same number.

ENTRY FOR WAREHOUSING.

The casks or packages, having been properly marked, must be directly removed to the bonded warehouse established in connection with the distillery, which must be in the joint charge of the Inspector appointed for said distillery and the distiller. When spirits are placed in the warehouse, an entry therefor must immediately be made and signed by the owner of the spirits in the following form:

Entry of distilled spirits manufactured at the distillery and placed in the bonded warehouse, Class A, at——, owned by——.

(Signed) ——.

Dated at ——, ——, 186—.

The Inspector in charge must indorse on the above entry the following certificate:

—— Collection District, State of ——, }
—— ——, 186—. }

I hereby certify that the spirits described in the within entry have been by me duly inspected, and received into the bonded warehouse under my charge at said distillery. (Signed,) ——, Inspector.

The Inspector must keep a record of every entry, showing the date of each, and all other particulars stated in the entry, and he will forward the orignal entry and certificate to the Collector of his district and a duplicate to the Assessor.

The Inspector must also make return, in duplicate, of all spirits inspected by him, on form No. 50, together with other matters heretofore required to be reported on the same form. One copy of this return must be sent to the Collector, and the other to the Assessor, by the 15th day of each month.

MODE OF ESTABLISHING WAREHOUSES.

The establishment of bonded warehouses, storage and keeping of distilled spirits therein, and withdrawal of same therefrom, will be governed by the regulations of May 1, 1665, issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, until otherwise ordered, except as the same are modified by sections 40 and 41 of the act of July 13, 1866; and warehouses heretofore established will continue to be used.

Special attention is called to the fact that casks or packages of spirits in bonded warehouse must be marked as prescribed in said sections 40 and 41 whenever withdrawn.

DISTILLERY NOT TO RUN IN ABSENCE OF INSPECTOR.

Authority is to some extent, implied in the Collector in the proviso to section 29, to permit the distilling and removal of spirits from the distillery in the absence of an Inspector or Assistant Inspector; but this should never be exercised except in cases when the inspecting officer is unavoidably kept away for a short period, and when the Collector is entirely satisfied that no loss to the revenue will ensue.

GENERAL INSPECTORS.

One or more General Inspectors (section 30) of spirits will be appointed in every district where it may be necessary, who will be entitled to receive the prescribed fee for any spirits gauged and proved, to be paid by the owner of the spirits.

General Inspectors will be entitled to the rates of fees heretofore prescribed in the several districts until other instructions are issued.

These Inspectors will inspect spirits in bonded warehouses other than those attached to distilleries, and any spirits which may require inspection at places other than the distilleries. They will also inspect any spirits already inspected when so ordered by a Collector.

Returns of their inspections must be made both to the Collector and Assessor of the district, on form 59, in accordance with the directions printed thereon.

In no case can a General Inspector deputize another person to gauge casks or prove spirits for him, nor nor can he be appointed keeper of a general bonded warehouse.

DISTILLERS TO KEEP BOOKS, &C.

Every distiller (section 31) is required to make true and exact entry daily, in a book to be kept for that purpose, in the form and manner set forth in form 13, which form is hereby prescribed, of all the matters therein contained; and to render an account in duplicate, on form 14, taken from such book on the first, eleventh, and twenty-first days of each month, or within five days thereafter, to the Assessor or Assistant Assessor. No materials of a kind for which a special column is provided, should be entered under the head of "other materials."

Such account must be verified under oath or affirmation by owner, agent or superintendent of the distillery. The oath of a clerk on form 14 is not sufficient. The entries in the distiller's books must be verified upon the days when the returns are made, by the person who made the entries, and the Assistant Assessor, or other proper officer by whom the oath is administered, will append thereto his certificate of such oath. When the entries are made in the distiller's books by some other person than the owner, agent or superintendent of the distillery, such owner, agent or superintendent must certify on oath that these entries, to the best of his knowledge and belief, are true, and that he has taken all means to make them so.

The acceptance of returns on form 14 imposes upon the officer who receives them, the duty of using all due vigilance in ascertaining their correctness. No Assistant Assessor should receive a distiller's return at his own office, or at any other place than the distillery. He should then satisfy himself, by conference with the Inspector in charge of the distillery, and others, if necessary, and by personal examination of the premises, of the accuracy of the entries made.

He should make careful comparison of the various statements in the account, to see that they are consistent with each other, and when by any means it is made apparent that the statements are incorrect, the facts should be immediately reported to the Collector that he may take the necessary steps for enforcing the penalties or forfeitures which have been incurred; and an assessment should be made for the deficiency of the tax.

The distiller is required (section 37) to furnish all assistance, lights, ladders, tools, staging and other things necessary for inspecting the premises, and to open all doors, boxes, casks, or other vessels not under the control of the Inspector, for his examination, whenever required to do so by any duly authorized officer.

DISTILLERS OF BRANDY FROM APPLES, PEACHES, OR GRAPES, EXCLUSIVELY.

Under the authority conferred by the 44th section of the act of July 13, 1866, and with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, distillers of brandy from apples, peaches or grapes, exclusively, are hereby exempt from the following provisions of that act relating to distilled spirits, viz.

Section 27, requiring the owner of any distillery to provide a bonded warehouse; and section 29, requiring the appointment of an Inspector for each distillery; section 34, requiring the erection of receiving cisterns in each distillery; section 31, so far as it requires returns to be made on the first, eleventh and twenty-first days of each month; and section 45, forbidding the removal of spirits from the place where they are distilled otherwise than into a bonded warehouse; but such spirits must be inspected, gauged and proved before they are sold or removed from the place where they are distilled.

Collectors will take particular notice that the benefit of these exemptions does not extend to distillers of apples, peaches or grapes, who distill any spirits whatever from other substances.

Distillers of apples, peaches, and grapes, must keep the book required by section 31, and make the entries therein as directed, and make return on form 15 to the Assistant Assessor, on or before the tenth day of each month; and the tax must be paid before the last day of the same month. Inspections for such distillers must be made at least once a month, before the spirits are used or removed from the distillery, and the Inspector must have the casks marked with the name of the distiller, the date of the inspection, the kind of spirits, the collection district and the name of the Inspector. The proof and quantity must be marked as heretofore required.

The forfeitures provided in section 48, of the act of June 30, 1865, as amended, and section 14, of the act of July 13, 1866, may be applied to such spirits.

RECTIFIED SPIRITS.

Any person (section 43, paragraph 142,) who changes the character of any spirits, either by rectification, mixing, or otherwise, after they have been duly inspected and marked as required by law, and places the same in other packages for consumption or sale, must first stamp or brand upon such packages the word "Rectified." The stamping or branding may be done with a hot iron, or the word may be put on with paint or ink, and must be put on the head of the cask or package.

All spirits, after being removed from the original package in which they were inspected, and gauged into other packages, for purposes of rectification, redistillation, or change of proof, must again be inspected and gauged and properly branded. This must be done by the proper General Inspector of the district, upon notice from the rectifier; and the inspector must mark upon each cask or package his name and district, and the date of inspection, and must cut or scratch upon the bung-stave, in figures, the actual number of wine gallons contained, and the proof or strength of the liquor.

Every Rectifier (section 26, paragraph 140) must mark with a stencil-plate on each package of five gallons or more of distilled or rectified spirits sold by him, his name and place of business. This may be done in such style as the Rectifier may select, provided it is done accurately and plainly.

Failure to have the foregoing brands and marks put on the packages by the Rectifier and Inspector will cause the forfeiture of the spirits. The fees of the Inspectors are to be paid by the Rectifier, for inspections made of spirits in his possession.

It is the duty of each Inspector to keep a record of all rectified spirits inspected by him, and report the same to the Collector and Assessor of his district, monthly, on form No. 59.

RECTIFIERS' AND WHOLESALE DEALERS' ACCOUNTS

Rectifiers and wholesale dealers in distilled spirits are, by section 26 (paragraph 140,) required to keep a book or books in which are to be entered, daily, the number of proof gallons of spirits purchased and received, and the number of proof gallons sold and delivered. These items should be kept in one continuous account.

The term "wholesale dealers in distilled spirits," as here used, is not synonymous with the term "wholesale dealers in liquors" used in section 79 of the act of June 30, 1864. On the other hand it is used in the popular sense, and includes all who sell at wholesale. As the record is to be made of gallons, sales of smaller quantities may be disregarded. Neglect or refusal to keep such record is punishable by fine, forfeiture, and imprisonment.

SPIRITS ON HAND SEPT. 1, 1866.

Every person (sec. 43) owning more than fifty gallons of spirits manufactured before Sept. 1, 1866, whether of foreign or domestic manufacture, and intended for sale—except such as is in bonded warehouse—must send a written notice to the Collector of the district in which such spirits are stored, prior to Nov. 1, 1866, to gauge and prove such spirits, who will, if satisfied that such spirits were so manufactured, cause the Inspector to gauge and prove the same, and to mark the casks or packages as follows:

Manufactured prior to Sept. 1, 1866.
——— ———, Inspector,
——— district, ———.
Inspected ———, 186—.

Filling the blanks with the spirits, the name of the Inspector, the number of the district, the State, and the date of inspection, respectively. Such spirits must not be gauged, proved, or marked in a cistern or stationary vessel, but in barrels, casks or other similar packages.

The Inspector will estimate the quantity of such spirits held in leach tubs, and gauge and mark the same when drawn off into packages, and he will make one return of such inspections, in duplicate, to the Collector, who will promptly forward one copy of the return to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and will file the other in his own office.

The several provisions of law in relation to distilled spirits found elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse, lead to the following results, viz.: In order that such spirits should not be liable to forfeiture, the packages containing the same must be marked:

First—As provided in section 40, either "for transportation" or "tax paid."
Second—As provided in section 41, "for export," or Third—As provided in section 43, "Manufactured prior to Sept. 1, 1866," or "Rectified."

MANUFACTURER OF STILLS TO GIVE NOTICE.

Any person (section 25) who manufactures stills, boilers, or other vessels to be used in distilling, must give notice to the Collector of the district where such still is to be set up, before any such still, boiler, &c., is removed from the place of manufacture, stating—

First—The place where such still, boiler, or vessel is to be used; or, if he does not know, where it is to be sent.

Second—The name of the person by whom it is ordered, to whom it is sent, and by whom it is to be used.

Third—The capacity of the vessel, still or boiler.

Fourth—The time when it is to be sent from the place of manufacture or set up.

Every manufacturer of stills should inform himself on these points before commencing the manufacture of a still, or he may make himself liable to a penalty.

No still, boiler no other vessel used for distilling, can be set up without a written permit for that purpose from the Collector of the District in which it is to be set up, of which permits the Collector shall keep a record.

SPIRITS NOT IN BONDED WAREHOUSE TO BE SEIZED.

Under section 45, which forbids, under penalty of fine and imprisonment, the removal of any distilled spirits from the place where they are distilled to any other place than into a bonded warehouse, all spirits so removed, and all spirits found elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse, not having been removed therefrom according to law, and the tax imposed by law on the same not having been paid, are liable to forfeiture. Or they may immediately upon discovery be seized, and, after assessment of the tax thereon, may be sold for the tax and expenses of seizure and sale. In reference to either mode of procedure, the burden of proof is upon the claimant of the spirits, to show that the requirements of law in regard to the same have been complied with.

As only in case of a false marking can distilled spirits come into the hands of one honestly ignorant of the fact that the tax on the same had not been paid, Revenue officers are in general, and except where special reasons urge the other course, instructed to proceed under this section by process for forfeiture, rather than by assessment and sale for tax.

When compelled to proceed by distraint, the Collector will immediately report the fact of seizure, its place, date, the quantity of spirits as near as may be, and description of vessels or packages, and the claimant, if any is known, to his Assessor; and will call upon a General Inspector of Spirits for his district to inspect the same. Such Inspector having inspected, gauged and proved such spirits, will report his doings to his Assessor, who will thereupon certify to the Collector an assessment of the tax required by law to be paid on such distilled spirits. Thereupon the Collector will proceed as in other cases of distraint of personal property.

NO DISTILLERY TO BE ALLOWED TO RUN WITHOUT COMPLYING WITH REGULATIONS.

Under no circumstances must a distillery be allowed to run until the requirements of law and the foregoing regulations have been complied with; and any distillery found running without such compliance, must be immediately stopped by the Collector.

REVENUE OFFICERS NOT TO BE INTERESTED IN DISTILLING.

The attention of Internal Revenue Officers is called to section 59, which prohibits, under penalty of fine of not less than five hundred dollars, their becoming interested, directly or indirectly, in the production of spirits. Any such officer now interested in the same must divest himself of such interest within sixty days after August 1, 1866, if he would avoid the prescribed penalty. Such unlawful interest will also be deemed cause for prompt removal from office.

E. A. ROLLINS, Commissioner.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8, 1866.

SIR: I reply to your letter of the 4th inst., that the first Internal Revenue Act took effect, so far as related to stamp duties, Oct. 1, 1862. Instruments executed and delivered prior to that date, though they may be recorded afterward, are not chargeable with stamp duties.

Any instrument issued after the above date, without the proper stamps, may be presented to the Collector by the parties, or any persons interested, in order to have the requisite stamps affixed and cancelled. Such an instrument issued at a time when, and in a place where no collection district was established, may be stamped by the party who issued it, or by any party having an interest therein, at any time prior to Jan. 1, 1867. When originals are lost the necessary stamps may be affixed to copies duly proven.

Very respectfully,
E. A. ROLLINS, Commissioner.

Mr. J. A. PETERSON, Petersburgh, Va.

DRY GOODS—An active demand prevails for all seasonable styles of goods, especially for South and Southwest, and prices have been well supported. Domestic Cottons are held with increasing confidence, in view of the buoyancy in the market for the raw material. Woolens are also doing better, as the season advances. Imported Dress Goods are in quick request at very full prices. The specie value of foreign Dry Goods entered at this port, this week, is $2,914,072, including $1,803,245 of entries direct for consumption, and $1,110,827 warehoused. The total specie value of foreign Dry Goods marketed this week is $3,178,998. The Dry Goods Exchange report, to-day, has been as follows: Jobbers' prices—Brown Sheetings—Appleton A, 22½c.; Pepperell E, 24c.; Pepperell B, 22c. Bleached Shirtings—Wamsutta, 40c.; Manville Company, 24c.; Slaterville, 18c. Prints—Cocheco, 20½c.; Hamilton, 19c.; Lowell, 16½c.; Empire, 12½c. Hoop Skirts—Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, Empress Trail, in good demand; Meyers' I X L, prices unchanged. Shirts—J. W. L. Standard Dress, No. 275, $32; J. W. L. Standard Dress, No. 450, $37 50. Paper Collars—Metropolitan Collar Company's Byron and Gerotte No. 1, Extra, French Enameled and Silver Corrugated, $16@$35. Goldsmith Patent—Byron, $30; Shakespeare, $40; Cuffs, 50—less 30 ℔ cent. Ticks—Methuen A A, 47½c.; Franklin, 32c½.; Albany, 14c. Stripes—Amoskeag, 37c.; Arasapha, 20c.

FISH—Have been in less demand at about previous quotations.

FLOUR AND MEAL—State and Western Flour has been less sought after and has declined 15c@25c. ℔ bbl., closing heavily. Sales since our last, 8,700 bbls., including very poor to choice Superfine State and Western, at $6@$8 75; very poor to choice Extra State at $6 90@$11 75, chiefly at $7@$9 90; round-hoop Extra Ohio, poor to good shipping brands, at $9 25@$11 50 ℔ bbl. We now quote:

Superfine State and Western	$6 00	@$8 75
Extra State	6 90	@11 75
Extra Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, &c.	7 60	@13 50
Extra Ohio, round-hoop, ship'g brands	9 25	@11 50
Extra Ohio, trade and family brands	11 55	@13 75
Extra Genesee	11 80	@13 75
Common to choice extra Missouri	11 70	@16 00

Southern Flour is in less demand and heavy. Sales since our last 500 bbls., in lots, at $11 05@$12 55 for poor to good, and $12 60@$16 for good to very choice extra brands, ℔ bbl. Canadian Flour continues dull and nominal. Rye Flour is in moderate demand, including Superfine, at $5 50@$6 40 ℔ bbl. Sales, 250 bbls. Corn Meal continues plenty and heavy at $4 10@$4 25 for Western, $4 50 for Jersey, $4 70 for Marsh's Caloric, and $4 80@$4 85 for Brandywine, ℔ bbl. Sales, 300 bbls.

GRAIN—Wheat has receded 3c.@5c. ℔ bushel, under more liberal offerings, especially of Winter. The demand has been moderate. Sales since our last 43,000 bushels, including old and new White Michigan at $2 70@$3 05; common No. 1 Milwaukee Club at $2 25; inferior Chicago Spring at $1 50@$1 56; and Amber State at $2 70@$2 72½ ℔ bushel. A dispatch from Milwaukee informs us that the Board of Trade of that city have adopted the following new rules for the inspection of Wheat: No. 1 Spring strictly by the present standard; No. 2 by the present standard as to weight, and to be free from grown and sprouted wheat; No. 3 shall comprise all wheat fit for warehousing, weighing not less than 54 pounds to the measured bushel, which, under the established rules of inspection, may be unfit to go into the higher grades; rejected shall comprise all Wheat fit for warehousing, but too low in weight or otherwise unfit to pass into No. 3. Corn has been in more demand, opening at decidedly firmer prices, but closing quite heavily. Sales have been reported since our last of 203,000 bushels at 82c. for unsound; 83c.@85c., chiefly at 83c.@83½c. afloat, and 84c.@85c. in store, for sound mixed Western, and 93c. for White Western, ℔ bushel. Oats continue in limited demand, including Chicago at 41c.@46c., Milwaukee at 46c.@51c.; State at 55c.; Pennsylvania at 52½c., ℔ bushel; sales 45,000 bushels. Nothing new in Barley or Malt. Rye is in fair demand, including Western at 85c.@90c., and choice State at $2 20, ℔ bushel; sales 14,500 bushels. The movements in Breadstuffs in Milwaukee, week ending with Sept. 11, Messrs. GEO. I. JONES & Co. notice thus: The Flour market continues poorly supplied, and there are many orders here that remain unfilled. Prices have improved materially, in most cases fully $1 ℔ bbl. Receipts for week, 6,943 bbls. Shipments for week, 11,825 bbls. Freight to New-York by propeller and rail, $1 30 ℔ bbl.; to Boston and Portland, by Grand Trunk line, $1 20; to Buffalo by propeller, 60c. The Wheat market during the past week has been quite active both for shipment and speculation, and under the influence of light receipts here, and improved Eastern and foreign markets, prices have steadily advanced. A large number of the transactions in No. 1 have been made to settle contracts. Receipts continue very small for this season of the year, though more liberal arrivals are looked for after the 15th. The weather during the week has been for the most part clear. Yesterday we were visited with a steady, soaking rain, lasting until early this morning, and since then it has again commenced to rain. We have not yet been able to procure average samples of the new crop, as the arrivals thus far have been exclusively from this State, and samples selected from the Wheat now in store would not be a fair representation of the entire crop. Mr. HOLLAND, Chief Grain Inspector at this port, informs us that he will probably be able to give us samples during the coming week. It is proposed to make a new grade of Wheat, to be known as No. 3, consisting of Wheat not quite good enough for No. 2, freeing the latter grade of grown Wheat, and keeping it fully up to the standard of last season. The Inspection Reports for the week show that 88 car-loads of the arrivals have been graded as No. 1, 240 car-loads as No. 2, 65 car-loads as No. 3, and 83 car-loads as rejected. We quote Lake Freights at 10½c. on Wheat to Buffalo, and 16c. to Oswego. The stock of Wheat in store is reported at 142,970 bushels, of which 33,739 bushels is No. 1, 60,296 bushels No. 2, 21,333 bushels No. 3, and 27,602 Rejected. The receipts of Wheat for past week sum up 173,816 bushels against 357,089 bushels for the same time last year. Shipments for week 3,760 bushels by rail, and 108,772 bushels by lake, as follows: 56,821 bushels to Buffalo, 15,250 bushels to Oswego, 16,300 bushels to Ogdensburgh, 18,201 bushels to Cleveland, and 2,200 bushels to other ports. We quote No. 1 Spring Wheat in store, subject to 2c. ℔ bushel storage, at $2 05. "Seller September" $1 95. No. 2 $1 76. No. 3 $1 66. Rejected $1 35. OATS quiet at 33c. for No. 1, and 30c. for No. 2, in store. Receipts for week 12,293 bushels. Shipments for week 33,161. RYE steady at 65c. for No. 1 in store. Receipts for week 11,071 bushels. CORN is in good demand for shipment at an advance of 4c. ℔ bushel, closing at 54c. for No. 1 in store. Receipts for week, 19,390 bushels. Shipments for week, 39,697 bushels.

The following will show the Eastward movement of Flour and Grain from lake ports for the week ending Sept. 8, and destination:

HAY—North River bale continues in good demand at 85c.@$1 20 for old, and 70c.@$1 05 for new ℔ 100 lbs. Straw, 50c.@90c. ℔ 100 lbs.

HOPS—Have been quiet to-day, including American new at 45c.@60c.; last year's crop at 15c.@55c.; also foreign at 50c.@65c. ℔ lb. The week's business in Hops, Mr. EMMET WELLS notices thus: "We have to report a quiet and steady market. In view of the greatly increased yield over last season, brewers are said to be holding back their orders in anticipation of lower prices. We think prices may recede a little after our market becomes overstocked; yet the sudden appearance and fearful havoc of the insect throughout the growing sections, within the past two weeks, has so greatly reduced the yield of prime grades that we do not look for much lower prices, particularly on such as have escaped the vermin and mould. What is to become of all the common Hops is more than we shall at this time attempt a conjecture; however, if we can get our prices down to about 40c. for prime, we may be able to supply a part of England's deficiency, and thus work off a good share of our common grades. Receipts of the week have been extremely light, and probably will not exceed 200 bales, these mostly of prime and fancy grades. We have heard of no sales of the new growth below 45c. ℔ lb., while 60c., cash, will buy the best in the market."

HIDES—Have been less freely offered, and have been in fair request at buoyant prices.

LEATHER—Sole has been in pretty fair demand within the range of our quotations: Oak Slaughter and Salted, good Light, 33c.@38c.; Oak Slaughter and Salted, Good Middle, 38c.@45c.; Oak Slaughter and Salted, good Heavy, 43c.@49c.; Oak Slaughter, light, Cropped, good, 45c.@50c.; Oak Slaughter, middle, Cropped, good, 51c.@56c.; Oak Slaughter, Bellies Cropped, good, 19c.@21c.; Hemlock, Buenos Ayres, &c., good Light, 33c.@34c.; Hemlock, Buenos Ayres, &c., good Middle, 35c.@36c.; Hemlock, Buenos Ayres, &c., good Heavy, 37c.@38c.; Hemlock, California, good Light, 32c.@33c.; Hemlock, California, good Middle, 34c.@35c.; Hemlock, California, good Heavy, 35½c.@36½c.; Hemlock, Orinoco, &c., good Light, 31c.@32c.; Hemlock, Orinoco, &c., good Middle, 33c.@34c.; Hemlock, Orinoco, &c., good heavy, 31c.@32c.; Hemlock, Orinoco and Buenos Ayres Damaged all weights, 30c.@33c.; Hemlock, Orinoco and Buenos Ayres Poor, all weights, 22c.@25c.; Hemlock Slaughter, in rough, 33c.@36c.; Oak Slaughter, in rough, Light, 35c.@38c.; Oak Slaughter, in rough, middle and heavy, 38c.@45c., cash, ℔ lb.

LIME—Has been in good request, and quoted steady.

MOLASSES—Is in rather better request, including Porto Rico at 55c.@75c.; English Island at 55c.@60c.; Cuba at 40c.@56c. ℔ gallon. Sales, 530 hhds.

NAVAL STORES—Have been in very moderate request, including Spirits Turpentine at 67c.@71c. ℔ gallon; Crude do. at $4 80@$4 90; Resin at $3 75@$9 50 ℔ 280 lbs.; Tar at $3@$3 50 ℔ bbl.

OILS—Continue in limited demand, including Crude Whale at $1 30@$1 35; Bleached Whale at $1 50; Crude Sperm at $2 55@$2 60; Unbleached do. at $2 95; Lard Oil at $1 60@$1 95; Red Oil at $1@$1 05; Linseed Oil at $1 78@$1 80 ℔ gallon.

PETROLEUM—Is in slack request at 27c.@28c. for Crude, 44c.@46c. for Refined, in bond, and 58c.@60c. for do., free, ℔ gallon.

PROVISIONS—Pork has not varied materially today. The demand has been quite moderate. Sales since our last, 4,850 bbls., in lots, at $33 12½@$33 25 for new Mess, closing at $33 12½, cash, $31@$31 50, for one year old Mess, and $30 for new Prime, ℔ bbl. Sales were also made of 4,750 bbls. new Mess, including September deliveries, buyers' options, at $33 12½@$33 25; October, seller and buyer, at $32 25, and $33 06 and $33 12, November, seller, at $30 50, and buyer, last half of same month, at $31 ℔ bbl. Cut Meats are in less demand, at 14½c.@15c. for Shoulders, and 18½c.@20c. for Hams; sales 475 pkgs. THE POLITICAL CANVASS.

The New-York Times for the Campaign.

The NEW-YORK WEEKLY TIMES will be made up during the next six weeks with special reference to the Political Campaign which will close on the first Tuesday in November. It will contain a very large amount of Reading Matter devoted to the discussion of the Political Questions which are then to be decided.

The TIMES will support now, as it has done hitherto, the principles set forth in the Baltimore Union Platform of 1864—ratified by the people in the election of ABRAHAM LINCOLN and ANDREW JOHNSON, and reaffirmed by the Address and Declaration adopted at the National Union Convention which met at Philadelphia Aug. 14, 1866. It will urge a prompt restoration of the Union, by the admission to Congress of loyal members from loyal States—the extension in the Southern States to the freedmen, in common with all other classes of their inhabitants, of equal protection by law in every right of person and property—the repudistion of the rebel debt, and the maintenance of the national debt as sacred and inviolable—full justice to the soldiers and sailors of the Republic—the perpetual maintenance of the Union—the permanent exclusion of Slavery—the promotion of peace, union and harmony among all the States and all the sections of the Union, and the permanent honor safety and welfare of the Republic.

We shall publish from week to week, in addition to correspondence and editorial discussions, speeches, documents, &c., calculated to throw light upon the questions involved in the canvass; and we shall appeal steadily and confidently to the REASON and JUDGMENT of the PEOPLE, rather than to the passions or prejudices of classes and sections.

We will supply all orders that may be sent us, accompanied by the money, for the WEEKLY TIMES, for the next ten weeks—from Sept. 8 to Nov. 10, both inclusive—at the following rates:

2 copies for 10 weeks	$1
5 copies for 10 weeks	2
30 copies for 10 weeks	10
100 copies for 10 weeks	30

Payment invariably in advance. Address

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EUROPE.

The cable brings news to last night, a little of all sorts, but nothing of very great present importance. The Mexican muddle is uppermost in interest. MAXIMILIAN, pressed by the power behind his throne, has devoted half the customs receipts of his temporary country to the liquidation of French claims. MAX. is also unfortunate in having sent Gen. OSMUND, his Minister of War, to reside in France as his representative; but NAPOLEON says his duties to Mexico are incompatible with his functions as Minister, and he cannot receive him. The difference of opinion between the King of Prussia and the Chamber of Deputies concerning the loan question may possibly be of large importance. The Deputies are firm, but the King is urgent, and rumor has it that if they do not soon provide the funds His Majesty will dissolve the Chamber. The negotiations with Saxony progress slowly; the Austro-Italian treaty is agreed upon except as to amount of indemnity, but that is not likely to make any trouble. A curious story comes from Paris to the effect that Great Britain and France had united in a protest against Turkey allowing the United States to acquire an island in the Grecian Archipelago. Our naval officers in Russia had been enduring a farewell banquet, at which Prince GORTSCHAKOFF said some complimentary things about the United States. The Spanish Cortes has raised import duties twelve per cent. The Legislature of Candia votes to annex that important island to Greece.

GENERAL NEWS.

The important announcement is made in the Alta California of the 17th August of the sale of the Panama Railroad to an English company by President MOSQUERA, and the Congress of Colombia has approved the act, the sale to take effect upon the expiration of the present contract nine years hence. MOSQUERA first obtained a loan in England for $7,500,000, giving a mortgage of the railroad as security. The money is to be used for revolutionary purposes. The Alta says: "We have no doubt that the subject will receive the immediate attention of our Government, in order that Colombia may be given to understand that a sale so prejudicial to the interests of the United States, and made in such violation of good faith with the present Railroad Company, will not be allowed. If we can afford to say to France that her troops cannot remain in Mexico, we can tell MOSQUERA that he must not dispose of the Isthmus transit to an English Company."

In a letter to Hon. H. N. CONGAR, Secretary of State of New-Jersey, Hon F. S. FRELINGHUYSEN, Attorney-General, has given an opinion that by the terms of recent State laws, citizens who were for nine months during the war in the service of the United States, and have been honorably discharged, are exempt from any assessment as a poll tax to pay soldiers' bounties.

The funeral of Surgeon B. F. VANDERKIEFT, late of the United States Army, took place at Baltimore yesterday. As Surgeon in charge of the Annapolis General Hospital during the war, he became widely known and highly esteemed for his considerate and humane management of those institutions, and for his professional wisdom and skill.

While the Presidential party were halting for a short time yesterday at Johnstown, Pa., a platform over the Old Canal fell in, precipitating hundreds of men, women and children a distance of twenty feet, and piling them one upon another. Many were seriously injured, and according to the latest accounts, thirteen were killed.

A Cotton Planters' Convention was held at Macon, Ga., on the 9th inst. Resolutions favoring immigration from Europe were adopted, and a Committee consisting of J. S. THOMAS, R. M. ORME and B. C. YANCY, appointed to memorialize the Legislature to aid in encouraging such immigration.

The American and Brazilian Steamship Company, incorporated by the Legislature of Alabama, has opened an office at Mobile. The first vessel of the line established by the Company left Mobile last week with thirty-seven passengers, mostly emigrants, for the Brazilian Empire.

Encouraging reports come from the tobacco crop in the interior Indiana counties, and the prospects are that more tobacco will be produced in Southern Indiana than in any previous season, and that it will be of better quality.

The officers and managers of the National Banks of the Northwest met in convention at Chicago on Wednesday. Various subjects connected with banking were to be discussed, and a permanent organization to be formed.

The Texas papers are loud in their complaints of Indian depredations, and say that the Apaches and Navajoes are carrying off cattle by thousands, and in some sections absolutely desolating the country.

The Chicago Common Council on Monday passed a resolution that after Jan. 1 eight hours shall constitute a legal day's work for all men in the employ of the city.

Seven horses were shipped on Wednesday at Cincinnati for this City, whose value in the bill of lading is put at $60,000. Among them were Asteroid and Kentucky.

The cholera in St. Louis is decreasing rapidly. There were only five deaths yesterday.

LOCAL NEWS.

An unsuccessful attempt was made by two men to rob the Franklin Savings Bank, No. 594 Eighth-avenue, on Monday night last. The outside door was opened by means of a key made for the purpose by one of the thieves, but just as the key was being turned in the lock an officer seized the burglar and arrested him. A confederate who was waiting near by with a horse and wagon, made good his escape. The prisoner, who gave his name as SAMUEL K. HOGARTH, was committed without bail by Justice LEDWITH.

A meeting of soldiers and sailors was held last evening at Clinton Hall for the purpose of indorsing the Syracuse Platform and ratifying the nominations. About 200 persons were present, and were addressed by Gen. COCHRAN, Gen. BARLOW, Hon. HORACE GREELEY, and others. Delegates were selected to attend the Syracuse Convention to be held on the 20th inst.

GEORGE H. BRIGGS, Paying Teller of the Nassau Bank, who stands charged with the grand larceny or embezzlement of $61,000 from the surplus funds of said bank, was brought before Justice DOWLING yesterday at the Tombs, for examination, pursuant to adjournment. Owing to the absence of District-Attorney HALL the case was still further postponed to Monday next.

GONZALES and PELLICIER, convicted of the murder of GARCIA OTERO in the City Park in November last, were taken before the General Term of the Supreme Court, held at Poughkeepsie, on Thursday, for sentence. The Court sentenced them to be hung on the 12th of October next, between the hours of 9 A. M. and 2 P. M.

In the Court of General Sessions to-day Judge RUSSEL disposed of a number of thieves by sending them to the State Prison, Penitentiary and House of Refuge, according to their degrees of crime. The week thus ended has been one of work, in which all connected with the Court have shared in.

CHARLES P. VOSBURGH was arrested yesterday on the charge of having robbed his mistress, the proprietress of a fashionable house of assignation in Philadelphia, of $4,100, in May last. He is in the hands of the Police, awaiting a requisition from the Governor of Pennsylvania.

The case of JOHN BREEN, the alleged owner of a counterfeit transfer press, was up for examination before Commissioner OSBORN yesterday. The fact of the finding the presses, plates, dies and counterfeit currency was brought out, and the case adjourned till to-day.

The case of CHRISTIAN GEIS, the fat-melter, vs. The Board of Health, already published in our columns, was decided yesterday by the Supreme Court. The writ of certiorari to the General Term is refused, and the prisoner remanded to prison.

Mrs. CRAIG, aged 56 years, residing at No. 436 Sixth-avenue, was, it is probable, fatally burned by the explosion of benzine as she was killing vermin. She was in a critical condition at last accounts.

There were but three new cases of cholera reported yesterday, and four deaths during the previous day. The disease is believed to have exhausted itself for this season.

Hon. JUSTIN S. MORRILL will deliver the annual address at the Fair of the Rutland County (Vt.) Agricultural Society, at Rutland, Sept. 26 and 27.

EDWARD KEEHAN was run over and killed yesterday by a Hudson River Railroad freight car, corner of Hudson and Beach streets.

MAX PFORTNER fell from the third-story window of his residence, No. 215 Second-street, and was instantly killed.

The steeple-chase at Hoboken, yesterday, was won by Nannie Craddock, the two-and-a-half-mile dash by Knighthood, and the mile-heat race by Richmond.

Gold was easy at 145 ℔ cent. yesterday. Exchange on London 107 ℔ cent.; the Funds of the United States firm; the Railway speculation buoyant.

There was rather less activity in general business yesterday, especially in the domestic produce markets, which exhibited less firmness and buoyancy, particularly for breadstuffs and provisions. The freight market was quiet.

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.—We are fortunate in having one public man in this country whom no party or partisan dares to attack. Such a man Gen. GRANT appears to be. There were one or two feeble and indirect passes made at him when first he took his position by the side of the President, but the would-be assailants seemed to get afraid at their own attitude, and quietly changed it before sunset. GRANT is guilty of many such actions, too, as would raise a perfect tempest if they proceeded from any other source. For example, he has just furnished arms—that is to say, guns, swords, cannon, caissons, &c.—for the use of the cadets of the "Virginia Military Institute," over which Gen. LEE presides, and he has also restored to the Institute the old "Cadet Battery," which had been taken from it. Gov. LETCHER has publicly thanked Gen. GRANT for these favors, and the Virginians in general are greatly pleased with such an act of courtesy. But suppose President JOHNSON had done this—what an uproar, what a storm, hurricane, tempest, would have swept over the country! How he would have been denounced as a traitor furnishing arms to traitors, as a conspirator plotting new conspiracies, as a public enemy in partnership with other public enemies for the total overthrow of republican freedom. We tremble at the contemplation of the results. Maine would have given forty thousand instead of thirty thousand majority against the Administration, Vermont would have done likewise, and Radicalism would have danced its jig more frantically than ever. But it was GRANT who did it, and to GRANT the whole people of the country seem to have surrendered unconditionally.

Southern Restoration---After Everything, What Then?

Suppose the Southern whites were to suffer confiscation of their property and disfranchisement, as demanded by Mr. THAD. STEVENS—suppose the blacks were to obtain the right of voting and free gifts of landed estate, as advocated by WENDELL PHILLIPS—suppose a wholesale system of hanging were enforced, as advocated by Gen. BUTLER—suppose the Southern States were reduced to the style and condition of provinces or territories; and then suppose that after all these things were accomplished, there were still to be symptoms of dissatisfaction in the South, and occasional outbreaks against the blacks as at New-Orleans—what then? Of course even then, according to the extremists, it would not do to admit these States to their Constitutional position in the Union, as long as they were anything less than entirely satisfied with the treatment meted out to them, or as long as their regeneration was so incomplete as to make even an occasional riot possible. But we hardly suppose the Northern people could ever, under any circumstances, be induced to countenance such horrible scenes as Parson BROWNLOW urges against his Southern fellow-citizens in case they remain contumacious toward the policy of such men as himself; and therefore, they would have to look about for some new means of dealing with a community that was found to act precisely as all other communities have acted when political persecution was exercised over them instead of political justice. There would be but two modes, so far as we can see, which could be adopted—one of them that which is now urged by conservative statesmen, to wit: permitting the Southern States to resume their rights as States, and the Southern people their franchises as citizens, with all the powers and responsibilities of regulating their local affairs for themselves, and maintaining civil order on their own account. Or, on the other hand, subjecting them to permanent military rule, and maintaining among them such an army as could at least hold possession of their territory at all hazards. This latter style of policy has been tried not a few times, and in not a few places, in the history of the world; and though we have never heard of civil or political order being permanently maintained under it, and though of course it is impossible to associate with it any idea of republicanism or freedom, yet it would at least have its advantages over some other plans which are more sanguinary, as well as over some others which have their atrocity concealed beneath a thin veneer of patent philanthropy. No doubt a pretty heavy standing army would be required for the regulation of the eight millions held in subjugation from the Potomac as far as the Rio Grande, and no doubt, after a while, we should have raised up a very turbulent population to deal with; but still, as matters would surely be growing worse all the time under our hands, and as it is very hard to turn in such a course when once it is entered upon, what could be done but increase the army and intensify the stringency of its rule? One of our Southern correspondents, writing from Georgia, discussed this matter yesterday, as it appeared in that quarter. He spoke of the results of treating and holding the Southern people as conquered subjects—of the desolation that would soon exhaust the South, of the certainty that it would soon be a dead weight attached to the Union, and assured us that it would only be possible to repress turbulency by a large armed force stationed among and restraining the people. But this writer viewed the matter almost entirely in its economical influences upon the country; and that is a point of view to which our agitators will pay no attention whatever. We imagine, however, that both in this respect, and in respect of the influence upon the liberties of the whole country, of a despotic policy toward the South, the people will in time come to consider the entire question. They will find, we judge, sooner or later, that there is no course so wise and safe as that which accords with the Constitution, and which demands a recognition of the existence and rights of all the States, and of the rights and powers inherent in all citizens, South as well as North. Is it not the true way to adopt this course at once?

Party Platforms and Principles.

The Albany Evening Journal manufactures a good many reasons for attaching special importance to what we said a few days since upon a possible collision of authority between two rival bodies, each claiming to be the House of Representatives, and it ascribes to the TIMES special authority to speak for the President in regard to the action he would take in that contingency. We have no such authority, and, in the article referred to, expressly stated that we judged of his probable action only from his published opinions on the subject. In no other way have we ever had the slightest reason to anticipate or presume what it would be.

But the Journal is guilty of some flagrant misrepresentations. It says:

> "The TIMES was asked by a Pittsburgh cotemporary whether it regarded the present Congress as a Constitutional body? To this question the TIMES evasively replies that there is possibly no reason for regarding the present Congress otherwise than as a legitimate and Constitutional body because the President has communicated with it, and approved of acts that were passed by it."

We gave no such reason. We said we regarded this Congress as a Constitutional body, because it embraced a majority of all the members required by law; and we added that the President also regarded it as Constitutional, else he would not have signed the bills it passed.

We suggested, as a means of at once doing justice and of averting the threatened danger, the admission of loyal members from loyal States to their seats in Congress. This the Journal styles "surrendering the vital point at issue." How long is it since the Albany Journal regarded the exclusion of loyal men from Congress as a "vital issue" in its party platform? On the 4th of August, in discussing the probable action of the Philadelphia National Convention, the Evening Journal said:

> "If the wish is to compact the real Union Party, a platform will be adopted to accomplish this result. And it is possible to agree upon such a platform. We could draw one, and use no single sentence that has not been spoken by the President himself. If we should make any modification whatever in his declared principles, it would only be to render them less 'Radical;' for we never favored either general hanging or indiscriminate confiscation.
>
> Our platform would be:
>
> 1. Security for the future—to be guaranteed by a faithful execution and submission to the Civil Rights and Freedmen's Bureau Laws.
>
> 2. Adoption of the proposed amendment of the Constitution.
>
> 3. The immediate admission to their seats in Congress of all loyal men who can take the test oath; and
>
> 4. The recognition of the right of every State to regulate the question of suffrage in its own way.
>
> If the Philadelphia Pilgrims will give us some such platform as this, a great many will go to Philadelphia—next time. Such a platform, with 'Conservative' and Executive indorsement, would carry everything before it—it will, whether it has such indorsement or not."

The Philadelphia Convention did give the country just "such a platform" as the Journal itself recommended:—and the main plank in it was the very one on which the Journal then laid great stress,—but which it now repudiates,—namely the admission to their seats in Congress of all loyal men from loyal States.

Grant and Farragut.

The military record of BUTLER, and BANKS, and SCHURZ, and the other promoters of the Pittsburgh Convention, does not satisfy the Radicals' idea of the country's want in the matter of valor. They crave something more than pinchbeck glory. Hence they have never lost a chance of claiming GRANT as one of themselves, and now and then they have exulted over the name of FARRAGUT. The lying dispatch from the Baltimore agent of the Associated Press, announcing the withdrawal of the twin heroes from the President's traveling party, threw the Philadelphia gathering into paroxysms of delight. To atone for the disappointment that followed, the Tribune of yesterday prints a special story from the capital of Ohio, the purport of which is that in a conversation in that city, "Gen. GRANT and Admiral FARRAGUT declared their disapproval of the President's policy, and commended that of Congress."

The best answer to this assertion in its bearing upon Gen. GRANT, is furnished by his indignant rebuke to the Cincinnati Radicals, who attempted to compliment him at the expense of the President. "Sir," said the General to the person who appeared as the Radical mouthpiece, "Sir, I am no politician;" and he went on to declare himself "greatly annoyed" at a demonstration designed to be in opposition to the President. It was the longest speech ever attributed by the reporters to Gen. GRANT, and one of the most emphatic. And after having declared himself no politician at Cincinnati, it is extremely improbable that he became a politician at Columbus. His own words, his habitual reticence, his known aversion to partisanship, his contempt for questioners and busy-bodies, his determination not to be placed in a position of hostility to the President—all establish the untrustworthiness of the statement to which the Tribune gives prominence. The Columbus dispatch and the dispatch with which Mr. FULTON delighted the disunion conventionists belong to the same category.

As to Admiral FARRAGUT, it is only necessary to intimate that the name of that distinguished officer appears in the list of delegates for the State of New-York to the Cleveland Convention, the object of which is diametrically opposed to the policy of the Radicals.

A SUGGESTION HEEDED.—In view of the great danger and frequent accidents consequent upon driving cattle by daylight through the streets of the City to the shambles, we some months since urged upon the Board of Health a simple plan for abrogating the evil, viz.: to require that such work should be done at night when the streets are comparatively deserted. From an order issued by the Superintendent of Police we learn that our suggestion has been heeded; and after a few days of grace given to the butchers, the police are to see to it that no droves of cattle or flocks of sheep are to be permitted on the thoroughfares except in the hours between 9 o'clock P. M. and an hour before daylight. It is only a wonder that so sure a remedy for so intolerable a nuisance had not been adopted long ago.

The President and the Union Party—The President's Declarations.

HORACE GREELEY, ESQ.: Dear Sir: In a card published a few days since you state certain facts which lead you to the conclusion that President JOHNSON, at the time referred to, "did not want harmony with Congress—that he had already made up his mind to break with the party which had elected him, and seek further lease of power through the favor and support of its implacable enemies."

I do not think the facts you mention warrant the inference you draw from them, as the President may have had other reasons for declining to act upon your suggestions than the one you assign. But of this the public can judge. My object in this note is to state certain facts within my personal knowledge, which led me then and which lead me still to believe that, throughout the Winter, the President did not wish to break with the Union Party, and that he had no thought or purpose of "seeking a further lease of power," through the favor and support of its enemies or otherwise.

I conversed freely though not frequently with the President upon the action of the Union Party in Congress during the Winter. While I never presumed to urge upon him unduly any views of my own, I never failed to express my sense of the importance of relying upon the liberal members of the party for such action as the good of the country might require, and I repeatedly told him that, while there was a strong conviction in the party that his mode of restoring peace and harmony to the Union was the only one that was practicable, a great obstacle to its adoption was found in the fear that he was going over to the Democratic Party, in which as a political organization the country had lost confidence.

He never failed in response to say that all such apprehensions were utterly unfounded—that he had no such purpose or thought, and that he relied with confidence on the judgment and good sense of the party which elected him, to whose principles and policy as declared at Baltimore he should rigidly adhere. He said the action of the Democratic Party, as an organization, during the war, had demoralized it and deprived it of public confidence. He believed that a gradual process of disintegration was going on in both parties, which would bring together all patriotic Democrats who had stood by the Government through the war, and the liberal Republicans who waged the war for the Union, and who were for Union now that the war is over. He always disclaimed any intention of going over to the Democrats, or of using the patronage of the Government for their benefit—saying always that he should fight out his differences with Congress within the lines of the Union Party.

It is but just also to say that he uniformly disclaimed any wish for a reelection—saying he should deem himself fortunate to get successfully through his present term, and that his only anxiety was to secure the speedy and effectual restoration of the Union to peace and prosperity. He always laid special stress moreover on the importance to the Union Party of bringing the Southern States back by a liberal and friendly policy. "Why," said he, more than once, "why cannot our friends in Congress see that the Southern States will be our friends if we show them that we are theirs? Now, that Slavery is abolished," he added, "there is no longer any cause for a sectional division of parties; we can get rid of that, and under a wise and judicious policy, half the Southern States at least will vote and act with the Union Party. Why should we by hostile action drive them back into their old alliance with the Democratic Party of the North?"

This was the uniform tenor of the President's language in conversation with me throughout the Winter, and it satisfied me, as I endeavored to satisfy my friends, that he neither desired nor intended to break with the party which elected him, so long as it should adhere to the Union principles upon which that election was carried. And even after the call for the Philadelphia National Convention had been issued, the President urged that it could not fail to exert a wholesome moral influence upon the Union Party by showing that men from both sections could again unite on common ground, and work together for common objects.

Yours, &c., H. J. RAYMOND.

Amusements.

WINTER GARDEN.—Mr. BROUGHAM'S benefit last evening drew a crowded house, as was eminently proper. To-night the stage manager, Mr. J. G. HANLEY, who, by natural aptitude and long experience, has become one of the best in his profession, takes his first benefit. The simple announcement should fill the house, but Mr. HANLEY has provided a programme of interest, including "David Copperfield" and "Pocahontas," and the casts are strong and popular. Mr. STUART announces a brief engagement of the most celebrated gymnasts of the world—the Buislay Family—whose trapeze and other feats are dangerous in the extreme.

MATINEES TO-DAY.—The "Black Crook," which has been thoroughly formed and cut into shape, will be presented at a matinée to-day. As a spectacle it has never been equaled in this City, while its incidents of ballet and scenic display are superb in extravagance and grace.

The "Ice Witch," with all its original merit, will be given at the Olympic matinée to-day.

The "Lone House on the Bridge" will be produced this afternoon at Barnum's—dancing, drumming, dwarfs, horns, curiosities, fat girls and Circassian beauties also at the same time and place.

MACCAFERI'S CONCERT.—Signor MACCAFERI gives a farewell concert at Irving Hall this evening, assisted by BOSCHETTI, DE GEBELE, MAZZOLENI and others.

THOMAS' GARDEN CONCERTS.—A very choice programme is prepared for THEO. THOMAS' grand orchestral concert this evening at Terrace Gardens.

SUNDAY CONCERTS.—On Sunday evening grand sacred concerts will be given at Irving Hall and the Olympic Theatre.

ACCIDENT AT JOHNSTOWN, PA.

A Bridge Containing a Thousand People Gives Way.

Men, Women and Children Precipitated a Distance of Thirty Feet.

Thirteen Killed and Many Seriously Injured.

Part of the Presidential Party Remain to Aid in Rescuing the Sufferers.

JOHNSTOWN, Friday, Sept. 14.

A most distressing catastrophe occurred at Johnstown this morning, by which thirteen persons were killed, ninety odd badly injured, and a larger number bruised and slightly hurt. In expectation of the special train containing the Presidential party, a large number of people, probably 3,000 in all, had gathered in and about the depot at this place, to tender the usual salutations. Near the depot is an old canal, and which was a double crossing with a sort of cover, fifty feet square between. Upon this structure or bridge some eight or nine hundred people had congregated, a large number of whom were women and children. The centre part was densely packed, and must have contained at least four hundred people. The train had hardly stopped when the centre part gave way with a tremendous crash, precipitating the entire party, in a headlong mass, some thirty feet. Hardly had the noise of the falling timbers and the shrieks of the terrified people above ceased, when the groans of the dying and the screams of women and children came from the awful wreck below. All who had escaped injury proceeded at once to extricate the sufferers, who were piled one upon the other among a mass of broken timbers and iron rods. Several of the Presidential party assisted in removing the dead and injured, among whom were Marshal O'BEIRNE, Mr. MURPHY, Mr. CADWALLADER and myself. The President and Gen. GRANT were exceedingly distressed, and were very anxious that the special train should stop over an hour to afford as much aid as possible, but the Conductor stated that arrangements made for meeting trains on the road, precluded the possibility of carrying into effect the President's humane wish, and after a few minutes the train started off. The party above alluded to, however, remained, and rendered a good deal of assistance for nearly two hours. The poor victims—men, women and children—were dragged out from the ruins, several of whom had been crushed to death by falling timbers, but more by being fallen upon by others. Most of the killed and wounded were of the laboring class. Mr. METZGER, one of the killed, was proprietor of the hotel, and was quite wealthy; and Miss LETITIA CANNON was the belle of the town, and graduated at the head of her class on Tuesday last. The scene was one of indescribable horror. The groans of the wounded and the screams and tears of mothers, wives, sisters and daughters was the saddest sight I ever saw. I believe I succeeded in getting the names of all the killed and seriously injured, which I transmit as follows: The following are the names of those killed, and of those pronounced past recovery:

LIST OF KILLED OR FATALLY WOUNDED.

John Parvet, killed outright; Mrs. Welch, crushed to death; Margaret Davis, killed instantly; Frank Debert, dying; Henry Metzgar, killed instantly; Mrs. Kerk, dying; Nathaniel Duncan, killed; Lizzie Srobert, crushed to death; Samuel Mansell, dying; Lettie Cannon, killed; Mrs. Martha Montire, cannot recover; John Marsh and little girl unkown, crushed to death;

THE BADLY WOUNDED.

John Weeklands; John Jelly, spine injured; John Cairnes, face crushed; John Johnson, badly hurt; Mary Trowbert, badly hurt; Mary Richards, badly hurt; Robert Richards, both legs broken: John White, badly injured; Michael McNamy, thigh broken; Miss Blenshaw, leg broken; Henry Waters, skull fractured; Rev. Mr. Agnew, badly hurt; Josiah Folsom, leg broken; Maria Jones, face crushed; Mrs. Carson, leg broken and spine injured; Fennis Watson, leg broken; Mrs. Myers, badly bruised about face and body; Elizabeth Graham, hurt; John Fisher, spine injured; John Fredericks, badly hurt; Dr. Sheridan, badly hurt; Emanuel Young, leg broken; William Baker, face crushed; James Bayle, badly hurt; Lewis Baumer, hip hurt; Christian Kolb, face; Adam Kettening, leg broke; Lizzie Harris, both legs broken; Mrs. Frum, injured internally; Mrs. Lewis, injured internally; Mrs. Parsy, injured internally; Cyrus Little, badly hurt; Mrs. Fend, badly injured; Mary Quin, leg broken; Mr. Ormer, hurt in shoulder; Mr. Hunt, badly bruised; Barbara Greis, severely hurt; Mr. Dont, ribs fractured; Tim Hunt, badly bruised; Daniel Cartwright, contusions; Christian Trobert, hurt in head and side; J. B. McWright, nose cut off; Daniel Gillis, hurt in head and leg; Thomas Lemer, face crushed; Patrick Navin, leg broke and spine injured; Wm. Mitchell, injured in back; Wm. Young, both legs broken and hurt internally; Mrs. Wonderley, hurt badly in back; Wm. Rose, severely injured; Mrs. Dieberr, hurt badly; Richard Morgan, badly crushed; David Reese, leg crushed; Mrs. Welsh, head and back hurt; Henry Shur, flesh wound; George B. Lucas, leg broken; Richard Jones and wife, badly hurt; Daniel McPhike, leg and arm broken; T. J. Petriken, chest badly hurt; Edward Ralph, knee dislocated; Mary Morris, leg broken; George Kittering, thigh broken; Mrs. Alexander Ryer, of Cincinnati, injured in arm, side and hip; Rev. Mr. Jenkins, badly hurt; Dan. Jones, in knee and face; Miss Parry, badly hurt; Lydia Swank, badly hurt; Thos. Butler, badly hurt; Mr. Gore, badly hurt; Mr. Horn, badly hurt; J. W. Myers, badly hurt; J. Williams, badly hurt; J. White, badly hurt; Margaret Daly, contusion on thigh; Peter Stower, thigh broken; Mrs. Trobert, ribs fractured; Wm. Harmer and son, and John Harmer, Mary Shepherd and about a hundred others slightly hurt, bruised and scratched; Wesley Green, badly cut in head; Mrs. Moses, badly hurt in breast; John Cox, badly injured in knee and head; John Warner, badly hurt in head; Dan. Beeker, leg broken; Robert Pritchard, leg torn off; D. Cannon, leg broken; Mary McDonald, ribs broken; Mrs. McDonald, badly hurt in head. Physicians have arrived from various points, and many more have been telegraphed for at Altoona and Pittsburgh.

A GIFT FROM PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

The person who has charge of the sufferers has just received $500 from President JOHNSON, with the request that it should be used in behalf of the most needy of the sufferers and their families.

Another Account.

From the Associated Press.

HARRISBURGH, Friday, Sept. 14.

From accounts received to-night it appears that the accident to-day at Johnstown was of the most lamentable and fatal character. The platform erected over the canal was 75 feet long and from 15 to 18 feet wide. Several hundred persons were standing on it at the time the train arrived with the Presidential party. It broke in the centre, and as a consequence its occupants were precipitated to the ground, a distance of about 20 feet. The timbers and human beings were mixed up promiscuously, all falling in a confused mass. The giving way of the structure was but there could not at that time be ascertained anything like an approximation of the extent of the disaster. Col. O'BEIRNE, Deputy Marshal of the District of Columbia, remained at the request of the President to render such assistance as might be necessary. This he did, Mr. MURPHY, of Washington, rendering valuable assistance. The Colonel superintended the carrying from the wreck of the victims, and placing them in wagons to be conveyed to their homes. Some had both arms and legs broken, and others were injured to a [illegible] extent, with contused heads and severe bruises.

THE NUMBER OF KILLED AND WOUNDED.

Seven or eight persons were killed, [illegible] ing six or more are in a dying condition. About ninety persons were severely, and a large number were slightly injured. Col. O'BEIRNE saw the bodies of two girls, aged apparently 14 years, also those of two women and three men. The friends of the unfortunate parties hurried to the scene frantic with grief. Mothers with children in their arms were seeking their kindred. In fact, the entire population were gathered around the distressing scene, anxiously looking for or inquiring for friends or relatives. Physicians were sent for, and twelve arrived from Pittsburgh. It is said the President has contributed liberally for those rendered helpless by this sad calamity.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Sept. 14.

THE RECEPTION OF THE PRESIDENT.

To-morrow will be a gala day here, and furnish the first sensation the capital has had for some time. The reception of the President promises to be a large and enthusiastic demonstration, and will be very generally participated in by the citizens of the District and of Alexandria. The President and those accompanying him will doubtless be as rejoiced to get home after their long and exhausting tour as the people will be to welcome them back.

THE PITTSBURGH CONVENTION.

Arrangements have been made with the Pennsylvania Central and Philadelphia and Erie Railroads to convey delegates to and from Pittsburgh at half fare, the tickets to be good from Sept. 22 to Sept. 30, inclusive. Similar arrangements will be effected with all the roads leading to Pittsburgh in a few days. Applications are being made to the Governors of States for their tents to accommodate the soldiers and sailors.

THE MILITARY DISTRICT OF TEXAS.

Major-Gen. H. G. WRIGHT has issued an order announcing his assumption of the command of the District of Texas. The present District of the Rio Grande will constitute the Sub-District of the Rio Grande, to be commanded by Brevet Major-Gen. GEO. W. GETTY, and the present Central District and the Sub-District of San Antonio, to be commanded by Brevet Major-Gen. S. P. HEINTZELMAN.

FREEDMEN'S SCHOOLS IN TEXAS.

Circular No. 20, issued from the headquarters of the Bureau of Freedmen at Galveston, Texas, requires each sub-assistant Commissioner or agent in that State to promptly make a report of matters pertaining to the establishment of schools in the State, showing how many schools are in operation, with the names of the teachers. It is enjoined upon the subassistant Commissioners to make the organization of freedmen's schools an essential part of his labors, and to establish them whenever practicable within his jurisdiction.

REPORTED SALE OF FREEDMEN IN ALABAMA.

Major-Gen. HOWARD, Commissioner of the Freedman's Bureau, has addressed a telegram to the Assistant Commissioner for the Bureau in Alabama, informing him of a statement made that two freedmen had been sold in Clark County as slaves, one for $600 and the other for $700, and directing him, in case the statement is true, to secure the release of the freedmen.

COMMANDER PATTESON WAITING ORDERS.

Commander THOMAS A. PATTESON has been relieved from the command of the steamer Muscoota, and placed on waiting orders.

CONSCIENCE MONEY.

A communication, inclosing $700, has just been received at the Treasury Department, from a Catholic priest in Baltimore, who states that the sum was placed in his hands by a penitent at confession as due to the Government.

RECEIPTS FROM CUSTOMS.

The receipts from customs for the week ending Sept. 8 were as follows:

Boston	$406,873 93
Philadelphia	233,740 25
Baltimore	207,981 63

The receipts at the port of New-Orleans from Aug. 27 to Aug. 31 were $59,626 23.

RECEIPTS FROM INTERNAL REVENUE.

The receipts from Internal Revenue to-day were $1,178,189.

THE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

It is understood that the office of the Commissioner of the Revenue will be at the New-York Custom House during the month of October.

LETTER OF INSTRUCTION ON THE REVISION OF THE TARIFF.

The following letter of instructions respecting the tariff has been addressed by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Commissioner of the Revenue, in regard to the proposed revision of the tariff at the next session of Congress:

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10, 1866.

To Hon. David W. Wells, United States Commissioner of Revenue:

SIR: In view of the fact that the revision of the tariff is certain to engage the attention of Congress at the next session, I consider it especially desirable that the Treasury Department should be prepared to furnish as much information pertinent to the subject as can be obtained and collected within the limited time available for the necessary investigations. You are, therefore, hereby instructed to give the subject of the revision of the tariff especial attention, and to report a bill, which if approved by Congress, will be a substitute for all acts imposing customs duties, and which will render the administration of this branch of the revenue system more simple, economical and effective. In the discharge of this duty you will consider the necessity of providing for a large, certain and permanent revenue, keeping in view the fact that the existing tariff has proved most effective in this direction. You will therefore endeavor, first, to secure for the Government a revenue commensurate with its necessities; and, secondly, to propose such modifications of the tariff laws now in force as will better adjust and equalize the duties upon foreign imports with the internal taxes upon home productions. If this last result can be obtained without detriment to the revenue by reducing taxation upon raw materials and the machinery of home production, rather than by increasing the rates of imports, it would, in my opinion, by decreasing the cost of production and increasing the producing power of wages, greatly promote the interests of the whole country. In the prosecution of this work you are authorized to call upon any officer of the revenue for such information as you may require and he may be able to furnish.

I am, with great respect, very truly yours,
H. McCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.

FENIAN GROVE MEETING AT SING SING.

Large Gathering of Hudson River Fenians—The Charge of Paganism Answered.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

SING SING, Friday, Sept. 14, 1866.

A large gathering of Fenians belonging to the circles in the villages along the Hudson River, took place in this village yesterday. The demonstration was gotten up under the auspices of the Ossining Circle, (Sing Sing,) of which Mr. PATRICK CULLEN is Centre. A platform for speakers and another for dancers were erected in Brandreth's Grove, and around and upon these the Fenians, with their families, assembled, to enjoy themselves in various ways. Speeches were made in the afternoon by a number of prominent Fenians, and their words were received most welcomly by the enthusiastic Irish people present.

The principal speaker was Col. THOMAS F. BOURKE, an attaché of organizer STEPHEN'S office, who said that although everything looked dark, there were living evidences present of the existence of an organization in Ireland. Nothwithstanding the hardships and tribulations which Great Britain had heaped upon the Irish people they were determined to fight the good fight until the independence of Ireland was secured. The matter had assumed but one shape, and that was that there must be fighting done to secure this end, and done at an early day. All that the people of Ireland asked of America was that Irishmen and Irishwomen in this country should contribute rifles to the cause and the people at home would furnish the muscles to free the old land and make it a country which shall have the respect of the whole civilized world. The speaker called the attention of the audience to an extract from a speech reported to have been made in Canada by a Mr. HURLBURT of the World, in which this gentleman stated that it was the Pagans and not the intelligent mass of the Irish people who found fault with Great Britain, and concluded by saying that the American people would not be bullied into giving aid to the Irish people.

Col. BURKE criticised Mr. HURLBURT's remarks in a very caustic manner, charging Mr. HURLBURT with having knowingly uttered a base and ungenerous falsehood. He knew that Fenians everywhere would denounce the slanderer and most bitterly remember him. In the name of the imprisoned chieftains of Irish liberty he would resent so gross an insult to the fame of Ireland. In conclusion, he urged all present to render all possible assistance to those who are working for the liberation of Ireland from the yoke of the oppressor, and said that JAMES STEPHENS would have attended the meeting, but was prevented from doing so by important services he was required to render in the city.

Speeches were also made by Dr. F. F. COWLEY, Major MOYNIHAN and Capt. MYKINS, formerly of the Corcoran Legion, and Gen. J. H. GLEASON, of the Irish Republican army.

In the evening a meeting was held at Talcott's [illegible], which was addressed by Col. BOURKE. The meeting adjourned with [illegible] cheers for JAMES STEPHENS and the Irish Republic.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

Reported Abdication of Maximilian—Affairs at Matamoras.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW-ORLEANS, La., Thursday, Sept. 6, 1866.

Recent dates from Matamoras state as I telegraphed you to-day that a dispatch had been received there from MARTINEZ to the effect that a telegraphic message had been received from San Louis Potosi, announcing the abdication of MAXIMILIAN in favor of Prince NAPOLEON on the 10th ult. As a matter of course doubts are expressed as to the reliability of the information, and the lack of details or particulars of any sort, naturally confirms these doubts. MARTINEZ was, on the 25th ult., near Metahuila, and his dispatch is dated there. Other letters from Matamoras also state the same fact, and one dated as late as the 30th gives it unequivocally. It is probably certain that, if MAXIMILIAN has not already gone, he will soon go, and it may be that the rumor of his abdication is but a forerunner of the fact. Although the Liberal party is split up and divided into self-destroying factions and cliques, it is unanimous in its opposition to the Empire, and therefore MAX. "has a hard row to hoe," and, as it is undeniably true that his exchequer is empty, abdication may be forced upon him.

Monterey dates of the 26th state that the French forces were then near San Louis Potosi, and were committing all kinds of depredations on the inhabitants. Marshal BAZAINE, it seems, did not stop at San Louis Potosi, but went on to the City of Mexico, apparently in a great hurry, after the evacuation of Matamoras and the subsequent advance of the Republicans into the interior. Gen. LOPIAS was appointed Governor of Tamaulipas after the capture of the State by President BENITO JUAREZ, but refused to accept. CARAVAJAL having been driven out of Matamoras, CANALES assumed control in the State, and held it until CORTINA arrived, when the latter issued a proclamation conferring on himself the gubernatorial toga.

Dates of the 27th, from Monterey, give additional interesting news. Great discontent prevailed among the Liberal chiefs throughout the whole interior, and, to use the words of one letter, "a great crash was expected." ESCOBEDO, with 4,000 infantry and 2,500 cavalry, was to have left for the interior in fifteen days. A portion of his command had already left, and he expected to have 12,000 men with him on his arrival at San Luis Potosi. This force would carry everything before it, and give ESCOBEDO the power to control the destinies of the Republic. Throughout the whole interior pronunciamentos had been issued by different Chiefs for SANTA ANNA, ORTEGA, JUAREZ and other prominent Liberals. The greatest confusion of sentiment prevailed, and it is not improbable that just as the Mexican people are arriving at the expulsion of MAXIMILIAN, they will destroy their own Government by their fearful, bitter internal dissensions. Many of their most sanguine friends have given up all hope that they will ever be able to establish a Government of their own. For this reason the Emperor has received support from foreigners, many of whom, although opposed to the Empire, favor him because they know that some power outside of the people themselves is necessary to keep them in a state of peace and quiet, or to make them submit to any form of government whatever.

Just before CARAVAJAL was driven out of Matamoras, he attempted to make a forced loan of $100,000, but did not complete it. When CANALES assumed control he issued an order for the collection of another loan of the same amount, which he afterward increased to $13,000, and succeeded in obtaining it. His pretense for making this loan was a want of money with which to equip troops to be sent out for some particular purpose. The men have not been paid, however, nor have any equipments been bought, and it is said on good authority that the money is being gambled away by the officers, headed by CANALES himself, in a Matamoras gambling house, which is licensed by the Government, and in which rumor hath it CANALES is interested. Some of the American residents refused to pay their assessment in the loans and were excused from so doing. The influence of the military authorities at Brownsville is sufficient with the Liberals to obtain exemption for Americans from taxation, and it is exerted with great success to protect them from these demands.

A well-informed writer at Matamoras says that CANALES, HINEJASA and other Liberal chiefs will receive any Governor for Tamaulipas who may be appointed by JUAREZ, but adds that "in the event of one being forced upon them, they will pronounce, as they call it, for GONZALES, ORTEGA, or any one else who retains them in command."

Gen. LEW. WALLACE has gone to Chihuahua to see President JUAREZ, accompanied by CRAIG WADSWORTH and other ex-officers of the American army. It was expected that on the General's arrival at Chihuahua JUAREZ would move the seat of Government to Monterey, or some other place in the interior.

CORTINA at latest dates had pronounced for CARAVAJAL, and it was deemed certain that the latter would soon return to his command at Matamoras. From this it is inferred that JUAREZ sustains CARAVAJAL in his quarrel with CANALES and HINEJASA. In the meantime CARAVAJAL remains on the Brownsville side of the river, and CORTINA has issued a proclamation announcing himself Governor of Taumaulipas, LOPIA having refused to accept the appointment.

Madame Adelaide Ristori in New-York.

The advent of Madame RISTORI in this City seems to be growing into a fashionable furore. She is run down at the Fifth-avenue Hotel by hundreds of visitors, all of whom she receives with the utmost good nature, paying great attention to her guests without appearing to be fatigued. The family is certainly remarkable for ease and grace; but as they are to some extent private individuals, it is scarcely proper to bring them into notice, except in a general way. Madame RISTORI had an interview with her company yesterday morning and gave them directions with respect to the private rehearsal at the French Theatre at noon to-day. The principal members of the company were present yesterday, including the chief tragedian, Signor GLECH, and the principal juvenile lady, Signorina GLECH, known as L'Enfan Gatè in the European theatres. She is a very accomplished young lady. The other artists are of high rank in their profession. The rehearsal to-day will be a strict one, as it is intended to present "Medea" next Thursday, with every possible attention. The prospect is a brilliant one for quite an ovation for the tragedienne. The book of subscription will continue open to-day, and on Monday the sale of seats will commence for the public at large. What the result will be may be anticipated, as speculators and others have tried every art to secure seats before the appointed time.

Mme. RISTORI last evening, as well as in the afternoon, received a large number of visits, and there were many presents made to her, including some very handsome and useful ones from Boston and Philadelphia. As the weather was very stormy, the proposed drive to the Park was abandoned, and there was no intention to visit the Thalia Theatre, as publicly announced, Mme. RISTORI having declined to accept any invitations prior to her debut on Thursday evening next. These unauthorized announcements by theatres are only calculated to mislead the public.

THE SWIETENIA, a delicious wash for the teeth and gums, invented by Dr. M. LEVETT, the eminent dentist, has already received favorable notice from us. As a preservative of the teeth and a sweetener of the breath, it is really invaluable, and takes the shape of a public benefaction. We have tested it and know its worth.—New-York Dispatch.

Wondrously Sustaining Thought:

Ah, mothers and wives, when work presses—when muslins, linens and prints cumber your drawers, and little ones clamor for Spring "toggery," the [illegible] that in your sitting-room waits, ever to help you, a silent, trusty friend, of forty sewing-women power, is wondrously sustaining, isn't it? And while the novelty lasts, at least, a Willcox & Gibbs Sewing-Machine is a great incentive to industry in the family. Restless little girl's delight in a kind of work so exceedingly like play; and boys even take to it, and think it "jolly good sport" to be able to manufacture their own shirts.—Little Pilgrim.

Interesting to Ladies.

The following extracts are from the testimony taken under oath in a recent case pending before the United States Patent office upon the actual merits of the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE, and its relative merits as compared with other machines.

Mrs. Dr. McCready says:

"I have used for nine years a GROVER & BAKER MACHINE, and upon it I have done all kinds of family sewing for the house, for my children and husband, besides a great deal of fancy work, as braiding, quilting, and embroidering. During all that time my machine has never needed repair, except when I had the tension altered, and it is as good now as it was the first day I bought it."

* * * * * * * *

I am acquainted with the work of all the principal machines, including Wheeler & Wilson's, Finkle & Lyon's, Willcox & Gibbs', Ladd & Webster's, the Florence machines, and Sloat's machines, besides a number of the $10 ones; and I prefer the Grover & Baker to them all, because I consider the stitch more elastic. I have work now in the house which was done nine years ago, which is still good; and I have never found any of my friends who have used the other machines able to say the same thing.

Mrs. Dr. Whiting gives the following reasons for the superiority of the Grover & Baker machines over all others.

The elasticity of the stitch, and ripping when it is required: and also the stitch fastening itself, as you leave off; and also the machine may be used for embroidering purposes; and therein consists the superiority over other machines.

The stitch will not break when stretched, as the others do, and neither does it draw the work.

I find this stitch will wear as long as the garments do—outwear the garments, in fact.

I can use it from the thickest woolen cloth to Nansook muslin.

Mrs. Alice B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Mr. Whipple, Secretary of the American Missionary Association, testifies:

Q. As the result of your observation and experience, what machine do you think best as a general family instrument?

A. The Grover & Baker, decidedly.

Q. State the reasons, such of them as occur to you, for this opinion.

A. I think the stitch is a stronger stitch than that of any other machine I have seen used, and it seems to me much more simple in its management than other machines; one great advantage is the ease with which the seam is ripped when necessary to do so; and I think that the work by an experienced person on a Grover & Baker machine is better than work of such person on any other machine; it requires more skill to work other machines than the Grover & Baker.

Mrs. Gen. Buell says she prefers the Grover & Baker machine over all others.

On account of its durability of work, elasticity of stitch, and the strength of stitch. It never rips.

It is preferred over all others; it is very easy in its movements, and very easily adjusted, and very simple in its construction.

We can accomplish more in one week by this sewing-machine than we can in one month by hand-sewing.

Mrs. Dr. Watts says:

I have had several years' experience with a Grover & Baker machine, which has given me great satisfaction. Its chief merit is that it makes a strong elastic stitch; it is very easily kept in order, and worked without much fatigue, which I think is a very great recommendation. I am not very familiar with any other machine, except a Wheeler & Wilson which I have had. I think the Grover & Baker machine is more easily managed, and is less liable to get out of order.

I prefer the Grover & Baker, decidedly.

Mrs. A. B. Spooner says;

I answer conscientiously, I believe it to be the best, all things considered, of any that I have known.

In the first place, it is very simple and easily learned; the sewing from the ordinary spools is a great advantage; the stitch is entirely reliable. It does ornamental work beautifully, and the embroidery stitch. It is not liable to get out of order. It operates very easily. I suppose I can sum it all up by saying it is a perfect machine.

I have had occasion to compare the work with that of other machines. The result was always favorable to the Grover & Baker machine.

Mrs. Dr. Andrews testifies:

I prefer it to all other machines I have known anything about, for the ease and simplicity with which it operates and is managed; for the perfect elasticity of the stitch; the ease with which the work can be ripped, if desired, and still retain its strength when the thread is cut or accidentally broken; its adaptation to different kinds of work, from fine to coarse, without change of needle or tension.

Mrs. Maria J. Keane, of the house of Natalie, Tillman & Co., says:

Mrs. Jennie C. Croly (Jennie June) says;

I prefer it to any machine. I like the Grover & Baker machine in the first place because if I had any other I should still want a Grover & Baker; and having a Grover & Baker it answers the purpose of all the rest. It does a greater variety of work, and it is easier to learn than any other. I like the stitch because of its beauty and strength, and because, although it can be taken out, it don't rip, not even by cutting every other stitch.

The foregoing testimony establishes beyond question

First. The great simplicity and ease of management of the Grover & Baker machines.

Second. That they are not liable to get out of repair.

Third. That a greater variety of work can be done with them than with other machines.

Fourth. That the elasticity of the stitch causes the work to last longer, look neater, and wear better than work done on other machines.

Fifth. That the facility with which any part of a seam can be removed when desired is a great advantage.

Sixth. That the seam will retain its strength even when cut or broken at intervals.

Seventh. That besides doing all varieties of work done by other Sewing Machines, these machines execute beautiful embroidery.

Over one hundred other witnesses in the case above referred to testified to the superiority of the Grover & Baker Machines in the points named in substantially the same language, and thousands of letters have been received from all parts of the world stating the same facts. We subjoin two as specimens:

Ten Cents Expense in Nine Years!

WASHINGTON, April 28, 1866.

Messrs. Grover & Baker.

GENTLEMEN: I have long thought that in justice to the excellence of your "Sewing Machine," it was my duty to inform you that NINE YEARS since I purchased one from your agent in this city, and that I have had it in constant use since that time, and during the entire period the expense, aside from a few needles, has been TEN CENTS, to keep it in perfect repair.

I give the above as evidence of the superiority of your machines over others, because I have used those made by other parties, but with little satisfaction.

M. E. WILSON.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSES FOR THE BLIND,
NO. 500 NEW OXFORD-ST., LONDON,
Aug. 11, 1866.

I have much pleasure of informing you of the success which has attended our efforts to teach blind females to use your sewing machines.

The women belonging to our sewing-machine class are able to execute stitching, hemming and tucking with the greatest of ease by your machines, and we cannot speak too highly of its adaptation to the use of the blind, and which is attributable especially to the simplicity of its construction, the regularity of the tension, and the saving of time, occupied with other machines in filling of spools and fastening of ends, the last-named advantage being of great importance to the blind.

Indeed, it is not too much to say that your machine possesses advantages for the blind, which we have not found in any of those by five other manufacturers which we have tried, and which has led us to set aside NINE other machines and to adopt yours exclusively.

Your obedient servant,
K. MOORE, Secretary.

To Advertisers.

Merchants, manufacturers, inventors, real estate owners, schools, and all others who desire to reach customers in all parts of the country, as well as in the City, will find it to their interest to advertise in
THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

The circulation of THE TRIBUNE is larger than that of any other newspaper, and it is read by the most enterprising, thrifty and industrious classes. Advertisements inserted in each of the editions of THE TRIBUNE—DAILY, SEMI-WEEKLY and WEEKLY—will be read by nearly a million of people, and no investment pays a business man so well as the money he spends in judicious advertising. The investigation by the Mayor and Comptroller of the City resulted in naming the DAILY TRIBUNE as being one of the two papers having the largest daily circulation, and its weekly edition is acknowledged to be far greater than that of any other newspaper.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE is read by enterprising and intelligent business men and their families, and those who make known their wants through its columns will reach the very best classes of buyers.

RATES OF ADVERTISING IN THE NEW-YORK DAILY TRIBUNE.
Ordinary advertisements, classified under appropriate heads, TWENTY CENTS per line each insertion.
(ABOUT TEN WORDS AVERAGE A LINE.)
THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
ONE DOLLAR per line each insertion.
SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
TWENTY-FIVE CENTS per line each insertion.

The circulation of THE TRIBUNE has increased over one hundred and forty thousand copies since the first of August. This is an interesting fact to advertisers.

Address THE TRIBUNE,

THE EXTRA TRIBUNE
FOR THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

A political struggle, rarely surpassed in importance or intensity, has been precipitated on the country by the treachery of Andrew Johnson and some of his official or personal adherents to the great and patriotic party by which they were intrusted with power.

The aim of this treachery is to put the steadfast loyalists of the South under the feet of the "whipped but not subdued" rebels, and to enable the latter to glut their vengeance on the former, whom they hate and curse as responsible for the most unexpected overthrow of their darling "Confederacy."

The recent wholesale massacres at Memphis and New-Orleans were but conspicuous manifestations of the spirit now rampant in the South, whereof the pro-rebel triumph in Kentucky is a more recent example. The soldiers of Lee, Beauregard, Johnston and Hood are now the dominant power from the Potomac to the Rio Grande; they elect each other to office in preference even to stay-at-home rebels; they have supplanted nearly all others as policemen of Southern cities; they are organized and officered as State militia; and they ruthlessly crush every demonstration of loyal whites or loyal blacks in assertion of the EQUAL RIGHTS of AMERICAN FREEMEN. The school-houses of the blacks are burned and their white teachers subjected to violence and outrage by unchanged rebels, who relieve the work of murder and arson by cheers for Andy Johnson and execrations of Congress.

The purpose of forcing representatives of the Rebel States into Congress, in defiance of the loyal oath, by Presidential fiat and military power, is openly avowed, with threats that those who resist it shall be treated as rebels, and a civil war thus kindled throughout the North and West.

It has thus become imperative that those who stand for LIBERTY and LOYALTY—for the right of the UNION to exist and of MAN to be FREE—should organize and work to strengthen the hands of CONGRESS for the inevitable contest before us.

We must convince the SOUTH and the COPPERHEADS that revolutions go not backward—that Emancipation is an unchangeable fact—that the glorious CIVIL RIGHTS Act can never be repealed—that the rights of the humblest AMERICAN are henceforth guaranteed and shielded by the FEDERAL CONSTITUTION and must be maintained against all gainsayers—that the days wherein BLACKS had no rights which WHITES were bound to respect have passed away forever.

We hold to-day the power in all the FREE STATES of 1860, in WEST VIRGINIA, and in MISSOURI beside. We must hold these in our ensuing elections, and add to them MARYLAND and DELAWARE—the former lost to us through treachery, otherwise Johnsonism. We must elect to the XLth Congress an overwhelming majority devoted to Loyalty, Nationality, and the inalienable Rights of Man.

To this end, let Light and Truth be systematically diffused to every neighborhood, every fireside, throughout our broad country.

To this end, we propose an extra issue of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE (identical in size and contents with the regular edition,) which we will supply on the following terms, the paper to be sent and subscriptions to commence on receipt of the money:

2 copies for three months	$1
12 copies for three months	5
26 copies for three months	10
60 copies for three months	20
100 copies for three months	30

PAYABLE ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE.

THE BALL MOVES ON.

The following are a portion of the subscription letters received on Wednesday and Thursday:

WELLSVILLE, ALLEGANY Co., N. Y., Sept. 11, 1866.—Inclosed you will find a draft for $30, for which you will send to me at this office 100 copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE, making in all 150 copies for Wellsville. Mr. Johnson proposes to leave the issues between him and Congress to the People—it is well. Let us circulate the evidence, so that they can decide it understandingly, and then I hope that he will abide by their decision.
Yours, respectfully, L. D. DAVIS.

NEW-WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 7.—Inclosed please find $5 for 12 copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE (CAMPAIGN) for three months. I am an old subscriber, and have induced these men to send for your valuable paper, which is now dearer to me than ever before. We now see the need of such doctrine as you promulgate through THE TRIBUNE. Go on in the good work, and may God assist you to do it faithfully to the end. Address the club to me. J. B. STEWART.

VIENNA, Sept. 9—Inclosed please receive $7, for which please send me as many copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE as that will pay for, which I suppose will pay for 17 copies, lacking a fraction, according to your advertisement. When you send me the paper next Thursday please let me know whether I can send for more at the same rate, commencing after the 12th inst. This is the work of 15 minutes' time in the boat-yard. I intend to get more when I have time to attend to it, for I consider THE TRIBUNE the only paper published in the country that defends the Rights of Man, and all other moral reforms. Hoping and praying by distributing the same, it will be the means of opening the eyes of those who sit in political darkness by the influence of that infernal "My Policy." Yours, with respect for the Freedom of Man. JOHN W. EVANS.

RENSSELAER COUNTY, New-York.—Please find inclosed check for 30 numbers of your campaign paper, which you will forward as soon as convenient. I am now P. M., but expect soon to be a dead duck. Well, let it come. There is not a Union man in Old Nassau that is not disgusted with Brownlow's dead dog, and will be willing to work harder than ever to secure a Union victory. Our town is good for 200 majority in the right direction. Yours, D. LEWIS, P. M.

PACIFIC, Franklin County, Mo., Sept. 10.—When John Brown was executed I was in Chattanooga, Tenn. The sentiment then expressed among planters was that "Your Honor" might be the next to "swing." One ventured to say as much under my own roof. I dared not reply for fear of the consequences, but know that he was at that time one of your subscribers, to excuse which he said: "I will do him the credit of saying THE TRIBUNE is the ablest paper published." I believe your paper would do good here in our midst. Inclosed please find four ($4) dollars. I wish the SEMI-WEEKLY for one year. Let it commence so as to include the contents of WEEKLY of Sept. 5. Respectfully,
C. S. BARRETT,
Telegraph-Operator and (Radical.)

RUSHFORD, All. Co., N. Y., Sept. 10.—We were subscribers and readers of THE DAILY TIMES for a number of years, but last Winter we became disgusted with that and subscribed for one year to The Daily Herald—being certain what to expect from that paper, we preferred it to the TIMES. We stood The Herald during the Winter, through the Session of Congress, and even through the Rebel Convention at Philadelphia; but the "Presidential tour is too much for us, and we cave. If you know of any good honest Democrat you can recommend to us, we will have the balance of our subscription to The Herald sent to him, and if it don't make him a Republican before the President returns to Washington, then we think he ought to be turned over to Ben. Butler or some other man who "knows" that the chivalry can be governed. Inclosed find $5 for which send us THE DAILY TRIBUNE, and oblige yours, NORTON & ELMER.

HOMER, Cortlandt Co., N. Y., Sept. 12.—I take much pleasure in inclosing a draft on New-York to you for which please forward 102 copies of your CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE, commencing with the week ending on the 8th inst. I shall be able to add more numbers to this list before the close of the week.
Yours for the cause, CHAS. O. NEWTON.

HORSE HEADS, Chemung Co., Sept. 10.—Inclosed find draft for $30 for 100 copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE. The Union Radical Republicans of Chemung are awake, and determined, if possible, to defeat the combined Copperheads and Copper-Johnsonites. There are but few of the supporters of LINCOLN who have left us, and that few are either small office-holders or disappointed office-seekers, and have no influence. This is true to a man. The rural districts are sound to the core, and more earnest than in the election of 1864. The returns from Maine and Vermont cheer and encourage us.
Yours truly, P. WINTERMUTE.

ALFRED, N. Y., Sept. 10.—If you are in favor of treason being made odious, and traitors taking back seats, you may forward to my address 27 copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE, for which find inclosed $10 40, with three hearty cheers for Congress.
Respectfully yours, WM. R. BURDICK, P. M.

LIMA, Sept. 10.—I send you $10 more for THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE. You have sent me 26; now you will please send me 34 more, which make up the 60, according to your terms. Send the back numbers from Aug. 29, 1866. Please send them on the receipt of this letter. I shall send you the other $10, which will make up the whole number of 100 which I promised as soon as Johnson removed me from the Post-office. I wish to leave a good number of Radical newspapers for him to circulate. Yours, &c., IRA GODFREY, P. M.

HOPKINTON, Mass., Sept. 12.—Inclosed I send you cashier's check for thirty dollars ($30,) in payment for 100 copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE. Please send by mail to my address. I may wish to add to the number, as we did not commence to canvass until to-day.
Yours, truly, A. A. SWEET.

SCOTIA, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Inclosed please find certified check of $30 for 100 copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE. There have been no TRIBUNES received at this office for several years, but there are now indications of a much better state of things. Send this week's issue, as subscribers are becoming impatient.
Very respectfully, E. Z. CARPENTER.

FULTON, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Inclosed please find a check for $36, for which you will please send me 100 copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE, commencing with the present week. This is the way we intend to help Andy's policy. Yours, &c., L. D. PERRY.

OAKFIELD, GENESEE COUNTY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Inclosed find draft for $30, for which forward to my address 100 copies CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE.
Respectfully, C. H. CHAMBERLIN, P. M.

ELYRIA, Ohio, Sept. 8.—Inclosed I hand you draft for $39. Send 130 copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE to E. C. Griswold, at Elyria, Ohio. The people seem anxious to vote. It will thunder on the Western Reserve on election day. We do not support Vallandigham or any of his associates. Truly yours, J. H. BAYNTON.

RUSHFORD, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Please find inclosed draft for $35, for which please send to my address 100 copies of your CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE for three months and one copy of THE DAILY TRIBUNE for six months. Please send them immediately, or have them commence this week, if you can. Yours truly, J. G. OSBORNE.

HAMDEN, Sept. 12.—Inclosed find a draft for $30, 100 subscriptions from the little town of Hamden for THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE. Although we have several subscribers to the DAILY TRIBUNE, and a large number to SEMI-WEEKLY and WEEKLY, there has not been the slightest difficulty in obtaining, on very short notice, the subscriptions here forwarded. A large proportion of the inhabitants of our town are thrifty and intelligent Scotch who have been since the organization of the Republican Party so unanimous in its support as to make this the banner Republican town of Delaware County. The miscegenation party of President Johnson, which he is trying to make popular by a crusade to the tomb of Douglas, and to strengthen by demoralizing the people he so dearly loves, has not only failed as far as heard from, to draw from the Republican ranks of this town one single indorser of the "my policy" platform; but, on the contrary, has already made several proselytes, who will give us their votes at the coming election.
Yours truly, W. N. GOLDEN.

GENESEO, N. Y., Sept. 10, 1866.—Inclosed please find draft for $36, for which please send 120 copies CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE. We know of but three men in this town who have been Republicans who now support Johnson's policy, and we know more than twice that number who will vote our ticket for the first time, this Fall—men who have always, heretofore, voted the "Democratic ticket."
Yours, A. LAPHAM.

NEW-HAMBURGH, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Please find inclosed check for $30, subscription price for 100 copies CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE for three months, which you will be kind enough to send to the address below.
Very truly yours,
J. TALMAGE VAN RENSSELAER.

NEW-LEBANON SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Inclosed find check on Pittsfield National Bank for $30, for which please send to my address 100 copies of THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE for three months. Yours truly,
H. D. GAY, P. M.

NEW-CASTLE, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Inclosed please find $50 for 100 copies WEEKLY TRIBUNE for the campaign. Address N. A. BANKS, New-Castle, Westchester Co., N. Y. If not asking too much, it would be a great favor if you would send 30 copies of the above to Mt. Kisco. Yours very respectfully. WM. BANKS.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Sept. 9.—I herewith send you $10. I want you to send 26 copies of the TRIBUNE to some place where in your judgment they will do the most damage to "my policy" and advance the cause of right. Hoping that the cause of right may prevail, I remain yours, &c.,
J. J. BURGESS.

CENTRAL BRIDGE, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The Philadelphia Convention, the President's electioneering tour, his speeches and his treachery to the party that elected him to office, fail to draw Union men to the hybrid concern known as the Johnson party, even in this stronghold of Secession Democrats. On the contrary, it only serves to stimulate the lovers of the Union and liberty to extra exertion for the success of our ticket, and we have no doubt of our final triumph. I purpose distributing a number of CAMPAIGN TRIBUNES among those who take no papers, and some who do, and others who are lukewarm or doubtful, knowing that it must do good. I have a list of 17, and may increase the number from time to time. You will find inclosed $7, for which please send the papers, and oblige yours respectfully,
JOHN H. HOUCK.
Postmaster, Central Bridge, Schoharie County, N. Y.

Aye! aye! Captain. You were the first man to send a club for 150. How many more clubs do you propose to send?—ED. TRIB.

NO. 306 CHESTNUT-ST., PHILADELPHIA,
AND FOR SALE BY ALL BOOKSELLERS:

OUT OF THE DEPTHS: THE STORY OF A WOMAN'S LIFE. "A Woman's Story and a Woman's Book." A powerful novel. Complete in one large duodecimo volume. Price $1 50 in paper, or $2 in cloth.

"A woman's story and a woman's book, 'Out of the Depths' will interest many and terrify some; but it can disgust none, for it is a book written with a tender and delicate hand. It is the old terrible tale of suffering, sin and shame; the old cry of anguish sweeping up from the abysses of human degradation and spiritual death; the old plague-spot laid bare to the eyes of man, to see if perchance there may be wise and clever physicians who can heal it."—London Literary Gazette.

MORETON HALL; OR, THE SPIRITS IN A HAUNTED HOUSE. A True Tale in Real Life. One volume, octavo. Price 50 cents.

"Moreton Hall" is the title of an exceedingly interesting volume, which we have read with more than ordinary pleasure. The style is elegant, the story which involves a succession of mysterious and supposed ghosts, is well developed, and the scene and character-painting full of spirit, the whole interest of the work being concentrated upon five or six persons, who are thoroughly and happily contrasted to the end.

A WOMAN'S THOUGHTS ABOUT WOMEN. By Miss MULOCK, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," "Agatha's Husband," "Olive," "The Ogilvies," &c., being a companion to "Self-Love"; or, The Afternoon of Single-Life." Complete in one large duodecimo volume. Price $1 50 in paper, or $2 in cloth.

THE NEW AMERICAN ROMANCE.
PUBLISHED THIS MORNING.
Large octavo, very beautifully illustrated by the best American artists,
THE DEAD LETTER.

It is one of those stories that literally absorbs all the powers and passions of the reader. Differently from the "Anatomy of Melancholy," which Dr. Johnson said took him out of bed an hour before he wanted to rise, this will not allow the reader to sleep till he has finished it.—Brattleboro (Vt.) Record.

"Far ahead of any work of fiction yet given in our literature."—Lowell (Mich.) Journal.

"One of the best stories ever written in the American language."—Peru (Ind.) Republican.

It is to be pronounced the great American romance, as it is conceded, we believe, to be one of the most powerful and beautifully written romances yet produced in America.—Westchester (Penn.) Record.

It is unquestionably one of the finest productions in American fiction—one which proves that it is unnecessary to go to Great Britain for works of the noblest order. Its interest, its power, its beauty, increase in a sustained climax to the end; and it must assume its place in modern romance as one of the most remarkable recent compositions.

For sale by all newsdealers; or sent, post-paid, on receipt of price—50 cents.

"His story, vaguely understood and imperfectly apprehended [illegible], now stands out in clear and pathetic relief [illegible] in the whole range of lives of authors and genius."—Boston Transcript.

CHARLES LAMB:
A MEMOIR.
BY BARRY CORNWALL.

"Full of grace and sweet thought, and grave, glad memories and deep earnestness."—Athenæum.

"Very full, very clear, and very free from all the defects of modern biographies."—Spectator.

"Strength of simplicity, with fine perception of the beauties of life, and delicate skill in expression, give a rare charm to this memoir of Charles Lamb."—Examiner.

These bonds dated June 1, 1866, have thirty years to run, and are secured by a first mortgage and deed of trust to D. R. MARTIN, President Ocean National Bank, and ROBERT TURNER, of Turner Brothers, No. 14 Nassau-st. Principal and interest payable in gold. The interest payable half-yearly at the Ocean National Bank on the 1st days of June and December.

This is believed to be the very best opportunity now offered for investment: this road, now rapidly approaching completion, being the main artery of communication between Washington and Richmond, and consequently between the Northern and Southern States, is seventy miles shorter than the route now in use, which is 171 miles in length.

BONDS.

STATE OF GEORGIA

20-YEAR 7 PER CENT. COUPON BONDS, SECURED BY MORTGAGE OF THE WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD.

The undersigned, agent of the State of Georgia, offers for sale a limited amount of the above-named Bonds, having twenty years to run; coupons payable in this City Jan. 1 and July 1 in each year. These Bonds are issued in sums of one thousand dollars, with interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum.

The State of Georgia, besides pledging its faith for the redemption of these Bonds and payment of the interest, has executed to three Trustees, George B. Carhart and Robert H. Lowry, of the City of New-York, and Jeremiah Beall, of the City of Milledgeville, State of Georgia, a first and only mortgage upon the Western and Atlantic Railroad as a corporation. On failure of the State to redeem said Bonds at maturity, or in case default shall be made in the payment of any half year's interest on any of the aforesaid Bonds, and such default shall continue for the period of six months after the said coupons shall become due and payable, then and thereupon the principal of the Bonds secured thereby shall become immediately due and payable, and the said Trustees may proceed to foreclose and enforce said mortgage lien, at the request of the holders of said Bonds.

The Western and Atlantic Railroad is 137 miles long, running from Atlanta, Ga., to Chattanooga, Tenn., making close connections with other railroads to the Southern Atlantic cities, the Northern and Eastern cities, Gulf of Mexico, Mississippi and Ohio Rivers, thus rendering it an exceedingly valuable and productive property. For many and important reasons these Bonds commend themselves to investors and capitalists as a certain and reliable security.

Circulars containing full particulars will be furnished, and inquiries will be answered at the National Bank of the Republic, in this City, by

T. W. CHICHESTER,
Agent of the State of Georgia.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 31, 1866.

THE STATE OF GEORGIA proposes to fund its past due bonded debt on the following basis, viz.: It will exchange its new Seven per Cent. Bonds, dated July 1, 1866, for its matured Bonds and Coupons, interest on the new Bonds from that date accruing to holders of Bonds and Coupons so funded. Due notice will be given of time and place of exchange.

JOHN JONES,
Treasurer of the State of Georgia.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 31, 1866.

MORRIS AND ESSEX RAILROAD

7 Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds,
FOR SALE BY
C. S. ROBBINS & SON,
NO. 54 WILLIAM-ST.

£200,000 OR $1,000,000
OF THE
FIRST MORTGAGE, LAND GRANT, SINKING FUND BONDS
OF THE
ST. CROIX AND LAKE SUPERIOR RAILROAD COMPANY,
Indorsed by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of the City of New-York.
£200 STERLING EACH, DUE JAN. 1, 1900.
Interest 7 per cent, free of Government tax.
Coupons due January and July all payable in gold, at the City Bank, in London. Coupons payable in gold at the office of the Company, in the City of New-York, at the option of the holder.

This road, extending from St. Paul, on the Mississippi, and Hudson, on Lake St. Croix, (a branch of the Mississippi,) to Superior and Bayfield, the two important points on Lake Superior; Superior being about the same distance from Buffalo, by water, that Chicago is; and Bayfield about the same distance from Buffalo that Milwaukee is,—makes this Line for an outlet of the products of Northwestern Wisconsin, Minnesota, and portions of Iowa, via Lake Superior, an important one,—as it saves Minnesota nearly three hundred miles, and the other States mentioned an average of about two hundred miles in transportation, and a saving of nearly one-fifth of the value of their products in freight. It is believed that the earnings of the road will prove largely remunerative, independent of the land grant of 6,400 acres, or ten square miles per mile of road, given by Congress. The Chief Engineer's estimate of the net earnings, when the road is finished to the Lake, is over a million and a quarter per annum.

The Company has made a mortgage to secure the payment of £1,300,000, First Mortgage Land Grant Sinking Fund, Seven per Cent. Bonds of £200 sterling each, free of Government tax; principal due Jan. 1, 1900; interest coupons due January and July in each year—both payable at the City Bank of London, in gold, or at the office of the Company in the City of New-York, in gold coin, at the option of the holder. The bonds are deliverable to bearer, or they can be registered on the books of the Company.

The legislation has been examined by Samuel J. Tilden & Andrew H. Green, and Messrs. Emmons & Van Dyke, of Milwaukee, and approved of, and their certificates are attached to the legislation set forth in the Company's pamphlet. The trust deed or mortgage and bonds were prepared by Samuel J. Tilden & Andrew H. Green. One million dollars of these bonds are now offered for sale, and every precaution has been taken to render the principal and interest secure to the bondholders, to wit.:

First—The mortgage covers the roadbed, equipment, lands amounting to 1,504,000 acres, granted by the Government, city property, and all property now owned by the Company, or that may hereafter be acquired by them.

Second—By an arrangement with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, of the City of New-York, whereby they indorse these bonds, promising to pay them at maturity.

Third—By another arrangement with said Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, whereby they agree to pay the three coupons falling due, pending the construction of the unfinished portion of the road to the lake.

Fourth—The proceeds of sales of lands are paid into the Trustee's hands, on account of the interest and principal of these bonds.

Fifth—William H. Swift, Samuel J. Tilden and Andrew H. Green, will act as Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders, and the avails of the Bonds sold are to be paid to them in trust, to be by them disbursed, upon such vouchers as they may deem sufficient and satisfactory, for work done and materials furnished in and about the construction and equipment of the Road, and for such other expenses of the Company as the said Trustees may deem proper to be paid.

The following extract is from a recent report made by Jno. C. Campbell, Esq., Chief Engineer:

"I would respectfully urge upon the Company the desirableness of completing forty miles of road from Hudson northward, and equipping the same for business. This length of road completed will extend ten miles into the timber, giving great value to our lands, now much sought for, and enable us to cut and bring to the lake a portion of the timber with which these lands are covered. Good pine logs are to-day worth $18 per M. B. M. in Lake St. Croix, and if our road to-day was completed and fully equipped for forty miles, I do not think I exaggerate in saying that we could earn $1,000 per day net in carrying out our lumber, together with the local business to be done upon this portion of the road.

$800,000 will complete and equip the first forty miles, much of this part of the line being already graded.

I am satisfied by further examination, that the estimate of earnings for the road, when completed through to the lake, made by me in February last, will be fully realized. The wheat crop of Minnesota for this year is estimated at 16,000,000 bushels."

The price of the bonds is par and accrued interest in currency.

Drafts on New-York, current funds or Government obligations (the highest price will be allowed for the latter) may be sent to us at our expense, when the bonds will be sent by express, free of charge, to the purchaser.

It is the intention to place the securities of this Company upon the Brokers Board as soon as 40 miles of road are ready for operation.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS—3-3D ACT. Notice first published July 16, 1866. You will please take notice, that on the 14th day of July, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, an order was granted by Honorable William S. Paddock, Recorder of the City of Albany, on the petition of William G. Boardman and James A. Gray, of the City of Albany, County of Albany, and State of New-York, insolvent debtors, and so many of their and each of their creditors residing within the United States, whose debts amounted to at least two-thirds of all the debts owing by the said William J. Boardman and James A. Gray respectively to creditors residing within the United States, requiring all the creditors of the said William G. Boardman and of the said James A. Gray, to show cause before him at his office, No. 51 State-st., in the City of Albany, on the twenty-fourth day of September, 1866, at nine o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why an assignment of the estate of the said William G. Boardman and of the said James A. Gray should not be made, and they and each of them be discharged from his debts, pursuant to the provisions of the third article of the fifth chapter of the first title of the second part of the Revised Statutes.—Dated Albany, July 14, 1866.

Applications for admission to the free night school of science and art, of which Prof. JOSEPH G. FOX is principal, will be received at the office till Oct. 1, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, from 7½ to 9.
Applications for admission to the free day school of art for women, of which Dr. W. RIMMER has been appointed principal, may be made at the office daily from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., and at the school on and after Sept. 24 from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M.
The reading-room is now open to the public, both day and evening, without any restriction whatever.
The orpheon free chorister class will hold its sessions during the day, and is limited to ladies and girls over 8, and boys between 8 and 14 years of age. The former will meet on Mondays and Thursdays at 4 P. M., and the latter on Tuesdays and Fridays, at the same hour. Applications for admission must be made during the last week in September, on the above mentioned days.
All necessary books and materials for drawing, including instruments, can be obtained at the office on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.
The public are admitted to the lectures on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, but must enter before 7¾ P. M.
The cardinal idea of the institution being to improve and educate the working classes, the Trustees cordially invite the youth of the city, and the public generally, to avail themselves of the liberal provision which has been made for their improvement.
By order of the Trustees.
ABRAM S. HEWITT, Secretary.

FRENCH AND ENGLISH SELECT PROTESTANT SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.—Mlle. ROSTAN, having entirely recovered her health, will reopen her school on TUESDAY, the 2d of October next. Mlle. Rostan spent most of the past year in making herself thoroughly acquainted with the improvements lately introduced in the present system of education in Europe; making large additions to her library, securing valuable apparatus, &c. She therefore returns, not only with renewed health, but, as she trusts, with increased abilities to secure the advancement of her pupils.
The course of instruction, thorough and comprehensive, is designed to combine a finished English education with the practical knowledge of the French and other modern languages. Special advantages will also be enjoyed in Music, Drawing and Painting, and classes, under the best teachers, will be formed at once on the plan adopted in Paris in the "Conservatoire" and the "Ecole des Beaux Arts."
A limited number of young ladies will be received in the family and welcomed to share in all the comforts and privileges of a pleasant home.
The location, one of the most desirable in the City, will be made known the 15th of September, when Mlle. Rostan will be home to receive applications personally; till then, all letters to be addressed to Miss L. F. ROSTAN, Box No. 4,165 General Post-office, New-York City. Circulars sent if desired.

PROPOSALS.

ARMY SUPPLIES.

OFFICE OF ASSISTANT COMMISSARY-GENERAL OF SUBSISTENCE, }
NO. 4 STATE-ST., NEW-YORK, Sept. 14, 1866. }

Sealed proposals (in duplicate) will be received by the undersigned until 1 o'clock P. M. on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 19, for supplying, for the use of the United States Army, SUBSISTENCE STORES, to be delivered in New-York or Brooklyn, as follows, viz.:

10,000 pounds PLUG TOBACCO, three-quarters in half-boxes and one-quarter in quarter-boxes, of a grade not inferior to the grade commonly known as "Navy Plug;" each plug to weigh, as nearly as possible, one (1) pound. It will only be purchased "tax paid."

Boxes to be of the best kind, made for the purpose.

Samples of the Tobacco must be delivered with the proposals and referred to therein.

The tare of each package of Tobacco purchased must be carefully ascertained, and with the gross and net weight marked thereon. It will be verified by stripping a sufficient number of boxes, and the Tobacco inspected and compared with the retained samples at the time of delivery.

A printed copy of this advertisement must be attached to each proposal, and the proposals must be specific in complying precisely with all the terms. Each bid, to have consideration, must contain the written guaranty of two responsible names as follows:

"We, the undersigned, hereby guaranty that, should all or any part of the above bid be accepted, it shall be duly fulfilled according to its true purport and conditions; also, that a written contract, with bonds to the amount of one-fourth of the value of the stores proposed to be furnished, shall be executed if required."

The seller's name, place of business and the date of purchase, as well as the name of contents, with shipping marks to be hereafter designated, must be plainly marked on every package.

Payment will be made in currency or its equivalent, as soon as funds are received for the purpose.

Contractors are expected to hold their goods without expense to the United States until required for shipment.

MRS. W. H. MAXWELL, FEMALE PHYsician, does not humbug with medicine. 6 Greene-st.

MANY THOUSANDS ARE RUINED BEYOND REDEMPTION in this life by not calling on Dr. HUNTER sooner or later. He can cure the worst cases of secret disease in a shorter time than any other physician, or no pay taken. Skeptics and doubters will please call and read hundreds of reliable certificates of cures made within the last thirty years of almost hopeless cases, that had had the benefit of dozens of our most eminent physicians and surgeons. Dr. Hunter is in constant attendance from 8 in the morning till 9 at night, at his old office, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, since 1834. Charges moderate, and a cure guaranteed. Separate rooms, so that the patient sees no one but the Doctor himself. His wonderful medical discovery, DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures private diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, and possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless this remedy is used. This is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. $2 per vial. Book, 50 pages, gratis, on nervous debility, causes of impotency, marasmus, &c.

THE OTERO MURDER.

Re-sentence of Gonzales and Pellicier—They will be Hanged on the 14th of October.

The anticipated result has attended the appeal of the counsel for GONZALES and PELLICIER, the unfortunate Spaniards who, for a mere song, murdered a fellow countryman—a stranger who had taken kindly notice of them in their poverty, and aided them in their distress. It will be remembered that at the last term of the Court of Appeals, the conviction of GONZALES and PELLICIER, by the Kings County Court of Oyer and Terminer, was confirmed, and at the same time the conviction of BERNARD FRIERY, for the murder of HARRY LAZARUS, and FERRIS, convicted of the murder of his mistress, were also confirmed, and sentence of each directed to be carried into effect. In pursuance of that decision FRIERY was executed a short time since in New-York, and FERRIS, who was to have been executed at the same time, was reprieved for a short time. As the General Term in the Second Judicial District did not meet until Monday, GONZALES and PELLICIER were suffered to outlive FRIERY. On the 10th inst., the Supreme Court of the Second District organized at Newburgh, Judge SCHRUGHAM presiding, when District-Attorney MORRIS filed the remittitur from the Court of Appeals, and moved that writs of habeas corpus be issued to the Sheriff of this County, directing him to produce the bodies of GONZALES and PELLICIER before the Court, in order that the decision of the Court of Appeals might be carried into effect. The warrants were made returnable on the 13th inst., at 11 A. M. The warrants were served on the Sheriff by the District-Attorney in person, and at 6 o'clock yesterday morning two carriages started to the jail in Raymond-street. In the first carriage were the prisoners, GONZALES and PELLICIER, who were shackled together, and Deputy-Sheriff TUCKNER and Officer MURPHY, of the District-Attorney's office, together with Mr. SANSONI, the Court interpreter, and EDWARD PAU, one of the principal witnesses in the case, who was taken along at the request of the prisoners. The other carriage contained District-Attorney MORRIS, Sheriff MCNAMEE and Assistant District-Attorney JAMES TROY, Esq. After getting to the railroad depot the prisoners were transferred to the cars, which started at 7:20, and arrived at Newburgh before 9. On the way the prisoners seemed to be in the best of spirits, and laughed and talked with their companions as though death in its most humiliating form was not so soon to claim them as its victims. On arriving at Newburgh the prisoners were taken to a hotel, where they ate a hearty breakfast of tea and toast. In the meantime the news of their arrival had spread on "lightning wings" through the city, and in a short time the hotel was surrounded by an immense throng of people, anxious to get a sight of the prisoners, whose crime created so much excitement at the time of its commission. Shortly before 11 o'clock the prisoners, guarded by the above-named officers and accompanied by the Sheriff, District-Attorney and Assistant District-Attorney, were placed in carriages and taken to the Court, followed by thousands of the citizens of Newburgh, who were anxious to witness the proceedings. It should be remarked here that at the hotel the unfortunate men were joined by ALEX. MCCUE, Esq., their counsel, who, although he withdrew from the active management of the case in a former stage, has continued to manifest the utmost interest in the prisoners and do all he could for their welfare.

On being taken into Court, Sheriff MCNAMEE promptly made his return to the writ of habeas corpus, and produced the prisoners before the bar of the Court.

The District-Attorney then moved that the Court fix a time for the execution of the prisoners, in accordance with the finding of the Court of Appeals.

The Court, through Mr. SANSONI, the interpreter, then asked the prisoners in turn if there was any legal reason why the Court should not proceed to fix a day for their execution.

The only answer made by the prisoners was a negative shake of the head, and Judge SCHRUGHAM then sentenced them to be hung on the above date.

During the delivery of the sentence, which was interpreted to the prisoners by Mr. SANSONI, they maintained the utmost composure, not a muscle of their faces showing any emotion.

After the sentence, GONZALES remarked in an under-tone to PELLICIER, "If I had been in your place at the time I was arrested, I would have got the worst murderer (meaning VILA) arrested." PELLICIER said nothing in reply. After the sentence the prisoners were taken back to the hotel where they had dinner, and were then conveyed back to Brooklyn, arriving at 5 on Thursday evening.

Everything has been done for these men that could be done by ingenious and able counsel, but all in vain, the circumstantial evidence was too strong, and before it their case fell to the ground. GONZALES is a man of much firmness and determination of character, and has devoted himself of late to the necessary preparations for death. PELLICIER is weak, mentally and morally, and with a carelessness that is really painful, fails to appreciate the gravity of his position at times, and at others is utterly broken by the prospect before him.

Sheriff MCNAMEE has been very kind to them, but in consequence of certain information has been compelled to guard them very closely. They have no friends, cannot speak our language and would have been utterly helpless had not their counsel generously volunteered by request of the Court to attend to them. GONZALES is said to have a wife in Spain—he denies it, however; PELLICIER is a Catalan and has no family. He has, however, attracted the attention of a woman at the jail, whose correspondence as published in the Eagle a few days since is at once amatory and religious in its tone.

All hope is now gone, and preparations will at once be made for the execution of the sentence above indicated.

VILA, the third man of the trio with whom Mr. OTERO was last seen alive, is still confined at the Brooklyn Jail, although no charge is made against him, and no suspicion rests upon him, so far as the public is informed. There are rumors to the effect that District Attorney MORRIS, to whose skill, energy and persistent labor these men were arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced, is convinced that he might yet obtain further facts concerning the murder, for which purpose he deems it best to retain VILA.

RADICAL RATIFICATION MEETING.

Speeches of Gen. John Cochran, Hon. Horace Greeley, and Others.

The weather is no more a respecter of political parties than it is of persons, and the sun shines, and the wind blows, and the rain falls alike upon Democrats, Conservatives and Radicals. Two weeks ago, when the Conservative soldiers and sailors wanted to assemble in mass meeting at Union-square, the rain fell in torrents, the anticipated crowd couldn't assemble, the speakers couldn't speak, the band couldn't play, and the tar-barrels couldn't burn. Last night the Radical soldiers and sailors wanted a mass meeting, but the rain descended quite as determinedly upon their heads as it had previously upon their opponents. Learning a lesson, however, from the fiasco of their former companions, but now their political enemies, the Radicals secured Clinton Hall wherein to do their talking, determined, at least, to keep dry, even if they couldn't get quite as much enthusiasm as was wanted.

The call for the meeting stated that the object of assembling was to "ratify the Syracuse nominations and to elect delegates to the Syracuse Convention, to be held on the 20th inst. It also stated that several Major-Generals, two or three Colonels and several Honorables would address the meeting, and also that the nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, STEWART L. WOODFORD, would be present and offer a few remarks. This letter gentleman sent a letter of regrets, stating that he was engaged to speak elsewhere.

As is usual at all political gatherings, no matter whether composed of "Radical Disunionists" or "Conservative Traitors"—as they are respectively called by their antagonists—the Stars and Stripes were called into service to decorate the stage and surround the speakers with a halo of patriotism. A brass band was in attendance, and long before the hour announced for assembling, discoursed sundry national and Celtic airs. Quite a large crowd assembled in the street to listen to the music, the rain having, in a most accommodating manner, ceased for a short period. Slowly the people gathered in the hall, and when the meeting was called to order there was not to exceed two hundred persons present. At 8 o'clock Gen. JOHN COCHRANE was called to the chair, and in accepting the position he made an eloquent address, setting forth that those before him who had been mustered out of service were now called upon once more to prepare to take up the musket for the maintenance of those principles for which they had fought for four years. He said that in the South rebellion has again raised its horrid head, and already has Maine sounded the the tocsin of war which must ensue to crush the monster. In response to this warlike trump, New-York will follow Maine, Pennsylvania, New-Jersey, and all those gallant States who once furnished our armies will speedily join in the march, and once more we will take the field against the foes of our country. The speaker was loudly applauded by the slim audience, his warlike strains evidently touching a sympathetic chord in the breasts of the ex-soldiers. When he exclaimed: "Woe, woe betide that people which forgets its debt of gratitude to the negro race," cheers and applause greeted the sentiment. The concluding portion of his remarks was to the effect that the service rendered the country by negroes during the war entitled them to the right of suffrage.

Gen. DARLING, of Gov. FENTON's Staff, then submitted the following names as officers of the meeting: Chairman, Gen. John Cochrane; Vice-Presidents, Gen. J. E. Hamlin, Gen. F. T. Locke, Col. D. M. Evans, Chaplain John F. Miner, Surgeon [illegible] Williams, Gen. O. V. Dayton, Lieut. J. M. [illegible], Lieut. M. W. Blake, Ensign P. W. Perego, Major E. E. Kimball, Chaplain Wm. H. Boole, Capt. Fields, Lieut. F. M. Clarke, Col. J. M. Slipper, Capt. J. S. Ellison, Capt. R. H. Green, Capt. Joseph Bell, Capt. Edgar Ketchum, Jr.; Secretaries—Capt. Charles W. Wilson, Col. Geo. D. Kellogg, Brig.-Gen. Charles W. Darling, Brig.-Gen. Max Weber, Brig.-Gen. Gustave S. Cluseret, Col. A. J. H. Duganne, Lieut.-Col. Lorenzo Costador, Lieut.-Col. Anthony Pankemey, Capt. G. P. Knight, Gen. Alexander Shaler, Col. Emmons Clark.

A series of resolutions were read and adopted. They were essentially a repetition of the Syracuse platform, with the addition of one in favor of negro suffrage, and pledging the meeting to sustain the Syracuse nominees. The following letter from Gov. FENTON was then read:

STATE OF NEW-YORK,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ALBANY, Sept. 13, 1866.

Col. George D. Kellogg:

MY DEAR SIR: I would gladly be with the soldiers' and sailors at their meeting to-morrow night in New-York, but a prior engagement in the Western part of the State will deprive me of that pleasure. I need not assure you of my continued sympathy with those who engaged in the Nation's defence in the period of the Nation's peril. Though the duty of the defenders of the Union and the flag no longer calls them to do battle against armed traitors in the field, no portion of our citizens have a better right to declare and insist upon Constitutional guarantees and measures which shall secure to the country the proper fruits of their sacrifices, their trials and their triumphs.

Very truly yours,
R. E. FENTON.

A letter from STEWART L. WOODFORD, nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, was read, wherein he expresses his regret at being unable to attend, and his sympathy with the objects of the meeting. Mr. WOODFORD announces that he has already entered upon the task of canvassing the State, and that his engagement was of a "stumping" nature last evening.

Hon. HORACE GREELEY was then introduced. His appearance was greeted with three cheers and boisterous applause. He complimented the soldiers and sailors before him upon the part they had sustained in the war, and said that the medal or badge, or the commission, or the honorable discharge from service was the best and noblest legacy they could leave their children. He said that had a son of his lived to be of age he would rather that he should have an honorable discharge from the armies that fought for the Union than the best education any college could give him. Not only would he prefer it for the honor it would be to him, but for the discipline it would give him. He alluded to the discouragement which existed in this City on the 4th of July, when the battle of Gettysburgh was fought, and said had that battle been lost to us, the streets of this City would have run with blood. At this time, he said, when the President had levied a new draft, our then Governor and Copperhead Judge decided the draft to be unconstitutional, and endeavored to paralyze the energies of the armies in the interests of the rebellion. He said a proposition was made to him during the riots, that if the draft was stopped the riots should cease. These riots were nothing more nor less than a portion of the rebellion. It did not show itself quite so bravely as it did at Gettysburgh, but the spirit was the same—opposition to the Government—and those riots and the sympathizers with the rioters were just as much rebels as those who charged our lines on the field of battle. The speaker recited the atrocities committed at the time of the riots, dwelling particularly upon the outrages perpetrated on colored persons. Those who committed those crimes, he said, are the very ones who are now bawling loudest for ANDY JOHNSON and his policy. He said that the South was now striving to accomplish by political trickery what it had failed to establish by the bayonet. He wanted a Government under which all loyal men, regardless of color, should have equal rights. He was going to fight it out on that line, and he hoped all true Americans would take the same stand. Mr. GREELEY was loudly applauded.

Gen. BARLOW, Secretary of State, was next introduced, and spoke at considerable length, setting forth in a clear and edifying manner the principal arguments, which we see almost daily in the Radical papers, opposing the policy of the Administration and sustaining that of Congress. He went even further, and like the previous speakers, declared in favor of negro suffrage. He laid that it had got to come before long, and he believed that the Republican Party ought to come square up to the mark and declare for impartial suffrage.

The meeting was further addressed by Gen. G. W. PALMER, Cols. WILLARD, TEMPLE, CLARK, EVENS, and others.

A resolution was offered, appointing all the gentlemen who were elected as officers of the meeting, delegates to the Syracuse Convention, and inviting all in favor of sustaining Gov. FENTON and the other nominees, to attend the same assemblage.

LOCAL POLITICS.

This Club, which is merely in its infancy, not having been organized a month yet, now numbers some three hundred members, including many of the oldest and most respectable residents of the Ward—its bone and sinew in fact—met together on Thursday evening last, at their rooms, corner Eighty-sixth-street and Third-avenue, for the purpose of indorsing the policy of the Administration and the Philadelphia Convention. After the meeting had been called to order by the President, (Mr. T. J. MARSHALL, Jr.,) the Secretary read a communication from the President of the Union Association, inviting the attendance of the President and three of his Club to meet the Presidents of other Clubs to make preparations respecting the grand mass meeting on the 17th. The gentlemen named were Messrs. J. SHELLEY, Mr. CROMBIE and Mr. MATHEWS. After which several gentlemen affixed their names to the list of members.

Mr. CHARLES SMITH was then called upon to address the meeting, which he did, remarking that although he came there merely to listen, he considered that the issues were so momentous that he couldn't resist the temptation of raising his voice to warn his fellow-countrymen of their danger. The Albany Convention had named a man for Governor who was able to relieve the State from the shackles of radicalism which have bound us down for the last two years, and that man was JOHN T. HOFFMAN, who would leave the City of New-York with a majority such as was never before known here, and in Kings County the same. He then argued at length as to the advisability of the early admission of the South to their places in Congress, as they were now like the coffin of Mahomet, neither in heaven or earth. Such things couldn't last, and he thought this the time to assert our independence and relieve ourselves from the yoke of the Radicals.

Judge PENNEY, who is President of the Harlem Club, was then called upon and spoke eloquently on the present crisis. Things, he said, were in a peculiar position. Political antipodes are coming together, in fact, the lion and the lamb are lying down together, all are in harmony and working against the common enemy, to destroy the Congressional wolves who would devour us all. Formerly he used to address the passions of the people, now he thought was the time to appeal to their soberest reason. Formerly everything gave way to party; now the bar has been thrown down and we have joined, because we have a greater stake to play for, to relieve our country from the danger that is overhanging us. He thought three, nay, one year before the rebellion, that our country was so firmly bound together that nothing could disturb it. Now he feels that there is something as bad as rebellion in the air—civil and internal strife, invading the whole community, and spreading itself to every fireside with most alarming effects. He was no croaker, no alarmist, but unless something was done to check the evil courses of these fanatics in Congress, the Union would be more effectually killed than secession could do. He then proceeded to compare our present crisis with that of the French Revolution. But we have, he said, a President, who knows no fear, but stands like a rock against their machinations, and when he sees them invading the rights of the people, he fights against them single-handed. Some had said we are not in danger—this crisis will pass over; but he thought otherwise; he was alarmed at the first encroachment of our rights, and we should be prepared to battle for them. He had been accused of Copperheadism—this he denied in most emphatic terms; he had differed in some respects to the Lincoln policy, but when it came to the preservation of the Union, he was as loyal as any man. He despised a Copperhead; he detested them as much as he did the Radicals, but he had been seen in bad company, and judged accordingly. He then spoke of the promise made by Mr. LINCOLN to the South, to lay down their arms and they would be forgiven and restored to their seats at the national fireside. But how had this promise been kept by the Radicals? Not at all. The South had done everything in their power to show their repentance; but no, Congress could not be polluted with the presence of men in their midst who would disturb the Union. They laughed at them, jeered and scoffed at them at not being loyal. So that although the promise was made by Mr. LINCOLN and tried to be carefully fulfilled by his successor, it was made the means of a trick of the Radicals to secure a longer lease of power. He deprecated at this juncture going into party politics; let us drop the names Democrat and Republican, and go in for the Union. He then pointed out the meanness of the Radical spite in assailing the President—not as ANDREW JOHNSON, but as the Chief Executive—with the vilest epithets. Such men cannot be loyal; for, were they so, they would have respected the office if they couldn't the man. As to the talk of impeachment, let them bring forward their motion openly as men, and they would then see how JOHNSON is thought of. He then finished by alluding to the Radical opinion of the white soldiers, who, he claimed, were, in their opinion, only half as good as the black. He knew that the Nineteenth Ward would rally and do their share in the work of restoration. The speaker then retired amid loud cheers.

Mr. MILLER spoke next, and dilated at great length on the present state of affairs, and the relative merits of the two opposing parties. He argued that if the right of secession did not exist in the South, the right of keeping them out could not exist in the North. Before the war the South was entitled to representation. War suspended the practical relations between these States and the Federal Government, and at the ending of the war this suspension of practical relations should end, and from the fact of the right of secession being null, the South should be admitted. He considered reconstruction unnecessary, because the States were never out of the Union. The States did not rebel, but the people as individuals did, and as such individuals should be punished; but he did not think the States should be debarred from representation, and if we keep the States out we acknowledge the right of secession. The President did not reconstruct the States, nor did he usurp any any unlawful powers—he simply recognized a fact. As to the negro, he was of opinion that he would be more benefited if the Southern States received their rights. Outside pressure would damage their cause more than all the South could do. Whereas, if the pressure was removed, it would materially enhance their future prospects. He closed his remarks amid great applause from the audience.

Mr. TAYLOR then took the floor, and in a very humorous speech indorsed the late action of the Albany Convention in nominating J. T. HOFFMAN for Governor.

After three rousing cheers for JOHNSON, GRANT and FARRAGUT, the meeting adjourned until Monday, at 6:30 P. M., when they will meet and march in procession to Union-square to participate in the demonstration of that evening.

The Grand Union Demonstration.

The Committee having in charge the arrangements for the grand Union demonstration on Monday next, met at 4 P. M. yesterday at the Astor-House.

The Chairman, Mr. DOUGLAS TAYLOR, said that since the last meeting of the Committee, responses had been received from a number of gentlemen who had been invited to speak on the occasion, and, among others, from Senator MCDOUGALL, of California; JOSEPH DIXON and JAMES BABCOCK, of Connecticut: Ex-Governors PARKER and PRICE, of New-Jersey; C. C. LANGDON, of Alabama; E. V. R. WRIGHT, of New-Jersey; O. H. BROWNING and Mr. STANSBERRY, all of whom had promised to attend.

Governor BLAIR, of Maryland, Postmaster-General RANDALL and Ex-Governors ORR and PERRY, of South Carolina, were also expected to be present.

Reports were then received from the Chairman of the sub-committees present, from which it appeared that the arrangements were progressing favorably, and that all were working with a will.

Mr. TAYLOR said that some arrangements had yet to be decided on, and that a full programme would be published on Monday next. In the meantime it had been determined to have six stands for speakers erected, the principal one, which would be very large and finely decorated, facing on Broadway. If it was found that more stands were required they would be provided. Mayor HOFFMAN had promised to speak at every stand, and to make one address in German, and it was expected that Gen. DIX and Hon. H. J. RAYMOND would deliver addresses at the three principal stands. The Seventh Regiment Band, and probably others, would be present, beside several Glee Clubs, while the citizens of the Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Twelfth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-ninth and Twenty-second Wards would participate in a grand procession. The officers of the meeting would be made known on Monday.

A resolution was then offered and adopted providing for the admission to the Committee-rooms at the Maison Dorée of Committee men, invited guests, and accredited members of the Press only.

A resolution by Mr. HUNT was also adopted, authorizing the Chairman to fill vacancies in the various Committees, after which the Committee adjourned to meet at 6 P. M., on Monday next, at the Maison Dorée.

Sailors and Soldiers For and Against.

A meeting of soldiers and sailors was held at Pythagoras Hall, in Canal-street, last evening. Capt. JOHNSON in the chair. The object of the meeting was to give an opportunity to the soldiers and sailors to express by ballot whether they favored the President's or the Congressional restoration policy. In order to carry out the object of the meeting, a committee consisting of Messrs Thomas McGowan, Francis Meehan, William Sullivan, John Heckler and Col. Herman, was appointed to take charge of the ballot box, until the time for counting the votes. The box is to remain at the headquarters of the Independent Soldiers' and Sailors' League, No. 136 Canal-street, from 9 till 4 o'clock every day, and on Tuesday and Friday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock. The action of the League is to be determined by the number of votes for the President or Congress.

The Ninth Ward Pioneer Club.

A meeting was held last evening at Greenwich Hall, corner of Hudson and Christopher streets, to organize the Fenton and Woodford Pioneer Club. Mr. WM. D. WATERMAN was elected President and Messrs. A. J. CAMPBELL and G. F. MERKLEE Vice-Presidents. Remarks were made by several gentlemen in the audience of a radical nature. Interruptions followed, and the Chairman endeavored to restore order, but had to yield to the confusion. A general melée succeeded, when the police interfered and ejected several of the more violent roughs from the hall. About half of the meeting then left. Order was maintained for the rest of the evening by the exodus of the "Copperheads," as the speakers termed them, and the resolutions were carried.

Eleventh Ward Campaign Club.

A meeting of citizens of the Eleventh Ward was held last evening at No. 56 Avenue D, for the purpose of organizing a Fenton and Woodford Campaign Club. Mr. STEPHEN M. WRIGHT was elected Chairman. The attendance was not large, owing to the rainy weather. Remarks were made by Councilman HAZLETON, Messrs. WM. BURNS, JOHN P. CONKLIN and others, after which followed the enrolment of members' names. The place will be kept open for citizens to meet during the campaign, and all pertinent political documents will be on hand.

Twentieth Ward National Union Johnson Club.

This Club, but lately organized, met last night in force, at their Club-room, No. 147 West Thirty-second-street.

The minutes of the last meeting, embodying the resolutions before published in the TIMES and indorsing the platform of the Philadelphia Convention of 14th August, were read and unanimously agreed to. Further business of the organization of the Club was then gone into, all of those present placing their names upon the Club-roll.

The Chairman, THOS. J. BARR, Esq., addressed the meeting, briefly announcing that the great object of the organization was, as expressed in their resolutions, to indorse by word and act the proposed action of the Government, having at its head their President, ANDREW JOHNSON. The members of the Club, he said, were men hitherto of differing shades of politics, but now united for a common purpose. The Secretary, Mr. BADINEAU, and other gentlemen present, expressed themselves in like fashion.

Twentieth Ward (Brooklyn) Johnson Club.

At a regular meeting of this club last night, resolutions were offered by the Secretary, Mr. JAMES COURTNEY, in favor of the confirmation of Mr. JOHN T. HOFFMAN, the Democratic candidate for Governor, which were unanimously adapted. The meeting passed a resolution in favor of participating in the New-York mass meeting.

It was then resolved that the members should meet at their rooms in the afternoon of Monday next, and proceed in a body to the great demonstration in Union-square. It was the purpose of the Club to do this in a style becoming the organization, with music, banners, torches, &c., but it was found impossible to effect this in the short time, two days, permitted them before the day of the monster meeting, their own organization being incomplete till last evening.

The meeting, therefore, adjourned till Monday, at 7 P. M.

The Cleveland Convention.

Delegates and others desiring to attend the Soldiers' and Sailors' Union Convention to be held in Cleveland on Monday next, the 17th inst., by taking the 7 P. M. Saturday night express on the Erie Railway, will reach Cleveland on Monday morning at 5 A. M. The Erie Railway will return free all persons in business attendance on the Convention who pay full fare over that road going out.

Abatement of the Cattle-Driving Nuisance—Order from Superintendent Kennedy.

The following order to the Metropolitan Police, in relation to the nuisance of driving cattle through the public streets, fully explains itself, and is a step in the right direction:

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF METROPOLITAN POLICE, NEW-YORK, Sept. 15, 1866.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 472—CAPTAIN—The Court before which the question was submitted whether the Board of Health has the power to regulate the driving of animals through the streets, having decided in favor of such power being so vested: and the Board of Health, at a meeting held on 13th of September, inst., having modified the Code of Health Ordinances, so as to change the limits wherein animals may be landed or brought into the City of New-York, and driven through the streets thereof:

You will, on and after Wednesday, 19th September instant, take care to prevent the landing of any cattle, hogs or sheep, at any wharf, bulkhead, pier or ferry landing within your precinct, at any time between one hour before sunrise and 9 o'clock in the evening.

And you will, in like manner, prevent the driving of cattle, hogs or sheep through any of the streets or avenues within your precinct, except after 9 o'clock at night and before one hour before sunrise: and then only in droves of cattle not to exceed twenty head, of hogs not to exceed one hundred head, or of sheep not to exceed one hundred head.

That portion of the City lying north of Fortieth-street and west of Ninth-avenue to Sixtieth-street, and north of Sixtieth-street from river to river, is exempt from the above regulations.

Every man will be held responsible for permitting any violation of the above, within the limits of his post or beat; a drove to pass out of a precinct or beat, during the proscribed period, will be regarded as evidence of neglect of duty.

Every person found offending will be arrested and disposed of pursuant to law, and the animals returned whence they came.

JOHN A. KENNEDY, Superintendent.
JAMES LEONARD, Inspector.

DIABOLICAL OUTRAGE AT GREENPOINT.—The facts in the following case were suppressed for a day or two to give the Police a chance to hunt up and arrest the villains engaged in it, and before this appears in print, they will probably all be brought to justice. At a late hour on Wednesday night, a woman named FRANCES L. BUTLER, recently arrived from Boston, Mass., found herself belated in Greenpoint, where she failed to find some friends she was in search of, and meeting a gentlemanly-looking man asked him to direct her to a hotel. He very politely offered to show her one, and the trusting woman accompanied him; but instead of doing so he took her to the house of Ridgewood Hose Company No. 7, situated on Franklin-street. When the woman saw where he was taking her she attempted to run away from him, but being a powerful fellow, he forcibly carried her up stairs to the bunk-room, and there outraged her person. Six of this man's companions followed him in his diabolical conduct, some of them holding their hands over the unfortunate woman's mouth to prevent her cries reaching the street, while others accomplished their wicked designs. There is no knowing what would have been the further fate of this woman had not one of the party interposed to prevent further outrage, and getting between her and her assailants she managed to escape to the street in a half nude state. The fellows then threw her clothes out of the window, they having been torn off her in the struggle. Shortly after this she met an officer of the Forty-seventh Precinct, to whom she related the above facts, when he took her to the Station-house for the night. On Thursday morning she appeared before Justice DAILEY with the officer, and obtained warrants for the arrest of her ravishers, some of whom are known by the Police from the minute description she gave of them.

THE TURF.

The Hoboken Fall Meeting—Second Day—Nannie Craddock Wins the Steeple-Chase, Knighthood the Two and a Half Mile Dash, and Richmond the Mile Heat Race.

The attendance at the second day's racing at the Hoboken meeting yesterday was large, far exceeding that of the previous day. The great attraction was the steeple-chase, the majority of those present having gone to the course expressly to witness this exciting sport. At first it seemed as if the race was going to fall through, for DENIS PURDY, the owner and rider of Zigzag, declined to start him on account of the alleged injustice perpetrated upon his horse by the handicapper, who had imposed seven pounds more weight upon him than on Nannie Craddock, although the latter, besides being a year older, had beaten Zigzag the day before in the hurdle race very badly. After considerable delay, Col. MCDANIELS, the ostensible proprietor of the course, came to the conclusion to start one of his own entries, Seacaucus, and by thus making up the required number of starters ensuring a race. The withdrawal of Zigzag deprived the contest of nearly all interest, for Nanie Craddock was at once set down as the winner in his absence. In the pools she sold at the rate of $70 to her opponents' combined (General Williams and Seacaucus) $40. As will be seen by the description of the race, she won very easily after General Williams was placed hors de combat by falling when in possession of a commanding lead. Seacaucus destroyed his prospects by taking the wrong course soon after starting, and before his rider discovered his mistake his chance of victory was gone. In the two mile and a half dash, Julius, who had been a warm favorite the night before in the pools, was withdrawn by permission of the judges, as he had pulled up dead lame after a gallop the night before. The race was consequently left to Lady Dan Bryant, Victoria and Knighthood, the latter, although he had run two severe races the day before, being again brought out by his plucky trainer, Dr. WELDON, who is a strong advocate for the system of training race horses by running them in public, and for public money, and he won his race with the greatest ease. Richmond, in accordance with the judgment of the turf cognoscenti, won the mile-heat race with considerable ease, beating Blackbird and Lady Dan Bryant in two straight heats. This race brought the meeting to a termination, and although the racing itself was good, the affair cannot be termed a success, either pecuniarily or as far as the reputation of the Seacaucus race meeting is concerned.

FIRST RACE.

Steeple Chase. A handicap premium for all ages; $400 to the first horse and $100 to the second horse; about 3 miles over a fair hunting country. Closed with five entries:

G. Pepper's ch. m. Nannie Craddock..........1
W. Ainsley's br. h. Gen. Williams..........2
D. McDaniel's b. g. Seacaucus..........3
Time, 7:37.

THE RACE.

Betting $100 to $70 on Nannie Craddock, who took the lead at the start, with the General second and Seacaucus last, all three clearing the first hurdle at the end of the grand stand, in fine style. Instead of turning into the inclosure at the opening before reaching the quarter-pole, Seacaucus' rider kept along the regular race track, and before he could pull up his horse, the other two were so far ahead that he had no possible chance of overtaking them. At the second jump, General Williams was a length ahead, and he kept increasing his lead as they went over the jumps, until they came to the water jump, near the grand stand, when he took four lengths before Nannie Craddock. He still led his distance as the water jump was taken the second time, but on the third time round, Nannie Craddock had passed him, and was a couple of lengths in front as this leap was taken. Directly afterward PEPPER lost his stirrup, and enabling the General to pass him before he could recover his seat. The latter on taking the hurdle on the track near the quarter pole, fell, throwing his rider, and PEPPER took advantage to go on with the running, and by his fine riding, safely cleared the remaining hurdles, although his saddle and stirrups were gone, and won the race in 7:37, Gen. Williams coming in second.

SECOND RACE.

Premium of $400 for all ages, two and a half mile dash.

Dr. J. W. Weldon's b. c. Knighthood, by imp. Knight of St. George, dam Glencoe, 4 years.... 1
Mr. E. V. Snedeker's b. m. Lady Dan Bryant, by Lexington, dam Fanny G., by imp. Margrave, 4 years.......... 2
Mr. John Herst's ch. m. Victoria. Pedigree unknown; aged.......... 3
Col. D. McDaniel's b. c. Julius, by Lexington, out of Julia, by imp. Glencoe, 4 years..........dr.
Time—1:43¾.

This race, in which the betting was $100 to $20 on Knighthood, (Julius, as already stated above, being withdrawn, from lameness,) needs little description. Lady Dan led for the first mile, when Knighthood took up the running and won easily by a length and a half; Lady Bryant second and Victoria beaten off. Time, 4:43¾.

THIRD RACE.

Premium of $250 for beaten horses at this meeting, mile heats.

Mr. Robert Ansley's g. c. Richmond, by Two Bitts, dam Faith, by Child Harold, 4 years... 1 1
D. McDaniel's bl. h. Blackbird, aged.......... 2 2
Mr. E. V. Snedeker's b. m. Lady Dan Bryant, by Lexington, dam Fanny G. by imp. Margrave, 4 years.......... 3 3
Mr. Paul Wood's br. h. General Williams, by Lexington, dam by imp. William IV., 6 years....dr.
Time—1:48¼; 1:50.

Richmond was the favorite in this race at $100 to $20, and he won both heats cleverly, Blackbird making a good race in each heat and Lady Dan last on both occasions.

BILLIARD CHAMPIONS' TOURNAMENT

Proceedings of Eleventh Day—Drawing to a Close—Frawley Beaten by McCarthy, Foley by Plunkett, Harrison by Cyrille Dion, Phelan by Joseph Dion, and the Latter by McDevitt.

The grand billiard tournament is nearly done, the agony of the champions almost over. The mist which has for two weeks enveloped the prospects of the several contestants has well nigh vanished, and we can now faintly see who is who, and upon whose brows shall be placed the four chaplets of victory. Chief champion of the champions, as the impartial ivory spheres have declared, is the Montreal expert, DION the younger, to whom must be awarded the gold-mounted cue. The second prize the ornamental Phelan & Collender billiard table—awaits the result of the tie game between PLUNKETT and MCCARTHY. Both have striven manfully, both are worthy of the guerdon; and while the personal friends of either naturally desire the success of their favorite, the impartial mind cannot repress a regret that there are not two tables, instead of one, so that the skill of both players might meet with equal reward. There is consolation, however, in the knowledge that, failing to reach the second prize, either PLUNKETT or MCCARTHY has a more than equal chance with FOLEY to bear off the third—the massive silver billiard table and the accompanying pitcher and goblets. FRAWLEY's run of 141 will take the superb gold watch and chain, unless, in the tie game which they have to play, MCCARTHY or PLUNKETT beats it.

The games yesterday afternoon were two, and MCCARTHY and FRAWLEY, and FOLEY and PLUNKETT were the players. We give the scores in brief:

FRAWLEY—0, 0, 0, 4, 12, 18, 0, 4, 3, 39, 5, 13, 5, 3, 2, 1, 2, 25, 0, 0, 0, 28, 2, 39, 3, 2, 0, 3, 8, 0, 5, 0, 6, 9, 28, 2, 0, 8, 7, 0, 27, 5, 1, 3, 2, 10, 0. Total, 314. Average, 6 26-48.

MCCARTHY—3, 0, 4, 17, 10, 58, 6, 2, 0, 20, 0, 35, 3, 0, 0, 16, 6, 0, 0, 0, 5, 12, 0, 19, 66, 21, 2, 2, 3, 46, 0, 14, 8, 21, 5, 4, 6, 3, 0, 7, 0, 22, 0, 11, 14, 17, 11, 2. Average, 10 21-48.

FOLEY—6, 13, 8, 0, 5, 10, 0, 10, 49, 11, 0, 6, 59, 5, 3, 26, 0, 0, 2, 2, 50, 0, 0, 0, 3, 0, 81, 6, 0, 8, 11, 5, 0, 0, 26. Total, 405. Average, 11.9-36.

PLUNKETT—12, 11, 2, 0, 40, 6, 29, 2, 0, 19, 6, 12, 0, 0, 0, 6, 0, 15, 30, 6, 9, 2, 15, 4, 50, 10, 34, 25, 8, 23, 12, 0, 8, 11, 69, 25. Total, 501. Average, 13.33-36.

DION's game with HARRISON, in the evening, was the most brilliant contest of the entire series. Though it was splendid execution on the Canadian's part, it was scarcely what expert players would call "match billiards." When the respective scores were—DION, 336; HARRISON, 55—the former, though so far ahead that he could not be beaten if he exercised any judgment at all, went slashing away and risked defeat for no other object, apparently, than to make a stupendous average, which, while it would look very pretty on paper, could be of no earthly benefit to him. Instead of exercising caution and keeping his opponent at great distance from him, he allowed him the use of four balls throughout the game. The consequence was, that HARRISON, having the balls well in hand, in four innings ran 132, 97, 67 and 40, and, had he not went into the pocket at the end of the latter count, would in all probability have terminated the contest on the nineteenth inning. It was a mercy that DION was not beaten. If he had been, it would have taught him a salutary lesson. Many a match virtually won has been lost by just such playing. DION's average was 25, which makes his grand average 12, lacking three points. HARRISON's average was 21⅞. His total number of points is 2,402; his total number of innings 245, and his consequent grand average a little over 9⅞. Score:

HARRISON—0, 0, 27, 0, 24, 0, 2, 0, 0, 2, 2, 23, 67, 0, 132, 8, 97, 2, 40, 8. Total, 434. Average, 21 14-20.

DION—3, 17, 13, 53, 35, 2, 125, 18, 68, 3, 0, 34, 10, 2, 31, 36, 37, 7, 2, 4. Total, 500. Average 25.

The tie game between MCCARTHY and PLUNKETT for the second prize will be played off this afternoon. The respective grand averages of MCCARTHY, PLUNKETT and FOLEY, who stand best for the third prize, are 11, 10, and 10, FOLEY's being a fraction the smallest.

An exhibition game between PHELAN and JOSEPH DION, which the latter won, was followed by a passage-at-arms between DION and MCDEVITT. It was 400 points, and MCDEVITT won by 75. The winner ran 189, and the loser 120.

GRAND SUMMARY:

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

NOT SO MUCH A MYSTERY AFTER ALL.—Coroner WILDEY held an inquest yesterday morning over the body of THOMAS NEWTON, the gambler, whose mysterious death at No. 97 Crosby-street, was noticed in yesterday's TIMES. Deputy Coroner WOOSTER BEACH, Jr., M. D., made a post-mortem examination, and testified that he had found the kidneys much diseased; no other abnormal marks were observed. From an inspection of the body and want of evidence showing that deceased had taken any narcotic, he was of the opinion that death was due to the kidney disease. The Jury rendered a verdict in accordance with that reasoning. It is but fair to say that Dr. HUNTER, who first called attention to the case, was readily misled as to the probable cause of death, owing to the absence of evidence. He is understood to have coincided with the Deputy Coroner in his deductions.

FATAL WINDOW ACCIDENTS.—Coroner WILDEY was notified to hold an inquest over the body of MAX PFORTUER, (age unknown,) who fell from the third-story window of his residence, No. 215 Second-street, yesterday afternoon, and was almost instantly killed ....An inquest was held yesterday, by Coroner GAMBLE, over the remains of GEORGE MINER, who was in the employment of the Third-avenue Railroad Company as a car-driver. It appeared during the investigation that deceased came to his death by falling out of the second-story window of his residence in Third-avenue, near Eighty-first-street, on the night of the 12th inst. Mr. MINOR is well known along the road on account of his corpulency, and it is supposed that his peculiarity led to the accident. The Jury rendered a verdict of "accidental death." Deceased was a native of Rhode Island, and 41 years of age.

AN INSANE PHYSICIAN.—Early yesterday morning, while Officer THEOBOLD, of the Fifth Precinct, was patroling his beat he observed a gentleman wandering up and down Broadway, apparently insane. He took him at once to Bellvue Hospital. From papers found in his possession the wanderer is supposed to be Dr. L. A. CALL, a practising physician, residing at No. 94 Pratt-street, Baltimore, Md. A case of surgical instruments and $22 were also found upon his person.

ARRIVALS IN THE CITY.—Postmaster-General Randall, Washington; Hon. Homer Ramsdell, Newburgh; Hon. J. P. Stockton, New-Jersey; James Terwilliger, Syracuse; T. Lewis, Connecticut; Gen. J. H. Martindale, Philadelphia; Judge John Stryker, Rome, and Alexder Hay, Philadelphia, are at the Astor House. Hon. John Cotton Smith, Connecticut, is at the St. Denis Hotel. Ben Field, Albion, and Gen. J. E. Mulford, Richmond, are at the Metropolitan Hotel.

MASONIC.—Neptune Lodge No. 317 of Free and Accepted Masons was the recipient last evening of a very beautiful square and pair of compasses, of solid silver, made from ore dug out of the Nevada mines, by J. VAN BUREN PERRY, Esq., of Virginia City, Nevada Territory, who made the presentation to the lodge, of which he has long been an honored member.

FIRE IN WEST THIRTY-SIXTH-STREET.—At about 8 o'clock last evening a fire occurred in the drying-room of the Empire Print Company's Works, No. 215 West Thirty-sixth-street. The firemen were prompt upon the ground, and succeeded in extinguishing the flames after the stock had been damaged to the extent of about $50. Fully insured.

CLEVELAND CONVENTION.—The Erie Railway issues tickets at half the regular fare to delegates to the Cleveland Convention.

MR. CROSBY'S GREAT ENTERPRISE!!!

A FORTUNE
TO BE GIVEN FOR FIVE DOLLARS!!!!

THE END RAPIDLY APPROACHING!!!!!

GENERAL GRANT'S OPINION
OF THE
FIRST PREMIUM.

The last notes of the last serenade have died out, and now that it is all over, there is little left for the Presidential party to look back on with pleasure except the entertainment at the Opera House. Seward said to Welles that it had been the most enjoyable thing of the trip—the first time he had had a rest since leaving Washington. Great courtesy was shown the party and the representatives of the Press by the proprietors of the Opera House, and the party generally had a look through it.

Some pleasant reunions took place in the Art Gallery between Gen. Grant and other officers, a delegation of the boys in blue from the interior towns having hunted him out. The General was truly pleased at the meeting with old soldiers, who had obeyed his orders from Donelson to Vicksburgh, and it was an affecting sight to see the meeting between two or three crippled veterans and himself.

Hogan, of Missouri, and several of the party were engaged in hunting for lucky numbered tickets, and each hopes he has it, as Grant said IT WOULD BE A BIG DRAW. "Yes," remarked a soldier; "but nothing like the draw we made on rations once around Vicksburgh."—[Correspondence New-York Tribune, Sept. 7.

THE FIRST PREMIUM,
THE CROSBY OPERA HOUSE, IN CHICAGO,

situated on Washington-street, with a frontage of 140 feet and a depth of 180. It is built of marble, and four spacious stores on either side of the entrance Hall, with the offices and studios above them, produce an AGGREGATE RENTAL of $30,000. Of the auditorium of the Opera House no description can here be attempted; but the actual cost and value of this splendid building, conceded to be

DETAILS OF THE DRAWING.

The Subscription Books, on being closed, will be placed in the hands of the following gentlemen, who have kindly consented to act as the Chicago members of the Committee to conduct the award of Premiums:

WM. F. COOLBAUGH, Prest. Union National Bank.
AMOS T. HALL, Treasurer C., B. & Q. R. R.
E. G. HALL, Hall, Kimbark & Co.
CLINTON BRIGGS, Ewing, Briggs & Co.
J. C. DORE, President of the Board of Trade.
JAS. H. BOWEN, President Third National Bank.
JAMES C. FARGO, Supt. American Express.
FRANCIS A. HOFFMAN, Ex-Lieut. Governor.
I. Y. MUNN, Munn & Scott, Elevator.
J. A. ELLIS, President Second National Bank.

These gentlemen, together with such others from different parts of the country as they may add to their number for the purpose of fairly representing the shareholders at large, will have the
SOLE MANAGEMENT OF THE AWARD IN ALL ITS DETAILS.

Two hundred and ten thousand numbers, representing the certificates issued, will be placed in one wheel, and three hundred and two tickets, inscribed with the names of the premiums, (to wit: the Opera House, three hundred paintings, and the bust of Lincoln,) will be placed in another. From these wheels a number and a premium will be drawn simultaneously, the number drawn, in each instance, taking the premium drawn with it.
